WABASH CONTRACTS FOR OUTLET EAST.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—It is now certain that the Wabash railroad will connect its western properties and build a line to the Atlantic. The fact was assured by an order placed today with the Carnegie company for 25,000 tons of steel rails. These rails are to be used in laying track from Zanesville, O., to that point on the West Virginia Central where the Wabash makes connection. President Ramsey said today that the work will be commenced as soon as the delivery of the rails shall begin.

PRESIDENT'S VISIT CAUSE FOR HOLIDAY

Maine Folk Give Roosevelt a Very Warm Welcome.

MEETS A FORMER HUNTING PARTNER

ADDRESSED A THRONG IN A FAIR GROUND

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Ellsworth, Me., Aug. 27.—The president's second day in the Pine Tree state was full of interest. Starting early from the governor's house, he was taken for a short drive about the city of Augusta, and at 9:30 left for Bangor, where the principal speech of the day was delivered at the fair grounds in the presence of an immense audience, which listened with marked attention to his address.

The same close attention was given him at Waterville, where from far and near came hundreds to see and hear the first president who has visited Maine in many years. A general holiday was declared and all business was suspended.

Just before leaving Augusta the president heard that his old guide, Bill Sewall, of Island Falls, Me., who had accompanied him on many hunting expeditions, and who for a time had been employed on his ranch in Dakota, was at Bangor. He immediately wired Congressman Powers at Bangor to "corral" him and hold on to him until he reached that city. That the congressman carried out these instructions was fully proven when he produced the tall, raw-boned, red-whiskered hunter on the president's arrival.

Had Eaten Musk Rat Together.

"I am glad to see you, Bill," said the president, whereupon Bill replied:

"You ain't no gladder than I be."

Then it was that the president told the story of his friendship of many years with the old guide and hunter, and how many years ago, while on a hunting trip through Maine, owing to the shortage in the meat supply, they had eaten musk-rat together, which the president said was the last meal he had eaten in Maine before this trip.

The president seemed to delight in the rural simplicity of the man and insisted that he should sit down to dinner with him. Bill, therefore, had the distinction of dining with the chief executive of the nation and the governor of his state at the same time.

While at the fair grounds some one suggested to Sewall, who was seated on the platform with the president, that he should go to Washington and secure an appointment as postmaster, but Bill had already received this honor and said to his inquisitor:

"I be postmaster already."

On the drive through Bangor the president's carriage was stopped in front of the portico of the Orphans' home, where the little ones were assembled, and they greeted him in song.

Spoke to Dense Crowds.

Before beginning to speak at the fair grounds, the president, noticing the jamming and pushing of the crowd in front of the grandstand, cautioned the people to be careful of the women and children and asked them to show their capacity to manage themselves, which immediately had the desired effect.

The platform from which the president spoke was directly in front of the grandstand, which was packed with humanity. Behind him was another dense crowd. He humorously informed his audiences that he did not think he faced both ways, but that on that occasion he would have to.

On leaving the platform he drove around the racetrack in response to cries from the audience that he do so.

Tonight the president dined here at the home of Senator Hale, who accompanied the party from Bangor. At the depot when the train pulled in the president was escorted to a platform nearby and delivered a short address. He left at 10 o'clock for Nashua, N. H., and other points in that state, where he will speak tomorrow.

Qualities of the Farmer.

In his address at Bangor the president said in part:

It remains true that the countryman, more than any other of our citizens today, is called upon continually to exercise the qualities which we like to think of as typical of the United States throughout its history; the qualities of rugged independence, masterful resolution and individual energy and unconquerable will (works hard (for which no man is to be pitied) and often he lives hard (which may not be pleasant); but his life is passed in healthy surroundings; surroundings which tend to develop a fine type of citizenship. In the country, moreover, the conditions are fortunately such as to allow a closer touch between man and man than, too often, we find to be the case in the city. Men feel more vividly the underlying sense of brotherhood, of community of interest.

A man, to be a good citizen, must first be a good bread winner, a good husband, a good father—I hope the father of many healthy children—just as a woman's first duty is to be a good housewife and mother. The couple who bring up plenty of healthy children, who leave behind them many sons and daughters fitted in their turn to be good citizens, emphatically deserves well of the state.

The other day I picked up a little book called "The Simple Life," written by an Alsatian, Charles Wagner, and he preached such wholesome, sound doctrine that I wish it could be used as a tract throughout our country. To him the whole problem of our complex, somewhat feverish, modern life can be solved only by getting men and women to lead better lives. He sees that the permanence of liberty and democracy depends upon a majority of the people being steadfast in that good, plain morality, which, as a national attribute, comes only as the result of the slow and painful labor of centuries, and which can be squandered in a generation by the thoughtless and vicious. He preaches the doctrine of the superiority of the moral to the material.

The true line of cleavage lies between the good citizen and the bad citizen, and the line of cleavage may, and often does, run at right angles to that which divides the rich and the poor.

SELECTED THE THREE NAMES FOR COADJUTOR

From This List the Pope May Make His Selection for Office.

REV. FATHER CANEVIN IS BELIEVED TO LEAD

The Rev. Father J. F. Regis Canevin, rector of St. Paul's cathedral, is likely to be appointed coadjutor bishop to the Rt. Rev. Richard Phelan. While no official statement was issued, The Gazette learned on good authority that Bishop Phelan, at the convocation of Archbishop Ryan and his provincial bishops, held yesterday morning in the cathedral residence, insisted on having Father Canevin's name placed on the ticket that is to be forwarded to Rome at once.

Father Canevin, however, must contend with big odds. Late last night The Gazette learned from an authoritative source that against him Bishop Conaty, rector of the Catholic university at Washington, D. C., and the Very Rev. P. J. Garvey, rector of the theological seminary at Overbrook, near Philadelphia, have been pitted. Bishop Conaty, it is public gossip, has tired of the university for certain reasons, and wishes to get a permanent post. He is a warm personal friend of all who were here yesterday. Dr. Garvey is Archbishop Ryan's choice.

Rectors' Ticket Thrown Out.

The naming of the foregoing, as the "terno," means that the ticket submitted by the irremovable rectors has been thrown out. This ticket was said to have been Vicar General Francis L. Tobin, Vicar General E. A. Bush, and the Rev. Father William Kittell. The throwing out of the ticket is not intended to be a snubbing of the rectors, but to a certain degree was forced upon the bishops by conditions that demanded a solution. Intellectually, Father Canevin stands on equal footing with those named and his excellent administrative qualities, while not of national fame in church circles, are known to Bishop Phelan and to both priests and people of Western Pennsylvania.

The meeting was held yesterday in the parlors of the cathedral residence, the Most Rev. Patrick John Ryan, archbishop of Philadelphia, presiding. The bishops and the archbishops lost but little time, the entire meeting scarcely covering three hours. This is due to the fact that the bishops were well acquainted with the situation here and had sifted the merits of the various candidates named, so that yesterday's meeting was but a ratification of what had been decided upon by the bishops in communications. At the conclusion of the meeting Archbishop Ryan stated:

No Announcement Made.

"There is really nothing to divulge on the question at present. No one is authorized to give out the names of those chosen, nor will anyone know until Rome announces it."

Those present were the Rt. Rev. Bishops Phelan of Pittsburgh, Fitzmaurice of Erie, Garvey of Altoona, Hoban of Scranton, Shanahan of Harrisburg and the archbishop. Prominent priests last night admitted that it was only plausible but apparently certain that the bishops' ticket contained the names of Father Canevin, Bishop Conaty and Father Garvey. They, however, expressed the hope that Father Canevin would be appointed, for "home rule's sake if nothing else." He is a rigid total abstainer and has views on certain subjects that are at variance with those of many of the priests.

The throwing out of the ticket named by the irremovable rectors was forced by conditions of vital interest to the church in this country. It is the general opinion that despite his qualifications Vicar General Tobin would not have been named, since he is physically unable to bear the burden of a large diocese.

Father Kittell is chancellor to Bishop Phelan. His candidacy has never been taken seriously. Vicar General E. A. Bush was the only one left of the "terno" named by the rectors. Father Bush is both a scholarly and a popular priest. Bishop Phelan always had a special liking for the rector of St. Paul's. The bishops yielded to Bishop Phelan's arguments and, it is believed, have led the ticket with Father Canevin; in a word, have named him "dignissimus."

The names will likely be forwarded to Rome this week. The appointment may be made within a month.

Laymen Are Interested.

Francis P. Smith, LL. D., the veteran editor of the Pittsburgh Catholic, one of the most prominent Catholic laymen of the city, said to a Gazette reporter:

"Whether the priest chosen for this sacred office be the choice of the irremovable rectors or that of the bishops of the province themselves, so that he has all the qualifications required for his high office, the layman is perfectly satisfied. It is great in its resources, spiritual and temporal. Its coadjutorship is no sinecure. The office will entail hard, unremitting labor. It demands a broad-minded man to meet and keep in harmony its many nationalities. Racial proclivities need a wise head. The material life of the diocese is exacting and demands a man of administrative qualities.

"In this respect the coadjutor, whoever he may be, will have an excellent model. The success and harmony of this great diocese is due to Bishop Phelan's noble qualities of both mind and body. Speaking for myself, I have no doubt that the wisest counsels have prevailed."

RULES ARE ARRANGED.

Umpires and Observers Meet to Discuss Army and Navy War Game. Gloucester Sails.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 27.—The umpires and observers who are to act in connection with the army and navy maneuvers all arrived here today, and proceeding to the war college, immediately went into consultation to pass upon the rules of the coming "war game."

The question of a uniform method of scoring and recording to be followed at the various places involved in the operations was also taken up and final details were arranged. The umpires and observers will be distributed to their various stations on the 29th.

The Gloucester sailed this afternoon to rejoin the fleet which is lying off Gayhead.

He is an active member of the Pittsburgh Tariff club. He has been employed in the state department since the Hastings administration.

PROSPERITY BALL TO ROLL FROM ERIE TO PHILADELPHIA

Novel Plan of Architect Huston to Show Value of Republicanism to State.

ROUGH RIDERS FEATURE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 27.—Joseph M. Huston, the architect, whose offices are in the Witherspoon building, set one of his engineers to work yesterday to plan a great campaign ball which it is proposed to roll from Erie to Philadelphia immediately after the convention of state Republican clubs, which will be held in Erie next month.

"The idea is taking with everybody," Mr. Huston said yesterday. "There is a novelty about it which is very contagious. The dramatic possibilities of such an event are innumerable.

"We will build a ball 20 feet in diameter and on the surface I will have painted not only a map of the world, but have the thing designed to illustrate the progress of the United States and the achievements of the Republican party. And this great ball will make a triumphant journey from one corner of the state to another. Every organization which has anything to do with its progress across the state will be christened a 'Roosevelt club.' One organization will roll it a specified distance and then surrender it to the next body of enthusiastic Republicans. We will also have a great number of souvenirs made; souvenirs which may be worn in the buttonhole and which will be identical in design with the great ball."

J. Hampton Moore, president of the State League of Republican clubs, has given his heartiest approval to the Huston ball and the Roosevelt organization. The promoters of the enterprise propose to enroll upwards of 150,000 Republicans in the lists of club members.

"We shall also have a cavalcade," Mr. Huston said yesterday. "Not only will our club uniform be designed after the rough rider uniform, but we will have several thousand rough riders in the ranks. Our processions will be characterized by the presence of cavalry companies."

MITCHELL SMILES AT HEWITT'S SAYINGS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., Aug. 27.—President Mitchell, upon being asked for an expression of opinion concerning the statement issued by ex-Mayor Abram S. Hewitt, said that it was quite plain to him that the real purpose of the statements made by Mr. Hewitt was to obscure the real issues involved in the strike and to divert public attention from the unfortunate conditions under which men and boys have been forced to labor in the anthracite fields.

"The members of the miners' organization," said President Mitchell, "have never sought to prevent non-union men from working with them in the mines, and they had no intention of seeking to abridge the right of any mine worker to become or not to become a member of the organization.

"Mr. Hewitt's fear that I might become dictator and go into the business of naming presidents of the United States, to say the least is amusing, and were it not for the fact that I know Mr. Hewitt to be a serious man I should conclude he was jesting.

"The truth is that the miners' union is a non-political organization. Its members vote for whomever they choose, and if I or any other officer of the organization were to attempt to dictate, or even suggest, how the miners should vote I would be promptly told that the miners were abundantly able to judge for themselves."

Promotion for Kearney.

It was officially announced last night that Alexander Kearney, superintendent of motive power of the Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore railroad, has been appointed superintendent of motive power of the Pittsburgh district of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, effective September 1, vice W. S. Haines, resigned.

TWENTY KILLED BY EARTHQUAKE IN PHILIPPINES

Moros Meet Death by Falling Walls, but Americans Escape.

UPHEAVAL NEAR LAKE OF LANAO

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27.—The war department today received a cable dispatch from Gen. Chaffee at Manila, reporting a series of earthquakes on the island of Mindanao.

Twenty persons were killed by falling walls, the victims all being Moros. The Americans in the vicinity escaped and there were no reports that any of the soldiers occupying that portion of the island sustained any injuries.

The upheaval occurred in the country adjacent to the lake of Lanao, in the Moro section of the island, near Camp Vickers, now the headquarters of the American forces stationed in Mindanao. Gen. Chaffee's message says the mountains and rivers and other streams were considerably disturbed and much damage was done.

This is the first serious earthquake reported from that country during American occupation of the Philippines. The most important previous seismic disturbance in Mindanao was the one that partly destroyed Palak, Kota-Batu and the village on the banks of the river Mindanao in 1872. This phenomenon closely followed the eruption of the volcano of Makaturin.

No attacks have been made on the American forces at Camp Vickers since the last report, which was cabled eight days ago.

MANILA, Aug. 27.—The island of Mindanao has been shaken by a series of earthquakes, which commenced August 21. The inhabitants were terrorized and a few Moros were killed. There were no American casualties. The commissary buildings and the Moro forts were badly damaged. Brigadier General Sumner, in command of the American troops in Mindanao, telegraphs that a dozen heavy earth shocks and 400 slight tremors were felt at Zamboang, Mindanao.

DEPUTIES FIRED ON.

West Virginia Striking Miners Resist Eviction from Company Houses. Reinforcements Sent to Scene.

HINTON, W. VA., Aug. 27.—About 40 families of striking miners who were notified to vacate Red Ash Company houses refused, and when the constables began to remove their household goods a volley of shots were fired at the officers from the opposite side of the river. They returned the fire, using Winchesters, but no one was hurt.

About 40 deputies were rushed to the scene and a late report says the men who began the firing are surrounded.

California State Ticket.

SACRAMENTO, CAL., Aug. 27.—The Republican state convention today nominated George C. Pardee of Oakland for governor on the sixth ballot. Alden Anderson was chosen for lieutenant governor by acclamation.

HERBERT REPERTOIRE WILL EXCLUDE WAGNER.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—Victor Herbert, leader of the Pittsburgh orchestra, did not win in the last race today. He astonished his friends at the track a few days ago by the emphatic declaration:

"I shall never play Wagner again."

When they expressed surprise he explained that he referred to the horse of that name, which he had backed as a matter of sentiment every time he ran. The musician played Wagner every time the horse lost, and bet on another animal today when Wagner won.

KNOX ANTICIPATES ALL PLAIN SAILING IN ISTHMIAN DEAL

Leaves for Paris to Pave Way for Building Canal Across Panama.

HE TALKS ABOUT TRUSTS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 27.—Attorney General P. C. Knox, with his son, Reed Knox, sailed for Europe today on the steamship Oceanic.

"I am going abroad to obtain a clear title to the property to be bought by us from the Panama Canal Company," said Mr. Knox. "I shall also investigate the treaty between the Panama Canal Company and the Colombian government, which is to be transferred to us. I have no doubt that everything will go through all right, and the reports that I have received from Mr. Russell of the department of justice, who has been in Paris during the last six months, show that all is going harmoniously.

"In regard to the president's recent speeches on the trust question, I can only say that I am heartily in accord with everything he has said. I think, after what the president has said, that something in regard to the trusts will be forthcoming at the next meeting of congress. The president has been making great and wise speeches, which undoubtedly will bear fruit."

Mr. Knox was asked to give an opinion on the prognostigation by Russell Sage that the formation of trusts might bring on a revolution.

"If the American people want the trusts done away with it will be done," said Mr. Knox. "It would be shameful for the American people to admit that they cannot do anything that they wish to do."

PET OF JOHNNIE BROWN HELPED RECOVER BODY

Sad Death of a 6-Year-Old Lad Made Known by His Gordon Setter Pet.

A Gordon setter, a great pet in the household of John H. Brown of Coleridge street, was responsible for the recovery, on Tuesday night, of the dead body of Brown's son, 6 years old, who had been missing for several hours.

The child, whose name was also John, was playing about the house at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, but half an hour later, when Mrs. Brown wanted to dress him for the evening, he could not be found. An older brother, while driving a cow home at 7 o'clock, saw the little fellow in a field playing with the dog. He called to him to come home, but the boy was chasing grasshoppers and having too much fun.

When the older boy reached home he told his parents of seeing his brother, and after supper the father started after him. An hour's search failed to locate him and he returned home, where he found the dog whining and coaxing his master to follow him. Brown got two neighbors, and with lighted lanterns they followed the dog to the Blair Bros.' brick yard, in Stanton avenue extension, where the boy was found dead at the foot of an embankment about 25 feet high. He had evidently fallen from the top of the hill where the brick clay had been dug out. His nose was broken and there was a lump on the side of his head, indicating that he had not been killed instantly by the fall, but had been fatally injured and died there alone.

IN TOUCH WITH WORLD.

ELLSWORTH, ME., Aug. 27.—The president tonight gave out the following dispatches received and sent by him:

Avalon, Catalina Island, Cal.

To President Roosevelt:

Catalina island, Cal., heretofore isolated in the Pacific ocean, sends greeting to her great American president on the occasion of her being put in communication with the entire world, brought about through the medium of the Pacific wireless telegraph, a purely American invention, now in successful operation.

A. L. NEW, General Manager.

Please extend my greetings to the citizens of Catalina island and my cordial congratulations upon the establishment of telegraphic communication. THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

CAVALRY TROOP WILL REINFORCE GENERAL GOBIN

Situation in Panther Creek Valley Develops Serious Phase.

ARRIVAL OF TROOPS AVERTED OUTBREAK

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 27.—The Second Philadelphia City troop tonight was ordered by Gov. Stone to report immediately to Gen. Gobin at Shenandoah for duty in the strike region. The Governor's troop of Harrisburg, which has been on duty at Shenandoah since the troops were sent there, has been sent to Lansford in anticipation of an outbreak when attempt is made to resume work at the collieries in that locality.

The request for the City troop came from Gen. Gobin, and as soon as it was received the governor issued the order.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 27.—The order for the Second troop was received here tonight. Capt. Schermerhorn was in Atlantic City when the order was received, but reached the city late tonight. The troop, numbering about 60 men, will leave here early tomorrow for Shenandoah.

SHENANDOAH, Aug. 27.—The Governor's troop, under command of Capt. Ott, left here at 7:30 p. m. tonight on a special train for the Panther Creek valley.

The timely arrival of a detachment of soldiers on the scene this evening averted a serious outbreak. A non-union workman named Quinn was attacked by a crowd of strikers near the Cambridge colliery and was being roughly handled when two of his friends rushed to his assistance and kept the crowd back with drawn revolvers. In a few minutes all three were surrounded by a crowd of several hundred, and only the arrival of Provost Marshal Farquhar with a detail of soldiers prevented serious trouble. The crowd fell back as the soldiers approached with fixed bayonets and the three men were hurried to a place of safety. Several of the strikers followed the soldiers up the street, shouting and taunting them. Joseph Pelravich, who ventured closer than the others, was arrested. He was given a hearing and held in $500 bail for court.

TAMAQUA, PA., Aug. 27.—The situation in the Panther creek valley tonight is serious. At 8 o'clock the streets of Lansford and Summit Hill were thronged with strikers. Early in the evening two companies of the Twelfth regiment were sent through the valley on a trolley car. All along the line the soldiers were hooted and jeered and it was not deemed prudent to take them off the cars.

While Mary Markley was carrying supper to her brother, who is employed at a colliery near Lansford, she was set upon and severely beaten by about 100 men.

WORLD'S STEEL MILLS REACH AN AGREEMENT

Have Understanding Regarding Export of Rails to Canada—Discussed by German Official.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—English, American, Belgian and German steel mills, it is announced, have arrived at an agreement regarding the export of steel rails to Canada, of which the United States and English works supply 116,000 tons, and the German and Belgian works 58,000 tons.

The leading official of one of the largest Rhenish and Westphalian steel works said:

"The project for a mutual understanding is not so impracticable as it may appear to many. I doubt very much if American capital could break the steel and iron 'kartels' existing in Germany, but that would not prevent us arriving at an understanding for mutual benefit.

"We are very much afraid that the new steamship combination will cheapen freight rates from the United States to European ports and make a differential tariff in other directions. If any movement is on foot to form an international union of steel and iron works it refers primarily to freight agreements."

MASON SENT TO JAIL.

Old Man Who Fired the Ft. Penn Incline Held on a Charge of Arson.

Thomas Mason, 70 years old, of No. 915 Locust street, was arraigned yesterday before Magistrate D. J. McGarey on a charge of arson and was committed to jail to await trial. He is accused of setting fire to the Fort Pitt incline on Monday morning. Mason is believed to be demented.

Mason was employed as an engineer by the company for many years, and when the company decided to abandon the incline he was unable to collect wages.

MARIETTA LEAVES LA GUAIRA.

Minister Bowen Proves His Faith in Venezuelan Situation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 27.—A cablegram was received at the state department today from United States Minister Bowen at Caracas, stating that he had authorized Commander Rodgers of the Marietta to leave La Guaira and go to Curacao to give the men shore leave for a time. This action indicates that he has not changed his mind as to the propriety of reducing the United States naval representation in Venezuelan waters, notwithstanding the reports of the bombardment of Ciudad Bolivar.

Capt. Henry Marmaduke, who served during the civil war on the famous confederate ironclad Merrimac and the Alabama, has joined the Colombian navy and will sail for that republic on the new war vessel which has been purchased at Seattle, Wash., by Senor Concha, the Colombian minister at Washington.

Gates Wants Change of Courts.

DENVER, Aug. 27.—Attorneys for John W. Gates and his associates who are seeking to secure control of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company today filed a petition in the clerk's office of the United States circuit court asking that the injunction suit now pending before Judge Mullins in the district court be transferred to the United States circuit court. The petition will be heard next Saturday.

Pittsburgh Conclave Outing.

The outing held by Pittsburgh conclave, No. 89, Improved Order of Heptasophs, at Olympia park, near McKeesport yesterday, was attended by about 2,000 people. The principal features were the sculling contests on the Youghiogheny, arranged by H. A. Cavett of the Columbia Boat club; J. J. Kiroy, J. Schnaufer and R. K. Williams.

CORAY'S NAME MAY DISPLACE JAS. NOLAN'S

Union Party Dickering With Democrats to Make a Switch.

LUZERNE MAN WILL BE PUT ON TICKET

He Is to Be Nominated at Philadelphia for Secretary of Internal Affairs.

DEMOCRATS WILL NOT INDORSE JOHN DALZELL

The Union party will nominate Elisha A. Coray, Jr., of Luzerne for secretary of internal affairs, and then urge the Democrats to substitute him for James Nolan of Reading. Negotiations are now on between the two parties.

Coray is a Union party favorite. He has served four terms in the legislature as the representative of a Luzerne district. Each time he has been elected on the Republican ticket, but he has always been independent. Last fall he was the candidate of the Union and Democratic parties for treasurer, the former organization having succeeded in having him substituted for A. J. Palm, who had been nominated by the Democrats.

Coray is strong in the anthracite region and the Unionists are urging that he is the man for the two parties to unite on this fall. He has refused to stand as a candidate for assembly in his district, evidently having in mind the fusion nomination for secretary of internal affairs.

Allegheny Will Vote for Coray.

The Allegheny county committee of the Union party will meet in Pittsburgh either Monday or Tuesday to elect 40 delegates to the state convention, to be held in Philadelphia on September 3. There are 60 members of this body and under the rules of their party have the right to elect delegates.

The leaders said last night that 40 delegates would be elected and instructed for Pattison, Guthrie and Coray. They admitted that there was hope of later getting Nolan to withdraw from the Democratic ticket in favor of Coray. The local Union managers are positive in their declaration that Pattison, Guthrie and Coray will be the nominees of the Philadelphia convention.

Democrats who are active in state politics admitted last night that there had been conferences between the Democrats and Unionists over the withdrawal of Nolan. So far no agreement has been reached. The Democrats will make no trade unless they are that they have to get the assistance of Coray in the anthracite region. There is a disposition to stick to Nolan and his barrel.

May Not Indorse Dalzell.

The Democrats may not indorse Congressman John Dalzell, who is the Citizens and Republican candidate for reelection in the Thirtieth district. This announcement was made last night by William J. Brennen, who has the appointment of the committee of three that will decide what the Democrats are to do about a congressional ticket. Mr. Brennen returned from his vacation yesterday. He says the committee will be named not later than Tuesday. Charles A. Pagan may be the chairman of the body.

"There is no question about the indorsement of three of the Citizen candidates for congress," said Mr. Brennen. "They are all Republicans, but they do not have congressional records. Mr. Dalzell has, and for that reason it is hardly the thing to ask a Democrat to vote for him. I am of the opinion that Mr. Dalzell will not be indorsed. It is quite probable that no candidate will be named against him. This will leave the Democrats of the district free to do as they please. There has never been any question about the indorsement of the other congressional candidates. The Democrats are interested in the success of the reform movement and will not do anything to injure the cause."

Getting Voters on the Lists.

The Citizens are devoting their energies now to the registration of voters and the payment of taxes. Wherever names have been left off the registry by assessors they are being put on. The work has developed the fact that in the country districts the vast majority of the electors have seen to it that they are in a position to vote. There is little trouble in Pittsburgh. About 75 per cent of the assessors are Citizens and Democrats. This allows the Citizens to pay more attention to Allegheny and McKeesport, where there is a good deal of work to do.

A. P. Cooper, who has the Republican indorsement of Fayette for congress, had a conference Tuesday at Rices Landing with his Greene county opponents. The participants in the conference declined to tell what had been done. It is generally believed that Fayette will help D. F. Walton of Greene to secure the nomination in the district. J. A. Berkey of Somerset is hopeful that he can get the plum.

Dr. A. W. Acheson of Denison, Tex., is a candidate for chairman of the Republican committee of his state. He is a brother of Congressman E. F. Acheson of Washington, Pa.

L. F. Tomaszeski, the deputy coroner who resigned so he could work for the Citizens ticket, announced last night that Joseph Micheiski of the Twenty-seventh ward had resigned as foreman at Highland park. He is also quitting because he is opposed to the machine.

KILLED WHILE AT PLAY.

Edward Kelly, 12 Years Old, Run in Front of a Traction Car.

Edward Kelly, 12 years old, of No. 146 Mulberry alley, was instantly killed about 8 o'clock last night by Frankstown avenue car No. 305, near Fifteenth street and Penn avenue. The boy's mother was on the scene almost immediately after the accident and was frantic with grief. A large crowd threatened the motorman with violence until dispersed by police.

Leo Donner, 28 years old and single, died yesterday at Mercy hospital from injuries received on Tuesday at the Union steel works in Donora. His body was taken to the morgue.

A man named Davis, 18 years old, was killed yesterday morning at the South Side plant of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company by falling 30 feet from a cupola.

STEEL COMBINE FILES REPLY TO COMPLAINANTS

The Answer States That the Property Is Worth $1,400,000,000.

CURTISS HOLDS NO STOCK

It Is Denied That the $50,000,000 Which It Was Expected to Obtain to Pay for Improvements Was Chargeable to Earnings.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 27.—In an answer filed by the United States Steel Corporation today to the amended bill of compiaint recently put in by J. Aspinwall Hodge, Bernard Smith and William H. Curtiss, it is set forth that the properties are worth $1,400,000,000, and not $500,000,000, as alleged by James H. Lancaster, who made the appraisement for the complainants.

It is also stated that Curtiss does not own any stock of the corporation so far as the records show; that Smith only acquired his stock since the proposition to convert the preferred stock of the company into bonds was adopted, and that Hodge, who owns 100 shares of stock, did not make any opposition to the conversion plan when it was under consideration. It is further pointed out that the stock now held by Smith was voted in favor of the conversion plan.

Denial is made that 10 of the directors of the steel corporation are members of the syndicate through which the commission plan, by which J. P. Morgan & Co. were to get $10,000,000, was to be carried out. It is admitted that some of the steel directors are members of the syndicate, but they were satisfied that the plan would be advantageous to them as stockholders.

It is denied that any stockholders had been offered special terms in converting their preferred stock into bonds if they would vote for the proposition. It is also denied that the $50,000,000, which it was expected to obtain to pay for improvements and to add to company's surplus was chargeable to earnings.

The answer then takes up the line of argument made in the affidavit of George W. Perkins, chairman of the finance committee, filed last week, in which Mr. Perkins claimed that this additional $50,000,000 was needed to pay for improvements and to give the company a larger surplus to permit it to do a cash business and to protect against a money stringency in the event of a business depression.

The answer says the earnings of the corporation for the year ending March 31, 1902, were $111,503,054; for the month of April, 1902, $12,330,054; May, $13,120,390; June, $12,220,362; July, estimated, $11,000,000, or at the rate of $150,000,000 a year.

An inventory is filed to show that the company's property is worth $1,400,000,000, or more than the combined value of the preferred and common stock. It is stated also that the company's surplus is now $85,000,000.

The answer emphasizes the point raised by Mr. Perkins to the effect that the conversion plan would reduce the fixed charges of the company and be advantageous to all stockholders, both preferred and common.

NINETEEN INJURED IN TROLLEY WRECK

CARS COLLIDE ON YOUNGSTOWN & SHARON RAILWAY.

Three of the Victims Are Seriously Hurt. It Is Alleged That Orders Were Disobeyed—Crash Came During a Heavy Fog.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHARON, PA., Aug. 27.—In a collison on the Youngstown & Sharon street railway near this city this morning 19 people were injured, four seriously. The injured:

ROBERT MOORE, Hubbard; cut about the face and head.
S. S. BOUT, Youngstown; right thigh broken in two places, left arm fractured, internally hurt.
STEPHEN O'DAY, Youngstown; right leg broken and contusions about the body.
E. J. MARSHALL, Hubbard; ankle sprained and cut in abdomen.
JAMES DORIAN, Hubbard; spine injured and internally hurt.
C. LAWRENCE, Hubbard; cut over eye and bruised about face.
JOHN BRUDER, Hubbard; contusions about body.
ARTHUR TIMER, Hubbard; cut about face and head by flying glass.
ANDREW GLASER, Hubbard; back badly sprained.
THOMAS TAIT, Hubbard; elbow sprained.
JOHN HIGGINS, Hubbard; back and leg cut and bruised.
FRANK LAWRENCE, Hubbard; neck and back sprained.
WILLIAM COLTER, Hubbard; bruised about hips.
JAMES BRADLEY, Hubbard; bruised shoulder, sprained and wrenched back.
ALBERT PINK, Hubbard; hurt internally.
T. B. ARNOLD, motorman; head and face badly cut.
JOHN FARRAGHER, conductor; hurt internally.
SCOTT HAMILTON, motorman; injured internally by jumping.

Joseph M. Thomas, the injured motorman, has a fractured skull and may not recover.

The collison occurred near the car barns of the company. The blame, it is alleged, rests on the crew in charge of the car running toward Youngstown. Their car could have waited until the one from Youngstown arrived, but instead an attempt was made to reach the second switch. The morning was dark and a heavy fog hung over the track, so that it was impossible to see a car length ahead. The cars came together with terrible force.

As quickly as possible those injured were taken out of the demolished cars and removed to the Sharon hospital in ambulances. Only four of the injured were taken to the hospital, the others being able to proceed to their homes.

INFANT UNDER ARREST.

Mother Gains Possession of Her Child by Charging It With Vagrancy.

KEOKUK, IA., Aug. 27.—In a legal fight for the possession of her 11-months-old baby, which is seriously ill, Mrs. Vina Kellar caused the arrest of the infant today on a charge of vagrancy and had herself appointed a special constable to take charge of the diminutive prisoner during a continuance of the case. This was a victory over Secretary Park of the Associated Charities, who was in jail for nearly an hour for contempt of court in his attempt to deprive the mother of her child.

A construction of the new sociological statute passed by the legislature has resulted. Secretary Park is now in legal custody of the child and the mother has actual possession, having obtained the infant by extraordinary means and hidden it. A doctor says the baby probably will die.

This added to the mother's desire to see it, as hitherto she has been denied all access to it. The law provides the procedure by which children may be taken from incompetent, dissolute or immoral parents and given to persons or charitable societies by courts or mayors of cities.

Judge Hughes, of the superior court this afternoon construed the law to be: That if the mother is found competent by a trial court and the child be given back, the filing of a notice of appeal by the associated charities stops the execution of the order to return the child to the mother. The effect is to keep the child away from the acquitted mother until a long series of appeals through all the courts to the supreme court are finally decided, taking generally two years. Judge Hughes is a lawyer and jurist of the highest reputation in Iowa and Missouri, and his decision rendered in the habeas corpus proceedings has caused a wave of intense indignation over the new law.

SHERIFF WANTS TROOPS.

Florida Officer Wires Governor for Protection for a Negro Prisoner.

PENSACOLA, FLA., Aug. 27.—Sheriff Smith has wired to Gov. Jennings asking for a detail of the state troops to protect the negro Thompson, who assaulted aged Mrs. Dixon on Sunday. A mob formed last night and this morning sent a message to Sheriff Smith that if Thompson was not tried today he would be lynched. Judge Reeves is out of the state, and it is impossible to have the trial now.

The mob is thoroughly organized, and it is feared will attack the jail tonight. Sheriff Smith has several special deputies, thoroughly armed on guard at the jail and will protect the negro at all costs.

CONTROLS 700 POTS.

Federation Window Glass Company Claims to Have Qualified for an Agreement.

The window glass manufacturers are working hard to establish an agreement which will obviate the trouble arising out of the independent attitude of the Independent Glass Company during last fire. A conference was held Tuesday by President James A. Chambers of the American Window Glass Company, President C. P. Cole of the Independent Glass Company and President J. R. Johnston of the New Federation Window Glass Company. President Johnston declared that his company could show that it would control the necessary 700 pots required before the agreement was to be entered.

There will be a meeting of the heads of the companies in Cleveland, Columbus or Pittsburgh some time this week.

Beware of Counterfeits.

The great success attained by our "Stag Brand" nutmeg melons, has resulted in numerous imitations, some unscrupulous dealers being bold enough to deliberately palm off inferior cantaloupes as the genuine "Stag Brand." In order to protect the reputation of our goods it is our intention to prosecute all such parties, as our brand is protected by federal registration, and it is not our intention to allow ourselves to be defrauded in this manner. GUFFEY AGENTS SCOUT FOR VOTES IN UNION PARTY

Pittsburgher Has Measure Taken for Senatorial Toga to Succeed Penrose.

WORKING ON INSURGENTS

Hopes to Split Up Republican Legislative Majority and Defeat Philadelphian, Even Though Judge Pennypacker Is Elected Governor.

By CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 27.—The extraordinary efforts being put forth by Col. J. M. Guffey and his lieutenants to capture the Union party state convention, which will be held here next week, has convinced Senators Quay and Penrose and the other stalwart Republicans that there is no doubt but that Guffey is an actual candidate for the United States senate. It is further believed by the Republican managers that Col. Guffey, in his desire to succeed Senator Penrose, has convinced himself that there is a possibility of electing former Gov. Pattison, or if he does not succeed in this, in controlling the next legislature.

Every report received at headquarters bearing upon the Democratic campaign maneuvers indicates that the Democratic national committeeman is at last making a fight for that personal recognition which his friends have always believed he would seek at the proper time. Col. Guffey knows that the only possible chance of success lies in his ability to split the Republican vote, and he proposes to use the Union party as a wedge in the legislative campaign. Preceding the session of 1899 such a scheme was successful.

Almost Worked Once.

Insurgent Republicans and Democrats combined and succeeded in preventing the re-election of Senator Quay, thereby depriving the state of its proper representation in the upper house of congress for two years. The same thing was attempted in the fall of 1900. It failed, and Col. Quay was re-elected. These forces which attempted to disrupt the party on the two occasions cited, have joined hands to defeat Senator Penrose and elect a Democrat as his successor. Col. Guffey is the Democrat agreed upon.

Scores of Democrats, liberally supplied with cash, have been scouring the state for two weeks in an effort to influence prospective delegates to the Union party convention to come to Philadelphia and vote in favor of indorsing Mr. Pattison. Delegates willing to make the necessary pledges have been told that they would be supplied with transportation, Pullman car space, and money sufficient to leave them a handsome balance after they have liquidated their legitimate expenses.

Neither Chairman Quay nor Senator Penrose believes that the Democratic scheme to absorb the Union party has been successful. It is not their belief that the Union party will have a substantial influence in controlling the general result. In the gubernatorial campaign it is regarded as a most inconspicuous factor. So far as the legislative feature of the campaign goes, it may be regarded only as a means to attract those with grievances, whether they be termed insurgents, Independents, "boxers," or unionists.

Wanamaker Leads Insurgents.

In Philadelphia all of the prominent Union party leaders, with the exception of John Wanamaker and his agents, have declared it to be their intention to support Judge Pennypacker, and this support, it is understood, will extend to the congressional, legislative and county candidates. In Pittsburgh what little prestige the Union party ever enjoyed has, it is said, been absorbed by the Citizens party. Hence it is impossible for Col. Guffey to obtain much headway for his senatorial boom in either of these cities. For this reason his lieutenants are devoting their time and money to the interior counties, especially those in the western part of the state and in the anthracite region. Until the convention meets it will be impossible to indicate the full measure of Democratic success.

When Col. Quay left this afternoon for his Atlantic City cottage he was uncertain whether he would again visit headquarters this week. He was accompanied by his son, Maj. A. G. C. Quay, and he expected R. R. Quay of Pittsburgh to join him at the shore tomorrow. It is probable that the remainder of the week will be devoted by the senator and his sons to deep sea fishing. Owing to his injury Col. Quay has been prevented from indulging in his favorite sport, and now that he has everything moving smoothly at state headquarters he intends to enjoy himself.

Littlefield to Speak.

Another speaker of national note has been secured by Chairman Quay in the person of Congressman C. E. Littlefield of Maine, who has agreed to make two or more speeches whenever his services are required by the state chairman.

James M. Swank, secretary of the Iron and Steel association of Pittsburgh, called on Chairman Quay this morning. Other visitors were Col. Ned Arden Flood of Meadville, Judge Cyrus Gordon of Clearfield, Judge Pennypacker, Congressman Cassell of Lancaster and Postmaster A. M. High of Reading. Col. Flood is the son of Dr. T. L. Flood, who was an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination of lieutenant governor.

Chairman Quay today inquired if his bet of $10,000 posted with a Pittsburgh banker previous to his departure for Maine had been covered. He is very anxious that anyone who believes Judge Pennypacker will not receive 100,000 majority shall win his money.

Insurance Commissioner Israel W. Durham will return from his Colorado outing the first of next week. Capt. J. Clayton Erb, his private secretary, came home yesterday. Mr. Erb says that Commissioner Durham has been greatly benefited by his trip. The friends of the commissioner—and Senator Quay is one of the authorities that I quote—declare that Mr. Durham has no organic trouble, and that he went away merely to rest.

REAMER CASE DROPPED.

Small Boy Who Stole Chains in Question Bound Over to Court.

E. J. Reamer, superintendent of the Pittsburgh & Castle Shannon Railroad Company, was to have had a hearing on a charge of receiving stolen goods yesterday before Magistrate D. J. McGarey. Before any testimony was taken it was announced that the suit had been discontinued and Reamer was discharged. It was alleged that he purchased some stolen chains from small boys. The prosecutor was Capt. Thomas Martin.

Dennis Gratty, 14 years old, one of the boys accused of stealing the chains, was held for court upon informations made by A. L. Schaeffer and Frank Moore.

TRAIN HOODOOED BY A YELLOW CAT

She Walks Back and Forth Over the Ft. Wayne Tracks and Casts a Spell Over the Pennsylvania Swell Limited and Causes It to Lose Time.

The Pennsylvania limited pulled into the Union station an hour and 10 minutes late last evening, looking as demoralized as a politician the day after the convention, all on account of a yellow cat. At least the man about the station blame it on a certain cat which last evening broke all its past habits by walking backwards and forwards across the tracks on which the limited would be due to enter shortly, and this just at the time that the "swell" train got into trouble.

A little distance east of Stewart station something projecting from the side of a freight car in a train on the adjoining track scraped the full length of the limited as it sped by. A deep scratch was dug along the side of the handsome cars and the brass grips at the steps were bent way back or torn loose from their fastenings. At Stewart station a freight wreck, caused by a draw-head pulling out, caused the loss of an hour or more in getting past the wreck.

On all this hangs a story. About six months ago a handsomely gowned woman, a passenger on this train en route from New York to Chicago, carried with her a beautiful yellow Angora cat. While the engines were being changed at the station she started to walk up and down the platform with this cat in her arms, when suddenly the cat leaped from her and ran under some of the material then piled about the half-built train sheds.

The woman screamed and did everything else to bring the cat back, but to no avail. As the train left she offered $25 to any one who would capture this cat and send it to her. From that time the cat has hung around the tracks so closely that the trainmen have given it the name of "Panhandle."

This name was the more applicable in that the animal's tail is only about two inches long. Some time ago a Panhandle train caught the cat and it came out minus it left front foot. So pussy came to be regarded as a hoodoo.

For the first time since coming to the station that cat left the Panhandle side of the train shed last night about 8:30 and walked with much deliberation across the shed to the Ft. Wayne side. Once there it walked three times in the same manner, across and back over the Ft. Wayne track on which the limited enters the station.

The rest is already told, and long into the night there was talk among the railroad men of the spell the yellow cat cast over the limited.

MANY NAVY CHANGES.

Capt. Bronson Succeeds Commander Wainwright as Superintendent at Annapolis.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 27.—The navy department today announced that Capt. Colby M. Chester would succeed Capt. Charles H. Davis as superintendent of the naval observatory.

Capt. Davis will be placed in command of the battleship Alabama, as the successor of Capt. Willard H. Bronson, who in turn will succeed Commander Richard Wainwright as superintendent of the naval academy at Annapolis.

Commander Wainwright, who achieved great distinction in the sea fight off Santiago as commander of the converted yacht Gloucester, which destroyed the two torpedo boat destroyers of the Spanish fleet, will be assigned to the command of the protected cruiser Newark, when she goes into commission October 15.

INDIANS IN WANT.

Utah Sheriff Appeals to Government Official to Aid the Navajos.

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 27.—Sheriff Christiansen of San Juan county, Utah, today made a formal appeal to United States Commissioner Rawlins for the relief of the Navajo Indians of Southern Utah and Rawlins has telegraphed the situation to the Indian commissioner at Washington.

Sheriff Christiansen confirms the reports that the Navajos are in a desperate condition, and predicts that unless immediate relief shall be given serious results may follow.

"Thirty Navajo Indians are actually at the point of starvation in Southern Utah, New Mexico and Arizona," said the sheriff today. "Unless something shall be done to mitigate their condition soon, there will be an uprising that will not result well for the whites."

ORATORY FLOWS AT PICNIC GROVE

EX-GOVERNOR PATTISON TALKS ABOUT PURITY OF BALLOT.

Ex-Senator Brown Replies by Citing Beam in Democratic Eye and Talks of National Issues—Swallow on Usual Lines.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILLIAMS GROVE, PA., Aug. 27.—Former Senator William M. Brown, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, made his first speech of the campaign here today at the Grangers' picnic. The other speakers were ex-Gov. Pattison, Dr. Silas C. Swallow and L. L. Grumbine, Prohibition candidate for lieutenant governor. Two thousand people were present.

Gov. Pattison, after discussing the relations of the agriculturist to the government, said in part:

"The pollution of our ballot is the greatest of all crimes. The ballot is supposed to be the expression of the will of our people. Every citizen should hold himself ready to protect the ballot box, even to the death.

"All that is asked is that the citizens go to the polls. If you do not manifest that interest you cannot entertain complaints against the conditions of legislation. If the executive fails to do his duty he can claim that you have not done yours. The indifference of the official is always proportionate to the indifference of the people."

Ex-Senator Brown, who followed, said in part:

"We are having lessons from our good, strong, strenuous president. He is talking upon questions vital to us—questions of the corporations and trusts. I believe the Republicans of this country, under the leadership of such men as Roosevelt, will regulate and control these corporations.

"I can subscribe to every word that ex-Gov. Pattison said. I would go as far as anyone to prevent fraud at elections; but why doesn't he tell us of the pollution of the ballot in New York, in North and South Carolina, Alabama and Texas?

"Democrats talk to you about state issues. What are state issues? There are none that I can find. At the Democratic convention at Erie they denounced the 'ripper' bill, and yet our honored competitor, Guthrie, came to Harrisburg pleading for the passage of that measure."

Dr. Swallow's remarks were along his usual lines.

AMERICANS BANQUETED.

Officers of Cruiser Albany Entertained by Dutch Minister of Marine at Copenhagen.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 27.—A banquet given this evening by Rear Admiral Johncke, minister of marine, in honor of the officers of the Albany and of the Dutch warship Holland, which is now here was attended by United States Minister Swanson. Rear Admiral Johncke proposed the healths of President Roosevelt and the Queen of Holland. Toasting the King of Denmark, Mr. Swanson said:

"All nations admire, love and honor his majesty; may many years be added to his ideal life."

Admiral Uldall, inspector of the fleet, toasted the American and Dutch navies.

King Christian, in the Amalienborg palace at noon today, received in audience Capt. J. E. Craig and the executive officer of the Albany. The king expressed great admiration of the American navy.

Commodore Prince Waldemar, youngest son of the king, and commander of the Danish training squadron, paid a long visit to the Albany, and Princess Marie of Orleans, his wife, sent her visitors' book for the signatures and photographs of the officers, and with the response sent her were flowers.

DECLARED A TRUST.

Suit Brought Against Master Plumbers' Association Under Missouri Law.

KANSAS CITY, MO., Aug. 27.—The Master Plumbers association is declared to be a trust operating in violation of the Missouri anti-trust law, in a petition filed here today in the circuit court by W. R. Young, a local plumber.

He alleges that his business has been ruined by members of the combine who have refused to sell him supplies because he was not a member. He asks $50,000 damages. In addition to the suit the attorney general of the state has been urged to bring proceedings to prevent the association from continuing business in Kansas City.

HAMILTON'S BIG SALE OF USED AND SECOND-HAND PIANOS

If you are thinking of buying a piano it will pay you to visit Hamilton's today. An opportunity like the present one at Hamilton's seldom occurs. For reasons which have already been explained Hamilton's are offering a splendid collection of new, used and second-hand pianos at prices averaging about one-half the regular prices of the instruments.

The number of pianos included in this sale is so large and there is such a variety of desirable makes and grades that it is quite probable you can secure an instrument that will exactly suit your wishes. And you will get it at a price very much below what you would ordinarily have to pay.

There are some good, square grand pianos as low as $50 and splendid upright pianos at $100 up. A BANK TELLER JAILED UNDER $10,000 BAIL

H. H. Brinker, of the German National Bank, Said to Be Short $20,600.

LOST IT IN SPECULATION

He Was Arrested Yesterday and Will Be Prosecuted by the Mercantile Trust Company, His Bondsmen. How Brinker Got the Cash.

Henry H. Brinker, formerly receiving teller in the German National bank of Pittsburgh, was committed to the Allegheny county jail last night by Alderman J. V. McMasters on a charge of embezzlement, on the information of W. D. Stockdale, for the Mercantile Trust Company, in default of $10,000 bail. It was discovered by the bank examiners yesterday that Brinker was short in his accounts $20,600. When the Mercantile Trust Company learned this they notified their attorney, Stephen Stone, who ordered Constable Stockdale to make information against Brinker. He was found at his home, No 2039 Wylie avenue, by Constable Stockdale. He will be arraigned for a hearing on September 2. Brinker has been married only a short time, and is 35 years old.

Injudicious stock speculations is the cause of Brinker's trouble. Since July 19, 1901, it is alleged, he has been gambling with the bank's money, but the shortage was not discovered until almost a year later. According to his story his first large loss was $10,000, which occurred about the first of the year.

How He Took the Money.

Brinker's method of obtaining the money was simple and foolhardy. When the depositors presented their pass books with the money and slip, he simply credited the deposit in the patron's book and destroyed the slip. Consequently there was no record of the deposit made on the bank's ledgers and the only means of tracing the shortage was through the depositors' individual pass books.

The first knowledge the bank had of Brinker's alleged peculations was about July 1. One of the patrons of the bank called to draw a large sum of money. He presented his pass book and there was a larger amount credited to him in the pass book than was recorded on the bank's ledgers.

According to the figures on the ledger, the account of the depositor was almost exhausted. Cashier W. W. Ramsey investigated the account and asked Receiving Teller Brinker about it. He simply said it was some mistake and nothing was thought of it. On that afternoon several other patrons of the bank presented checks for large amounts. The ledgers were examined and the figures showed the accounts were almost wiped out.

When questioned about this the patrons presented their pass books and it was seen that large deposits had been made by them but no record had been made in the receiving teller's ledgers. Later in the day National Bank Examiner Hugh Young was sent for and in a few days he examined the bank. As the outcome of this investigation Brinker told the officers of the bank that he had taken the money and lost it in stock speculations. He said that if the board of directors were disposed to give him a few weeks' time he would make his deficits good with the bank.

Returned About $4,000.

The time was given and he is alleged to have returned some $4,000 to the bank. The directors were encouraged by this and were disposed to extend the time to make up his shortage. Learning he was unable to do so they notified his bondsman, the Mercantile Trust Company, and they notified their attorney, Stephen Stone.

He made a brief investigation of the case and went to Alderman J. V. McMasters and instructed Constable W. D. Stockdale to make information against Brinker, charging him with embezzlement.

An effort was made by Brinker's friends last night to secure bail for him, but they had not succeeded at midnight. Brinker was not discharged at the time his discrepancies were discovered. He was retained as receiving teller in the bank until three weeks ago. At that time National Bank Examiner Young demanded that Brinker should be dismissed from the institution. The German National bank will not suffer any loss, as the Mercantile Trust Company will make good Brinker's peculations.

Bank Not Interested.

W. W. Ramsey, cashier of the German National bank, when seen at his home, No. 5300 Walnut street, last night declared that the bank had nothing to do with the prosecution of Brinker. He said: "Brinker was in trouble at the bank about two months ago, and the matter became a public affair. He has not been connected with the bank since then. A settlement was made for the shortage, and that is all we know about him."

OCEAN STEAMERS CRASH IN HARBOR

PASSENGER LINER DISABLED BY A FREIGHT VESSEL.

The Liguria, With 1,100 Persons Aboard, Run Down Near New York by the Peconic—The Damaged Craft Returns to Port.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—In broad daylight and bright sunshine a collision which might have resulted in a dreadful calamity occurred in New York harbor this afternoon between an incoming passenger liner and an outbound freight steamer.

The steamship Liguria of the Italian Royal Mail Steamship Company, with over 1,100 persons on board, was run down in the narrows by the British steamer Peconic of the Mediterranean and New York Steamship Company, bound out for ports in the Mediterranean.

A succession of whistle blasts was followed by a tremendous crash and the Peconic's bow smashed into the hull of the Liguria just forward of the foremast. The Italian liner's hull was cut to the water's edge and water poured into the hole. The Peconic, as she drifted away, scraped the hull of the Liguria and carried away the companion ladder. The bow of the Peconic on the port side was stove in and the stem turned to starboard.

Capt. Montano of the liner restored order promptly and forced the steerage passengers over to the starboard side to bring the hole out by the Peconic above the water. This effort was so successful that very little water entered the liner.

The pilot who brought the Liguria into port, Frank Kramer, said the fault was all with the Peconic. The Peconic was so damaged that she returned for repairs. The Liguria, after the inspection of passengers at quarantine, proceeded to her dock.

Cleveland Senator Indorses Nash's Municipal Code Bill—Pays Visit to Columbus.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 27.—Senator Hanna spent today here in consultation with members of the legislature, leaving this evening for Cleveland. He indorsed the municipal code prepared bill under the direction of Gov. Nash. He said he was in favor of perpetual franchises for street railways, with the right reserved to councils to revise conditions of grants every 10 years.

He declared himself opposed to the constitutional amendment proposed by Senator Foraker, allowing the enactment of special laws for municipalities.

Senator Hanna urged the members of the legislature to confine the work of the extra session to framing a municipal code and repealing the Royer law. Addressing a group of legislators in the governor's office, he said:

"Some people seem disposed to criticise me. I don't propose to mix my business with politics. My street railroad is my savings bank. If I cannot look after my street railway interests and politics too, I'll quit politics and look after my business alone."

EAST DOUGLASS, MASS., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—It is now believed here that Glassport, Pa., is not to get the Douglass shops of the American Ax and Tool Company, after all.

REUNION OF THE DESCENDANTS OF JOHN M'MILLAN

OVER 500 PEOPLE PRESENT

About One-Third of These Were Direct Lineal Descendants of the Preacher—Address by One Who Had Heard Dr. McMillan Preach.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Canonsburg, Pa., Aug. 27.—The old Chartiers Hill church, the picturesque and historic edifice about a mile and a half southeast of this place on the Washington road, was the scene today of an assemblaze notable inasmuch as it included some of the best-known and most prominent families of Western Pennsylvania, and interesting because of the fact that it was held in memory of one of the pioneer professors of the Presbyterian faith and the first zealous worker in its cause in the western portion of this state.

The occasion was the reunion of the descendants of the Rev. John McMillan, of whom only remnants of the fourth and parts of the fifth and sixth generations now survive. Hacks and other vehicles were kept busily engaged during the greater part of the day handling the crowd. It was estimated that there were over 500 people present, about one-third of whom were direct lineal descendants of the reverend gentleman. There are believed to be living nearly 300 of these descendants of the eminent old preacher and educator, but they are widely scattered and only 180 of them were present today to register themselves on the roster at the old church.

Crossed the Mountains.

The "Apostle of Presbyterianism in the West," as John McMillan was known to those among whom he labored for half a century, was born at Faggs Manor in 1752. After the death of his mother he began studying with the ultimate purpose of entering the ministry, and at the end of several years spent at Princeton he was ordained in 1722 and began his life work. Believing early in his career as a clergyman that he was destined for missionary and evangelical service, he journeyed, in company with his wife, across the rugged mountains into the wilderness of Western Pennsylvania.

No minister had ever penetrated to that section before and there being no roads over the mountainous country the two had traversed their personal effects were carried in pack saddles strapped to the backs of mules. On arrival the minister found no provisions for his reception, but the determination that characterized him throughout life enabled him to brave the hardships through.

A floorless log hut was his shelter for a long time and boxes and kegs with a pallet on the earthen floor served as furniture until better could be constructed from lumber hewn by hand in the forest. Over 125 years ago the minister founded and took charge of the Chartiers congregation and preached his first sermon at "The Hill" in 1778, continuing his labors there for 50 years.

Opened a School.

Not satisfied with his work as a pastor merely, he opened a school for the training of young men in literature and theology. Working zealously in this he, after a few years, developed and expanded its scope until it became Jefferson college, the foundation of the Washington and Jefferson of today. Upon the campus of the Jefferson academy in quaint, quiet Canonsburg stands the identical log cabin that served John McMillan first in expounding the tenets of his theology to young men. Weather-beaten it appears with its board roof warped and curling in the sun. The log walls are crumbling and rotten, and cut deeply into them, carved by jack-knives wielded in boyish mischievousness, are the names of many of those who studied under the venerable preacher. It was an object of absorbing interest to those who had come for the reunion.

Wandering in the little cemetery near the old church in which took place the event of today, headstones bearing names, well known and even famous, met the glance. Mr. McMillan's father is here, buried in 1792; on another slab appears the name Bradford, suggestive of the whisky rebellion; but that which compels more than a passing glance is the one, carved more than 70 years ago, bearing the following inscription:

Eulogistic Inscription.

"Erected in memory of the Rev. John McMillan, D. D., an able divine, a preacher of the first order. His distinguished talents * * * and the skill and ability which he displayed in instructing and training young men for the gospel ministry * * * have raised a monument to his fame far more imperishable than the stone which bears this inscription. * * * He died November 16, 1833, enjoying the undoubted hope of a blissful eternity, in the 82d year of his age, and the 60th of his ministry."

The program was elaborately simple, but it occupied the greater part of the day. There were nine addresses and responses, one of which was by Mr. Benjamin Chubbic, an old resident, who is the only man known to have heard Dr. McMillan preach.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Samuel McMillan, a grandson. An anthem, "Old Hundred," was sung just as they sang it a hundred years ago—two men, Drs. Brown and Hill, standing in front of the pulpit and alternately reading and singing the lines. All who made addresses touched upon and described the work of the old pioneer and its influence as it is felt today. Addresses and responses were made by Drs. Brown and Hill, the Revs. Coulter and Work, Messrs. Thomas R. McMillan, William Caldwell, L. M. Allen, Benjamin Chubbic and Prof. Craig.

A Permanent Organization.

The features of the day were the dinner out upon the lawn, and a ball game between teams composed of the relatives of the McMillans and the Fultons. The former were victorious. Another feature was the photographing of all the descendants present. The pictures were made in two groups, the first consisting of the fourth generation, of which there are only four left, and the last embracing the remainder.

Up to now there has been no permanent organization of the McMillans, but at this reunion one was effected, and officers were elected to serve until the next reunion, which will be next year, and regularly thereafter. William Caldwell was elected president; George D. McNutt was made secretary, and Miss Lizzie Weaver, treasurer. An executive committee was appointed, consisting of M. R. Allen of Washington, Miss Lizzie Weaver of Canonsburg and Robert Fulton of Canonsburg.

COMMISSIONERS WILL DISCUSS COURT ANNEX

Meeting of Board to Be Held to Consider Buying Diamond Street Plot.

MEMBERS FAVOR PROJECT

Mr. Mercer Says New Building Could Be Mortgaged and the Debt Paid Off With a Small Special Levy. Legislation Needed.

County Commissioner J. Carson Mercer says the board soon will take up the question of buying the plot in Diamond street for an extension of the court house. He is favorable to the plan.

The county now owns the old University building, and the scheme is to buy the Third United Presbyterian and Fourth Avenue Baptist church properties and the remainder of the ground in that square. There would be erected on the site a building for court purposes so that sufficient room could be secured in the present structure for the growing needs of the office. The commissioner will favor the project.

"We will have to find more room," said Commissioner Mercer yesterday. "It is either a question of adding more stories to the present building or erecting an annex. To my mind the latter plan is the better one. In this way we would be certain of supplying the needs of the county for all time. If we adopt the other plan it would be but a question of years until additional buildings would be needed. The longer the matter is delayed the greater will be the cost. Land values in the vicinity of the court house are bound to advance.

"Two years ago we were offered the property at $1,300 a foot front. I know that there has been a big increase since, but the top notch has not been reached. The county would save money by making the purchase now. It would not require a bond issue to buy the place or erect the building. I am of the opinion that the better way would be to mortgage the new annex and then pay off the debt with a special levy. At our present county valuation the extra millage would be so trifling that it would not be noticed.

"The legislature could also give us relief in saving space in the court house and keeping down expense by changing the form of mortgages and deeds. There is so much useless verbiage in them that a page or two of a docket is required to make the record, when a third of the space would do. In a county like ours, where there is so much business, this is a great item.

"Speaking of mortgages, we have been able, by legislation secured two years ago, to add greatly to the revenues. We found that many mortgages were held by persons we could not find and the county lost the tax. We had to employ four men to hunt for these people who were evading the law, and then were unable to find a large number of them. Now the full name and address are registered. As a result, the income from this source has almost doubled."

FOUR FRENCHMEN LEAD.

Win International Cavalry Race from Brussels to Ostend—Most European Armies Represented.

OSTEND, Aug. 27.—The international cavalry race today, from Brussels to Ostend, was won by Lieut. Madamet of the French army, who completed the 83 miles in 6 hours and 54 minutes.

Frenchmen secured the first four places. De Muenynck, a Belgian, who was 15th and the winner of the lowest prize, completed the course in 9 hours and 32 minutes.

There were some 60 participants and most of the European armies were represented. The contest was initiated by the king of the Belgians. The journey had to be accomplished on the same horse and the condition of the animals on their arrival here, influenced the award of the prizes.

LARKIN'S WRATH AROUSED BY BILL

TURNS DOWN GROCERY ACCOUNT FROM BUREAU OF HEALTH.

Indorsed It as Something Outrageous, and in Refusing to Draw Necessary Warrant Recommended Discharge of Officer Who Contracted It.

"Outrageous bill. Should not be paid. The man who contracted for it should be removed."

Such was the indorsement City Controller John B. Larkin yesterday placed on a grocery bill presented for him to "O. K." and issue a warrant for the amount, $48 48.

The bill was contracted in June by a quarantine officer who was stationed at the home of a family in Laurel avenue, where there was a case of smallpox and five people quarantined. The quarantine lasted for 16 days, and during this time the family's grocery bill was at the rate of about $90 a month.

"This is how the city will happen to be short of money about the middle of November," continued the controller. "This bill is only one of the many examples that come to me daily. Now just look over that invoice carefully.

"In this family, which was quarantined for about half a month, were three children and the father and mother. In three days' time seven dozen eggs were supplied to the family by this grocer, according to this statement. Seven dozen eggs in three days! Why, that's enough to run a boarding house which feeds 25 people at a meal for a week.

"Possibly some of the eggs were bad," was the suggestion made to the controller, and he replied that in any event if they were not bad when purchased, they would be before the family consumed the last of them.

There was another item that took the controller's eye. It was for potatoes. The second day after the house was quarantined a peck of potatoes is said to have been furnished, which was listed at 45 cents. Several days afterwards a half bushel of potatoes was furnished for $1 25.

The invoice for the grocer's supplies was made out in due form and certified to by Superintendent A. J. Pitcairn of the bureau of health. When asked if he meant what he had written on the bill, that Superintendent Pitcairn should be removed, the controller said:

"No; Superintendent Pitcairn merely certified to the bill. He does not know anything about it, only that the goods were bought and delivered to the family. He has no responsibility in the matter, but it is the quarantine officer who is at fault. That man is no more fit to transact business for the city than a 2-year-old baby.

"I will never issue a warrant for that bill, but will return it to the bureau of health, and they can do what they please with it."

REUNION OF M'GEARYS.

Descendants of Revolutionary Soldier Will Gather at Valley Camp.

The members of the McGeary family, descended from John McGeary, a revolutionary soldier, will hold their annual reunion tomorrow at Valley Camp, on the Allegheny Valley railroad. John McGeary came to this country from Ireland early in the eighteenth century and many of his descendents, which number about 500, will be at the reunion.

Last year the descendants formed a permanent organization and Justice of the Peace J. E. McGeary of Markle, Westmoreland county, was made president. Miss Mable Stewart of New Kensington is secretary and Mrs. M. H. Cochran of Vandergrift, treasurer. The family has three branches, the McGearys, Stewarts and Laughlins, and a complete record of the family history has been kept for 100 years. Justice of the Peace Miller McGeary of Kittanning will entertain the members of the family at the reunion tomorrow, at which the history will be read and addresses made by the prominent guests. Among the local residents of the family are Coroner Jesse M. McGeary of Allegheny and Dr. G. H. McGeary of Braddock.

FIND INVITATION FOR GALA OPERA FROM EMPEROR

The Coming of Generals Corbin and Young to Berlin Pleasantly Anticipated.

KAISER NOW VERY BUSY

Probably Unable to Receive American Guests Before Parade on Tempelhof Field on Saturday—Will Aid St. Louis World's Fair.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Berlin, Aug. 27.—Maj.-Gen. Corbin and Maj.-Gen. Young, U. S. A., who, with Brig.-Gen. Wood, are to attend the army maneuvers, their aides and Mrs. Corbin and Mrs. Johnson arrived here today and found at their hotel Emperor William's invitations to attend the gala opera performance on Thursday.

His majesty has intimated through the United States embassy that he will be pleased to receive the American generals in audience at an early date. The presentation of the generals probably will take place at the parade on the Tempelhof field Saturday next, when the American officers will ride with the reviewing party.

President Roosevelt informed Gen. Corbin when he left Washington that he had the St. Louis exposition personally very much at heart and asked the general to lose no opportunity of pointing out the strong interest the government and the country feel in the success of the exposition. If the occasion presents itself, Gen. Corbin will mention the matter to the emperor.

The form in which Germany will officially recognize the exposition is now for the first time indicated. Several newspapers, discussing the exposition this week, intimated that the United States should not be disappointed if Germany's representation is not up to American expectations, because the German manufacturers feel that they had been spending too much money on expositions in recent years.

The St. Louis exposition is among the subjects which Emperor William will dispose of during the next fortnight, and it is quite probable that a commissioner will be designated, thus giving the exposition a somewhat broader German representation than at first contemplated.

REMAINS OF FAIRS SHIPPED FROM PARIS

Simple Service in Vault of Church of the Madeleine—Greatest Secrecy Is Observed.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARIS, Aug. 27.—The remains of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Fair, who were killed August 14 in an automobile accident near Evreaux, France, were removed from the church of the Madeleine at 9 o'clock tonight, after a brief service held in the vault of the church, in the presence of a dozen persons, including Mr. Gowdy, United States consul general here.

A cross and a wreath of white flowers were placed upon the coffins before their removal. The coffins were taken away in two undertakers' vans. In order to avoid attracting attention the first van drove off five minutes before the second. They proceeded separately to a freight station where the coffins were enclosed in packing cases.

So much secrecy was observed with regard to the shipment of the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Fair, that as late as 10:30 this evening Mr. Ellis declared that nothing had been settled with regard to their removal. Mr. Ellis refused to name the port from which they are to be shipped or the steamer which is to take them.

MANUFACTURERS MAKE THEIR OWN EXPORT BOUNTY

German Iron and Steel Men Form Strong Association to Capture Trade.

FIGHT IS ON AMERICANS

Make Heavy Increase in Tonnage Shipped from Country, but Evidently at Sacrifice Prices—New Plants Further Cut into Business.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
903 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 27.

Driven almost to desperation by the way American iron and steel manufacturers are reaching out and securing the markets of the world, the iron and steel makers of Germany now have a combination which will enable them to continue, with better chances for ultimate success, their stubborn fight for the markets of Europe, South and Central America, Africa and the east.

This fact is brought out in a report from United States Consul General Frank Mason at Berlin, dated August 1, which was made public at the state department today. The consul general reports that after a full discussion of the unsatisfactory condition of the home market, representatives of the coal and iron industries of Germany assembled at Cologne decided upon a return to the system of export bounties which was used to such good effect in the early years of the German industrial expansion.

A union was at once formed between the coal and iron interests to provide export bounties among all the leading syndicates in the metal and mining industries. This vast and powerful export association, Mr. Mason says, is based upon an agreement that its members shall contribute to pay to such members as export their products a bonus equal to the difference between the current price of the merchandise in the German markets and the price actually obtained for it abroad. The bounties to be paid on exported metals are calculated upon the amounts of raw materials consumed in their production.

The consul general says that the midsummer outlook for the German metal and mining industries is not so reassuring as had been confidently hoped for since the beginning of the year. The reports of several chambers of commerce are decidedly pessimistic on one point, namely, the persistence of manufacturers in building and opening new and costly plants which will still further increase their productive capacity at a time when the home market is overstocked with most industrial products, and when prudence would dictate that the output should be judiciously reduced.

It is nevertheless true, says Mr. Mason, that the exports of iron and steel are enormous and steadily increasing. During the first half of the present year the figures reached 1,503,742 tons, as compared with 994,404 tons for the same period of last year. The increase in the aggregate values of these exports was only from $57,143,800 to $70,852,600.

This comparison between the bulk of product and the bulk of money makes the vital fact of the situation apparent, that a large part of the vast amount of exports has been marketed abroad rather on the basis of a clearing-out sale, in which the goods were offered at whatever sacrifice might be necessary to secure their sale.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 27.—The part which postal employes are to be permitted to take in a political campaign is outlined in the following instructions which Acting Postmaster General Wynne has addressed to a postmaster who sent a letter of inqiry:

"In reply to your letter, you are informed that you are not prohibited from joining a political club, nor making voluntary financial contributions outside of a government office or building, nor from acting as a delegate to a county, state or congressional convention.

"You should not, however, serve as chairman of a state or county committee, nor take active part in conducting a political convention, nor make yourself unduly prominent in local political matters."

SAN JUAN, P. R., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—Three persons were killed, three mortally wounded and several others seriously injured in a political riot which occurred in Humacao yesterday. Hundreds of shots were fired during the disturbances, and peaceable citizens were terrified.

The outbreak caused considerable excitement throughout the island and several minor disturbances were reported.

An attempt was made on Sunday to assassinate the representative of the American Federation of Labor in Mayaguez.

POLICEMAN HAS RESIGNED.

Dennis Hahn Declared He Suffered Indignities from Superior Officers.

Because Dennis Hahn, a patrolman of the Oakland police station, was ordered to report to the police board on last Monday afternoon for not calling up promptly from his patrol box on an hour Sunday, he resigned his position and turned over his keys and badge to Inspector Robert Denniston.

Hahn claims he has been given a very raw deal by the ring since he refused to sign the "yellow book" some time ago. He is said to have had one of the longest beats in the Oakland district, and says he has suffered many indignities lately at the hands of his superior officers.

While attempting to quell a fight in a speakeasy in Scotts bottom last Sunday Hahn missed calling up and reporting to the police station. He claims he was attending to his duty, and did not get to the box in time to call.

WHITE SQUADRON SHIPS TOO SLOW

HIGGINSON SAYS PILLSBURY MADE GOOD SHOWING.

Kept Blues on Anxious Seat for Four Days—Wireless Telegraphy Should Be Established on All Vessels of the Navy.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 27.—The navy department made public today Rear Admiral Higginson's report on the "search problem" which was conducted by the blue fleet, under his own command, and the white squadron, under Commander Pillsbury, off the New England coast. The admiral's report says:

"I have the honor to report that at 5:40 a. m. of the 24th inst., off Magnolia, Mass., the blue fleet under my command captured the white fleet under the command of Commander John E. Pillsbury, U. S. N., after four days of anxious watching. Commander Pillsbury's fleet was deficient in speed. His evasion of the outside scouts and arrival on the coast undetrred was, I think, very creditable to him.

"The line of coast over which I had charge was divided into five districts, each in charge of an officer provided with scouting vessels and a number of observers at shore stations. These districts all reported by telephone or telegraph, or by whatever means of communication they could establish, with the central district of Rockport, where Ensign Berry, U. S. N., was in charge of the central office, and transmitted to me by means of steam launches, torpedo boats and signals from shore, whatever information was received.

"I can only say that the operations have been very beneficial in training the young men in scouting and as observers. I have already written to the department about the valuable service rendered by the torpedo flotilla under command of Lieut. Chandler.

"I take this occasion, however, to urge upon the department the establishment on all vessels of the navy a wireless telegraphy outfit. In my opinion, it is of incalculable value and no expense should be spared to hasten its adoption.

"The squadron has been withdrawn to Menemsha Light preparatory to the combined army and navy maneuvers."

Well-Known Manufacturer Weds.

One of the most beautiful home weddings East Liverpool, O., has known this season took place at noon yesterday, when H. H. Knowles and Miss Alma Marshall were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Marshall, by the Rev. C. G. Jordan of the First Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. J. W. Gorrell of the First Christian church, both of East Liverpool. The ribbon bearers were Miss Nellie Baillie of Pittsburgh and Miss Nina Lee of East Liverpool. The bridesmaids were Miss Adelaide Flaccus of Wheeling and Miss Jeannette Bailey of Wheeling. The best man was Jefferson D. Thompson and the maid of honor Miss Anna Lee of East Liverpool. The ushers were Col. W. C. Brown of New York, Earl Munson of Wellsville, Harold Marshall, a brother of the bride, and W. L. Taylor. The groom's gift to the bride included a magnificent tiara of diamonds and a gold locket with diamond settings. From the groom's mother, Mrs. Stafford of New York, came a chest of silver and a residence costing $50,000. Many prominent out-of-town guests were present. Mr. and Mrs. Knowles will make a lengthy wedding tour in their special car, "The Arcadia," and will be at home this fall.

RUMSEAK SETTLED ON AN UNIQUE SCALE

A suit for entering a building with intent to commit a felony against Andy Rumseak was settled in a rather unusual way in the office of Justice George Giles of Homestead yesterday. The charge against Rumseak was made by Mrs. Mary Sodac of Blythedale, who found him under her bed when she was about to retire on Monday night last. After giving him a thrashing her husband had him arrested. At the hearing yesterday he pleaded guilty and asked that the case be settled. To this Sodac and his wife agreed, the condition being that Rumseak give $25 to a church in McKeesport, $25 to a church in Hungary and $15 to to Sodac to compensate him for time lost in prosecuting the case. The money was paid in the office of the justice, after which the trio left, apparently good friends.

CONSTABLE WON OUT.

England Has but One Arm, but He Used That Vigorously on a Refractory Prisoner.

Charles D. Laughlin of No. 219 Rising Main avenue, Allegheny, charged by his wife, Eva, with assault and battery before Alderman Samuel Abernathy, gave Constable George H. England, who has but one arm, a merry chase and a stubborn fight last night. Laughlin, it is charged, has been on a spree for a week and on Tuesday night gave his wife a cruel beating. Yesterday she made information against him.

When Constable England arrived at Laughlin's house he saw the man escaping through the back yarn. After a long chase the constable caught his prisoner.

When being taken to the police station Laughlin kicked the constable, who used his "billy" freely. When the pair reached Central station Laughlin was bleeding profusely from a bad cut in the back of the head. The constable's coat was in tatters and he was covered with blood.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

DR. FESS MAKES ADDRESSES TO THE TEACHERS

Discusses Henry Clay and the Application of the Monroe Doctrine.

HAS GRAVE DOUBTS NOW

Cannot See How the Doctrine Can Be Maintained in the Face of Our Philippine Policy—Other Interesting Addresses Given.

Dr. S. D. Fess of Ada, O., delivered an address at the morning session of the Allegheny county teachers institute in Carnegie music hall on "Henry Clay." Dr. Fess, who has a stirring admiration for the famous Kentuckian, reviewed the life and statesmanlike qualities of Clay and gave in detail an interesting talk on Clay's thwarted ambition to be president.

Dr. D. C. Murphy of the Slippery Rock Normal school read a paper in which he discussed "The First Day in School," the subject dealing with the primary instruction period. Dr. Murphy, in discussing the critical period in the life of teacher and pupil, said it is on the first day when the rising generation is on hand early to "size up" the new teacher. On that day, he said, the teacher is duly tagged an cross or amiable, and the children are about right.

"Robert Burns and His Humanity" was the title of an address by Dr. Lincoln Hulley of Lewisburg, Pa. Dr. Hulley said it is not just to measure Burns by twentieth century rules, and characterized him as a lily growing in a muck heap. During his address Dr. Hulley freely illustrated by quotations from the works of Burns.

The Monroe Doctrine.

Dr. S. D. Fess has serious doubts as to the ability of the Monroe doctrine to stand as international law after this country has decided the Cuban and Philippine difficulties. He explained the reason for its being and the way it was regarded by foreign powers until the United States proved its willingness to back up its declaration with all the available force of its army and navy.

He declared that its usefulness was first demonstarted when France attempted to establish an empire in Mexico, when, under orders from President Grant, Gen. Phil Sheridan marched for Mexico with 50,000 men, but that it remained for President Cleveland's famous message on the Venezuelan question to firmly establish the fact to the powers that whether international law or not this country would back up the Monroe doctrine with all the force at his command. That settled the question until such a time as this country may get itself entangled in difficulties which may arise from overlooking the fact that the Monroe doctrine, in order to remain effective, must keep this country from establishing colonies in the east as well as to keep foreign powers from colonizing this continent not colonized prior to the framing of that measure. This he fears in the Philippine question, and does not see how the document can be maintained at home when we go abroad to dictate world policies from the Philippines.

Some Critical Moments.

Dr. D. C. Murphy talked on "Critical Moments in the School Room," explaining that there are certain times during the school day when the teacher must have perfect control of all the power he possesses. He said the opening hour of the school is one of these moments, and the pupils should not at that time be allowed to move about the room, but take their seats immediately upon entering the room, remaining quiet until the session actually begins. He said the eye should be used more in commanding obedience than the voice, and if propely exercised would prove very effective.

Intermission and the closing hour also are regarded as critical moments, when control might be lost. He advised that in leaving the school room the pupils should be kept in perfect order and compelled to march out quietly. He told of many ways by which scholars could be punished for disobedience without resorting to drastic measures, and he did not regard with favor the "keeping in" of pupils after hours.

Dr. Lincoln Hulley spoke on "History Teaching in the Public Schools," explaining that it is best accomplished by creating an interest through establishing a connection with history and literature and geography.

HIBERNIAN NIGHT.

Over 6,000 Persons Present at the Irish Fair in Allegheny.

The Irish fair, now being held at the Colosseum, Allegheny, for the benefit of the Church of the Annunciation, reached its climax last night. The evening had been announced as Hibernian night, and over 3,000 tickets were sold at one ticket office, while the other one did a rushing business. It is estimated that over 6,000 persons attended last night's show.

The first sporting event was a half-mile bicycle race between C. C. Hartman and J. Wesley McCue. Hartman won. Time, 1:08 2-5.

Then came the star sport of the evening—a tug-of-war between a team from Division 1, A. O. H., and a team from the Fort Wayne railroad shops. A dead heat was announced.

After this came a pursuit race between Harry and Percy Brown. Harry covered three miles in 6:57 and won the race.

Following came a three-mile motor-pace between Hartman and McCue. McCue lost his pace in the second mile. Later they got together and made a close contest for a few laps, Hartman finally coming out ahead. Time, 6:20.

During much of the evening the handball player, Mike Eagan, gave an artistic exhibition of his skill.

PARADE MONEY FOR STRIKERS.

Carpenters Send $500 to Miners Instead of Marching on Labor Day.

Local Union No. 211, United Brotherhood of Carpenters, in Allegheny, intended to participate in the demonstration on Labor Day and the matter came up for final action last night. It was estimated that the expenses would amount to $500.

It was proposed that the union, instead of turning out on Monday, send this money to the miners' relief fund to aid the men on strike in the anthracite region. Many of the members of the union will turn out with other organizations.

MUST BE DONE BY REPEAL.

Position Taken by McCandless With Reference to Dropping of Knowles.

Director J. Guy McCandless of the department of public works said yesterday he had no authority to drop Morris Knowles, the filtration engineer, from the city payroll. Director McCandless takes the position that Engineer Knowles was employed by an ordinance of councils, and that his salary of $4,000 a year will continue until councils repeal the ordinance.

It is said the filtration bureau will be discontinued as soon as the plans and estimates are completed.

TEACHER RETURNS TO WORK IN CUBA

MISS MABEL K. BRISTOW SAILS FOR CUBA AFTER HOME VACATION.

Unique Letter from One of Her West Indian Pupils—She Is a Graduate of the California Normal School—Minister's Daughter.

Early in September the school year will begin in Cuba. Among the teachers who will gather their classes together for another season's work in Havana will be Miss Mabel K. Bristow, who sailed from New York on the Morro Castle last Saturday. Miss Bristow is the daughter of the Rev. Thomas J. Bristow of Garland, Warren county, Pa., and is returning for her second year's work in Cuba.

Miss Bristow was originally appointed by the United States government to teach in Porto Rico, March 17, 1899, and arrived at San Juan, March 28. During her first month in the island she taught at Ponce, and was then transferred by Gen. John B. Eaton to San Juan. For two years she was principal of the kindergarten school in San Juan and also taught English in the Spanish boys' school. She has an accurate knowledge of the Spanish language.

While Miss Bristow was at San Juan the Presbyterian board of home missions opened a mission in Havana. The Rev. J. C. Greene, who was in charge of the Presbyterian mission in both Porto Rico and Cuba, persuaded Miss Bristow to go to Havana to start the school in that city and she was granted a leave of absence for an unlimited period when she left San Juan. Her work has been so successful and has branched out so much that she has just returned for a second year.

Cubans are eager to learn to speak and read the English language, and their attempts at letter-writing show some of the many difficulties which they encounter. During her summer vacation, which she spent with her parents in Warren county, Miss Bristow received several letters from her pupils, and among them was the following:

Havana, Cuba, July 4, 1902.

Dear Teacher—Fourty/days made that I am separate of you, but I never forgotten of you.

The love that I have to you made think much in you.

I wish much that you have passed tha travel with happiness.

I cannot show you all that I felt in my heart, because I write in English.

Is very hard and sad to me when I went the Wednesday to the church and not see you, the unique (only) of the school's boys that went was Mariano and I.

I can never forgotten of the pleasing hours that I passed with you. Please, when you write to me, tell me how you passed tha travel and how are you family. Mr. Green told me that when he was going to church of Jesus del Monte he saw the ship very far.

Pura send much remembrance to you and you family. Your affectionate disciple,

ALVARICO CARBILES.

Miss Mabel K. Bristow.

In the Presbyterian school, where Miss Bristow teaches, a fee is charged for admission and the school, therefore, is select.

Miss Bristow is well known in some portions of Western Pennsylvania. She is a graduate of the Southwest State Normal school in California, Pa., and holds the Prang certificate in drawing. For four years she taught in the public schools in New Brighton, Pa.

Fourth in Rank Among Cities.

Yesterday's Health Report—Sixteen cases of typhoid fever, two of scarlet fever and four of diphtheria were reported to the Pittsburgh bureau of health yesterday.

Site for School Purchased—The Mifflin township school board yesterday purchased from T. L. Hammett 150x180 feet in Arkansas avenue, Whittaker, for $4,500. The site will be used for a new $40,000 school building.

Humane Society Funds—At the meeting of the Western Pennsylvania Humane society yesterday $341 was reported as having been received during the week. The largest item was a contribution of $100 from George Westinghouse.

Offers to Give $10,000—It has been announced by Dr. J. E. Riggs of Wilkinsburg that one of his patients, a prominent resident of Pittsburgh, has offered to contribute $10,000 toward a fund to erect a permanent hospital in Wilkinsburg.

Get Father's Pension Money—Andrew G. and John C. Martin of No. 211 Camp avenue, Braddock, have been notified that the pension bureau has forwarded to them $828 pension money, to which they are entitled as sons of James Martin, a veteran of the civil war, who died 20 years ago.

Prisoner's Bite Poisonous—Police Officer John Dean was forced to report off duty yesterday because of a poisoned hand. It was badly bitten and chewed by John Kearney, who was arrested on Tuesday for disorderly conduct, and who was fined $10 and costs at the hearing yesterday morning.

Steers Cause Excitement—William Cray and an unknown Italian were badly injured and the windows in the office of Cray Bros., liverymen at Rodgers and Lincoln avenues, were smashed by two steers and a heifer which became frightened while being driven through Allegheny Tuesday night.

More Trouble for Wilkinsburg—The people of Wilkinsburg have found out that they have been using milk doctored with formaldehyde, a poison used for preserving it. The matter was reported to President Riggs of the board of health, who at once began an investigation. A number of prosecutions will likely follow.

To Abolish Trolley Express—The Pittsburgh Express Company, organized about four years ago to carry freight from the city to the surrounding towns by trolley, has announced that it will quit business on September 30. The reason given is that the discrimination of some boroughs has made the business unprofitable.

Phone People Steal a March—Residents in Ninth avenue, the exclusive residence district of Homestead, are angry with the Bell Telephone Company, which yesterday stole a march by erecting poles all along the street. Some time ago the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company was forced to place its poles in the alley in the rear.

Ewart Mine Still Burning—Despite the millions of gallons of water which have been poured into the old Ewart mine in Gazzams hill, lately operated by John Finney, there is no indication that the burning coal will soon be extinguished. Three firemen from No. 5 engine company have two lines of hose directed into the openings.

Driver Held for Embezzlement—Richard W. Moore of Dente alley was given a hearing yesterday before Alderman C. F. Anderson on two charges of embezzlement. Moore was a driver for the T. C. Jenkins Company, and also for P. Wuesthoff & Co., and the informations were made by those firms. He was held for court in each case.

Flagman's Wonderful Nerve—John Neiswarner, 22 years old, a flagman on the Pittsburgh & Western railroad, yesterday walked to a car after he had had his skull fractured by being struck by a train at Gibsonia. He was sent back to flag a train, and while waiting for it fell asleep with his head on the track. He is at the Allegheny General hospital. His home is in Connellsville.

Will Explore the Mound—The residents of Bridgeville and vicinity are interested in an old Indian mound within the village limits. Dr. William J. Holland of the Pittsburgh Carnegie museum visited Bridgeville this week and inspected the mound. It is estimated the cost of exploring it will be $600. Work on excavating will begin in the near future.

First Specific Charge—Michael Murray of Cornett street was locked up in No. 4 police station last night charged with selling liquor without a license, and selling on Sunday. Murray's place has been raided several times during the past year, and quantities of liquor have been found there each time, but this is the first information making a specific charge of illegal liquor selling against him.

Magistrate Didn't See the Joke—Donato Libetti, the Italian fruit dealer of No. 1049 Wheeler street, Homewood, who escaped rough treatment at the hands of a mob Tuesday night, because it was alleged he knocked his wife down with a chair, was fined $10 yesterday morning at No. 6 police station. At the hearing Libetti's wife insisted that the affair was only a joke her husband was playing on her.

Mistake Delayed Funeral—Through the alleged mistake of Dr. C. H. Hitzrot in making out a death certificate, the funeral of Harry Klein, the 2-year-old son of Max Klein of No. 2626 Frazier street, was delayed for over one hour yesterday morning. Deputy Coroner John P. Black, after investigating the death of the child, issued the necessary certificate. The child died from scalds received on Monday.

Fire Destroys a Homestead—The old homestead on the farm of Andrew J. Lee, in Plum township, burned on Wednesday. The house was occupied by James D. McAllister and family, and it was with considerable difficulty that Mrs. McAllister rescued her baby. A spark ignited her clothing and she was badly burned about the head and body. She is said to be in a serious condition. The loss to the building and furniture will be about $6,000.

Citizens Open Headquarters—The campaign of the Citizens party in Braddock was opened yesterday when headquarters were established at No. 727 Braddock avenue. The indications are that a hot fight will center around that place, which is to be the central town of the Eighth legislative district. Braddock has always been a strong Republican stronghold, but the fight this year, it is said, will be the fiercest in the county, outside of Pittsburgh and Allegheny.

Game Laws Made Plain—Edward Goebler and Theodore Bowman of Woods Run were each fined $10 by Alderman C. F. Anderson for exposing for sale game birds contrary to a state law. At the time they had their hearings, last Saturday, a decision was withheld, as the point was raised that the men were not guilty of a crime, since the birds were alive and the law was construed to pertain only to dead birds. The attorney for the game warden made the point clear and the men were fined.

The Unexpected Happened—At the Amity street, Homestead, crossing of the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad yesterday a Hungarian was standing, when he discovered trains coming in opposite directions. He became confused, and after getting from in front of one, was struck by the other. He was hurled a considerable distance and all who saw the accident thought he was killed. He lay for a few seconds on the ground, then jumped up, and after shaking his fist at the passing train, fled from the scene.

ATLANTIC CITY.

Purse Picked Up Floating Three Miles Out To Sea—Now Awaits an Owner.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—Capt. Charles Gale made a remarkable find today while cruising three miles off shore with a yachting party. Noticing a dark object floating on the water he steered near and picked it up. The article proved to be a large wallet which contained $80 in bills and several checks.

The captain retains the wallet in the expectation that the owner will appear and claim it and refuses to make public the names on the checks.

CHAUTAUQUA.

Dr. Steiner Gives Third of His Interesting Lectures on Jews.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—This is the weekly excursion day of the railroads, and many took advantage of the fine weather to visit Chautauqua before the close of the season.

In the evening Mrs. Bertha Kunter Baker, the most popular of all the readers who come to Chautauqua, gave a reading of the play, "If I Were King." The third of Dr. Edward A. Steiner's lectures on the Jewish world, "From Morocco to Chicago," dealt with the Jews of Northern Africa and Southeastern Europe and the Ghetto in Chicago. Dr. Steiner describes the condition of the European Jews as most miserable, the marvel being not that they are as bad as they are when they come to our country, but that they have any ideas of any kind, moral or otherwise.

A recent enactment of Roumania, aimed at the Jews, forbids any but native born to work at any trade or engage in any business. While theoretically the Jews have the right of citizenship, only about 300 have ever been naturalized. A teacher in the Russian Jewish schools gets $100 a year.

"These people have come to the number of over 1,000,000 to New York and Chicago. New York is the greatest Jewish city in the world, having a population of over 600,000. In New York they are beaten and spat upon, just as they were in the cities of the czar.

"Their hungry eyes must search again for another land, the land of their fathers, and in God's own time He will gather them to their ancient heritage. Until then these kinsmen of SS. Paul and Peter and the apostles must wait for a new interpretation of Christianity. Will we give it to them?"

BRIDGES AUTHORIZED.

Two Pittsburgh Engineers to Superintend Construction of Some of Them—State Pays Bill.

HARRISBURG, PA., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—Twenty-one county bridges, swept away by the flood of last winter and early spring, will be rebuilt by the state under the Focht bridge act of 1895. The board of public buildings, at a meeting today, adopted plans and specifications for these bridges and authorized their erection. Work will be begun this fall and it is expected it will require one year to complete all of them.

The proposed bridges will cost the commonwealth from $5,000 to $115,000, the latter amount being the cost of the bridge to be built at Tunkhannock. The total cost will exceed $500,000.

Emil Swenson of Pittsburgh is the engineer in charge of the erection of one bridge in Juniata county and two bridges in Lycoming county. Bridges will be erected in Forest, Clearfield and Jefferson counties, under the direction of H. Lauf of Pittsburgh. The Berks county bridge, authorized by the board, will have R. Bowman of Mahanoy City as supervising engineer. A. J. Whitney of Rome will be the supervising engineer for one of the Bradford bridges. Oscar E. Thompson of Phoenixville has been selected as supervising engineer for two bridges in Bradford county, two in Wyoming, five in Wayne, one each in Carbon, Luzerne, Sullivan and Lackawanna counties.

THE TECHNICAL SCHOOL SITE IS STILL TALKED OF

Time Is Drawing Near When Decision Must Be Made.

M'CONWAY SEES DIRECTOR

They Confer About the Schenley Park Site Proposed by Councilman D. F. Crawford — Councilmanic Committee and Trustees to Meet.

William McConway, a member of the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute, and one of the leading members of the plan and scope committee for the selection of a site for the proposed Carnegie school of technology, had a conference on the school site with Director J. Guy McCandless of the department of public works yesterday.

Both Mr. McConway and Director McCandless acknowledged that they had considered the proposition made some time ago by Common Councilman D. F. Crawford of the Fourteenth ward to purchase a plot of ground near the Steel gate entrance to Schenley park for a site.

Mr. McConway has just returned from a week's visit to his summer home in Connecticut. As the time for a conference between the councilmanic committee, appointed a few weeks ago, and the members of the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute is drawing near, Mr. McConway possibly made a few suggestions to Director McCandless regarding the site.

While he has not openly expressed himself as against the selection of the Schenley park site, Mr. McConway is known to favor the purchase of the 52-acre plot in the Bellefield district, which is now under option by the city.

Time for a Meeting Draws Near.

The exact date of the meeting referred to has not yet been fixed, but probably it will be held the second week in September.

It is believed that a majority of the members of the plan and scope committee favor the selection and purchase of the Bellefield site. They reason that this site is entirely acceptable to Mr. Carnegie, and that it should be secured before the present option expires. When asked about the proposed new site in Schenley park, Mr. McConway said:

"This proposition is not an entirely new one. It was suggested to the board of trustees over a year ago and received some consideration, but there was no definite action taken on it at that time and the matter was soon dropped.

"Personally I have not been over the ground and cannot give a good description of it, but from what I am informed I believe there are only about 12 acres in the proposed Schenley park site that are available. This ground, I understand, could be bought, but at what figure I do not know.

"I do not know that the new site has ever been presented to Mr. Carnegie, and I do not have the remotest idea what his views are on it. When we considered it, about a year ago, it was not mentioned to Mr. Carnegie, because at that time the selection of this site was not thought practicable.

The Position of Mr. Carnegie.

"Mr. Carnegie has said on more than one occasion that he is entirely favorable to the selection of the Bellefield plot, and that he is ready to go ahead with the building of the new school just as soon as the city acquires the land. What more of an expression could be desired than that? Mr. Carnegie has said that he will build the school in accordance with the ground furnished. If there is only an acre secured by the city Mr. Carnegie will build a school, but it will not come up to his original plans, and to get such a plot would not only be a disappointment to the great ironmaster, but to the residents of the city as well.

"The first question about the proposed Schenley park site is the means of transportation. How far is it from the street car line? Is it as easy and convenient to get to as the Bellefield site? This is something which has to be looked at when a site is selected."

Added Penalties for Freedom.

MANILA, Aug. 27.—Frederick Derr, proprietor, and Edward O'Brien, editor of Freedom, recently convicted of sedition, have been fined $1,000 without imprisonment. A. R. Dorr, manager, was fined $25. Dorr and O'Brien were each sentenced, August 25, to six months in Bilibid prison and were fined $1,000 for libeling Benito Legarda, a native member of the Philippine civil commission.

Lamble Is for the Wabash.

President John S. Lamble of select council said yesterday he had been asked to introduce into councils the franchise ordinances of the Wabash railroad, and that he would act for the railroad officials if they desired him, and if not he will support the ordinances anyhow.

OHIO PENSIONERS GET LION'S SHARE

LEAD ALL STATES IN MONEY RECEIVED LAST YEAR.

Pennsylvania and New York Are Second and Third—Only One Survivor of War of 1812, but Many Widows Yet Remain.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 27.—The annual report of the auditor for the interior department presents some interesting facts, showing where the bulk of the pension money is distributed. For instance, Ohio, which did not furnish the largest number of soldiers, receives more penson money than any other state. The Columbus agency disbursed $14,942,136 25, considerably more than the two agencies in Pennsylvania and the two agencies in New York.

The Pennsylvania agencies at Pittsburgh and Philadelphia disbursed last year only $13,690,175 54, and a portion of this went to the pensioners in West Virginia, New Jersey and Delaware. The two New York agencies at New York and Buffalo disbursed $12,405,310 96, and a portion of this went to pensioners in Connecticut.

Indiana is not a large state compared with the others, yet its pensioners received $10,265,758 22, while the Illinois pensioners received only $9,762,782 90.

The total disbursements for the year were $133,556,039 45.

Another interesting feature is that there is but one survivor of the war of 1812 who is drawing a pension. He lives in Western New York and drew $108 last year. But the widows of the war of 1812 veterans must be numerous, as they drew from the government during the year $183,540 13.

During the year Pension Agent Nesbitt at Pittsburgh disbursed $6,427,826 60, divided as follows: War of 1812, $4,212; Mexican war, $20,029 50; Indian wars, $576; under the general law, $2,650,377 41; under the act of 1890, $3,752,153 85.

The war with Spain resulted in the payment last year of $1,057,057 29 in pensions, but the auditor does not report one cent paid out at the Pittsburgh agency on this account, although the Philadelphia agency distributed $119,063 85.

German Steel Trust's Plan.

The feature of the iron and steel market at the moment is the import of material from Germany at prices considerably in advance of domestic figures. The additional price is paid because the German product is immediate delivery, while American furnaces can promise nothing this year, and by reason of the railroad congestion are in some doubt about next year.

On the heels of this situation come details of the German iron and steel combination, furnished by Consul Mason, that promises lively competition from that source even under ordinary conditions. The German "kartel," as the manufacturers' agreement is called, includes the payment of an export bounty equal to the difference between the German market quotation and the price at which an exported article is actually sold. As this bounty is to be paid by a private organization and not by the government, it does not involve the imposition of the Dingley act penalty, such as was invoked against Russian sugar.

It may be the Germans have but taken a leaf from the American "trust" book in this matter. At any rate, it is reasonable to suppose American exporters can meet the German combination with its own weapons if necessary. Just at present American manufacturers have little time to consider foreign markets, being overbusy supplying the demand at home. But it is a matter of the utmost concern to Great Britain that such a combination as that of the German manufacturers is preparing to enter the British and neutral markets on such a basis.

The Ohio Legislature.

Despite the special request of Gov. Nash that nothing but the municipal code bill should be considered at the special session of the Ohio legislature, members of that body have introduced several corporation bills. The effect will be to greatly prolong the session and increase the cost to the state. Without knowledge of Ohio institutions one might be surprised at this open disregard for the governor's wishes, but those who know how affairs are conducted in the Buckeye state will not deem it strange.

Primarily the fault lies with the state. Ohio legislators are elected for two years. Their legal salaries are hardly more than sufficient to pay hotel expenses at Columbus for one ordinary session. The governor has not the power to veto any bill. Years ago the corporations enjoying public privileges and seeking more took pity upon the poor legislators and undertook to make it worth while for them to stay in Columbus. The limitation to a biennial session has been consistently nullified by the holding of an "adjourned session" during the second winter of each term, at which the corporations and other vested interests are compelled to pay the bill.

It needs no analysis of this situation to arrive at the conclusion that Ohio legislatures are composed of rascals who get elected for the purpose of being bribed, and patriots who are willing to pay their own expenses while safeguarding public interests. It is not necessary to say here which class is in the majority in the present house and senate. That may become patent in later proceedings. But it is pertinent to say it is no surprise that the reckless element should consider any extra session as an additional opportunity for "graft."

If Gov. Nash had the veto power his desires might have been heeded. He would then be in a position to confine the final product of the session to the code bill imperatively demanded by public necessities of the cities. He ought to have the veto power, the state constitution ought to prohibit "adjourned sessions," and members of the legislature should be paid enough salary to cover expenses and reasonable remuneration for time devoted to one ordinary session during each two-year term.

Railroad Franchises.

It is understood ordinances authorizing the entrance of the Gould roads into the city will be presented to councils in September. President Lambie of select has publicly expressed a willingness to introduce the measures and has suggested the propriety of adopting a general ordinance covering proposed improvements of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio as well.

This is all right in a general way. Public sentiment favors prompt grants of whatever reasonable concessions may be necessary to the improvement of the shipping facilities of Pittsburgh, always provided that proper compensation is secured for the property taken and privileges enjoyed. Pittsburgh needs better transportation, everyone knows. But it must be remembered it is not indebted to the railroads for anything. They are seeking valuable traffic and ought to be as willing to pay for franchises here as in New York or elsewhere.

One rule applies to all railroads alike. The Baltimore & Ohio has made an offer for city property at Smithfield and Water streets that is ridiculously inadequate. That offer should not be considered, but if the company shows a willingness to pay what the property is worth, no time should be wasted in granting the concession. The Wabash has bought its way mainly over private property and is, no doubt, willing to pay at an equal rate for any public property occupied or affected. The Pennsylvania improvements on the South Side call for comparatively little compensation to the municipality. As to the project for an elevated road on the river fronts, The Gazette has already said the franchise should be granted upon payment of a sum commensurate with the extremely valuable privileges to be enjoyed. Pittsburgh is anxious to have better service, but is in no mood to give away what is worth thousands of dollars.

It Teaches Something.

There is a lesson to be learned in the midst of the thunders of the license plate captains and the shoutings on each side the imaginary line that separates the Pittsburgh people who live in Wilkinsburg from the Pittsburgh people who live in Pittsburgh. It is that brethren of one natural municipality should dwell together in unity in one corporate municipality instead of remaining apart and encouraging conditions that make it inconvenient and expensive for each other. The difference over license plate fees between Pittsburghers and Wilkinsburgers is the sort of difference that may arise at any time between the people of any of the municipal divisions of the Greater Pittsburgh. All such differences and misunderstandings could be averted and avoided and many improvements for the good of all could be brought about by the simple expedient of wiping out all municipal divisions and merging the whole territory and population in one greater city, for progress and prosperity. The three cities, forty-five boroughs and twenty-six townships, with a population approximating three quarters of a million, ought to be one instead of many. In union there is strength.

Trolley Dangers.

With the extension of the benefits of the trolley system into suburban territory by means of the single track connecting lines the old dangers of railroading when the steam cars were confined to one track have attached themselves to the trolley. So long as there is a complete absence of mistakes and nothing goes wrong on the track the long run trolley routes over which attempt is made to maintain a high rate of speed may be comparatively free from danger. But once someone forgets his orders or there is a slip in the working harmony of the road there is likely to be an accident and almost as surely a serious one such as that which occurred yesterday on the trolley line between Sharon and Youngstown, in which a number of people were seriously injured.

The suburban trolley is comparatively in the infancy of its usefulness, for there is no question but that the cheapness of construction and maintenance will eventually cause the system to be very generally adopted throughout the country, connecting centers of population not remotely separated. In the building of the long lines the single track with intervening side tracks is used in a majority of instances. This being so there will be constant need for improving and guarding the operation of the cars, or else accidents like that in the Youngstown and Sharon line will be of common occurrence.

Uncle Sam and Russia.

The superiority of American-made farm machinery and of other machinery made in the United States is such that the imposition of maximum tariffs on American imports into Russia has not operated as a check on the inflow. When the countervailing duty of the Dingley tariff act was imposed by the United States treasury on imports of Russian beet sugar it was freely predicted that the retaliation by Russia would work serious injury to exports from the United States. Here and there, however, were heard voices proclaiming that the superiority of the products of American manufactories would surmount the new barrier. That they have done so is indicated in the official returns from St. Petersburg, summarized thus for the Associated Press:

The official report on Russia's foreign trade for the first four months of 1902 shows the American importations to be virtually the same as in 1900, apparently indicating that Russian buyers have become fully convinced it is better to buy American machinery in spite of the discriminating duty against it. The comparative figures for 1900, 1901 and 1902 are respectively $8,980,000, $7,158,000 and $8,915,500. In the meantime German and British imports have fallen, their figures being $34,061,500, $32,219,500 and $30,297,000 and $15,064,000, $14,317,000 and $10,364,000. The whole import has continued falling, so that the share of America is relatively larger than in 1900.

While the United States stood alone in its attitude toward Russian sugar bounties, there was, however, a possibility that our exporters of machinery would lose ground in Russian markets, but since all Europe has adopted a course toward Russia's sugar exports similar to that of the United States, the dangers necessarily attending isolated action have been averted. As our position is therefore relatively improved, it would be wise to take advantage of the circumstances to foster a similar feeling and action on the part of the Russian government toward the United States and its products. The original difference between Russia and our own government was independent of the course of Europe, and the action of Europe in the Brussels conference was without reference to what the United States had done. We are therefore under no obligation to Europe and are in a position to take advantage of the situation to improve our own trade prospects. This we should do.

A Campaign Ball.

That is a novel campaign idea of Architect Huston, to roll a huge ball from Erie to Philadelphia. It promises to prove instructive as well. Mr. Huston's plan is to have the ball ornamented with a map of the world and some data concerning the achievements of the Republican party. No other party has achieved anything in this country since the Republican party was born, unless, indeed, we are to regard the events leading up to the civil war and the prostration of industry in 1893 as achievements.

The campaign ball will certainly exhibit ample reasons why Judge Pennypacker should be elected governor and why a full Republican delegation should be returned to congress this fall. The interests of the state and nation demand no less than that from the voters of Pennsylvania. President Roosevelt has begun a very important work that will have far-reaching influence upon the life of the republic, and it will not do for Pennsylvania to falter at the inception of the task.

Trust Regulation.

From the manner in which the Democratic papers ring the changes on the declaration that "the trusts are in partnership with the party in power," we begin to suspect that the Democrats long for power for the purpose of getting into partnership with the trusts. The Post yesterday had one of its attacks of hysteria on the trust subject, in which it expressed dissatisfaction with President Roosevelt's speeches, and particular displeasure with his recommendation that trusts, whether trusts in reality or merely great corporations of national scope, be subjected to the one sovereign power of the national government for purposes of regulation, instead of being permitted to escape unregulated among the many sovereignties that are hampered in their efforts to control by considerations of state comity. The Post complains that it will be a matter of long time and almost impossible to secure such an amendment, and to prove its cases instances the failure to make progress with the constitutional amendment that provides for the election of United States senators by the people. It is hardly necessary to point that the cases are not parallel. It must be apparent to even the Post that there are no such difficulties in the way of having the corporation question submitted as there are in the way of the senatorial proposition, in addition to which the demand for the one is really much greater than the demand for the other. As Mr. Bryan, the Post's recent apostle of sweetness and light, might put it, the corporation issue is "more paramount" than the senatorial issue.

In the same editorial the Post complains that anti-trust bills were unconsidered by the last congress. Does the Post know much about any of them, except their label? Is the fact that they remain to be acted on and thus added to legislation of doubtful utility a sufficient excuse for the ill-considered enactment that will give certain force to acts of congress on the subject? We think not, and we think that had they been passed the Post and other Democratic papers would be now denouncing them as ineffective and insincere. Fortunately such criticisms have no influence on the course of the president and his advisers, who are busily engaged testing the machinery of the laws to preserve the rights of the people, and in devising new and effective means of protection. It may take time to secure a constitutional amendment giving needed power to the national government, but will the Post say that for that reason it is not worth the effort?

Some of the moral philosophy of the country that is going to waste in an effort to settle the coal strike might be profitably switched off to the Newport gambling situation.

The fish that have escaped the angler's fly may now proceed to settle down and classify the new forms of profanity they may have heard during the season.

President Roosevelt's energetic strictures upon the hysterical man in civil life must have followed a reading of the Louisville Courier Journal.

There seems to be a woeful lack of the Spanish war inventiveness about the correspondents who are covering those mimic war operations.

The attitude of Messrs. Bryan and Watterson has doubtless reduced the number of "valued exchanges" on the Cleveland table by at least two.

It is definitely announced that the Pennsylvania Democratic rainbow chasing four will not become active until after September 15.

Russia takes the trouble to announce for the hundredth time that she is going to evacuate Manchuria. But, then, nobody believes it.

ORANGE IS QUICK TO DISCOVER HERO

Warm Reception Awaits Lookout Who First Sighted Pillsbury's Fleet.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Aug. 27.

When one is a hero worshiper by nature it is not hard to find a hero. The dashing Jack Tar, Daniel R. Staehle, who first sighted the hostile squadron of Commander Pillsbury from the crow's nest of the Kearsarge in the sham naval battle last Sunday, will have a gorgeous reception when he gets home next month. His father is a hatter in this city, but is a "commuter" with a home in Orange, N. J. It is at Orange that young Staehle will be received with red fire, gun firing, flags and other demonstrations of popular favor. It was not the young man's fault that the battle was not real, argue his friends. He "seed his duty an' he done it," and he would have done it equally well if the approaching squadron which he made out through the sea mist had been an enemy, actually trying to break through the coast defenses. His townspeople look upon him as a hero and he will have a hero's welcome. This shows what opportunities there are for a young man in all walks of life in these days. Staehle was doing his duty as well as he knew how. His vision was sharp, as is that of all sailors in the United States navy or they would not be there. When he caught sight of the enemy's ships in the distance he recognized them at once, and reported forthwith. The signal victory of Admiral Higginson over Commander Pillsbury was due to Staehle's vigilance, say his fellow citizens of Orange, and the young sailor will walk into his town with as much pomp as if he were Buffalo Bill, or any other established idol. It is reported that the young fellow was an actor before he became a sailor. If he has any stage aspirations still (and it is a theatrical tradition that once "rubbing against the tormentors" makes a person an actor forever) what a chance he will have to star in some marine play, with his eagle eyes discerning the approach of the enemy for his "big scene." Whatever he may do in the future, there is no doubt that young Staehle is a capital example of the clean cut, vigilant, plucky "Jacky," of whom Uncle Sam is proud from the bottom of his heart.

Frank Richards With "Show Girl."

Frank Richards, at one time manager of the Duquesne theater, and very well known in Pittsburgh a few years ago, is connected with "The Show Girl" this season. He has lately recovered from a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism, which confined him in a Boston hospital for two months. He will be in Pittsburgh this week, when his attraction plays in one of the theaters there.

Pleasant Words for Johnny Reynolds.

Here is the way one of the New York papers today does up a well-known Pittsburgher, referring to his approaching wedding: "John B. Reynolds is one of the best known young men in the dramatic world of today. A former president of the Pittsburgh Press club, and for many years dramatic editor of one of the daily papers in this city, he left journalism to try his fortune in theatricals. Last season he was interested with Wagenhals & Kemper in the tour of Mme. Modjeska and Louis James, and this year, in partnership with James Shesgreen, he is to star Thomas Ross in 'On the Quiet.' During the summer he managed the Duquesne garden at Pittsburgh."

Luxuries for the Cliff Dwellers.

If all the apartment houses of high class in New York are occupied this winter a very large proportion of the population will live in them. Miles and miles of palatial buildings of this character have been built above Madison square in the last year or two, and all of them are advertising for tenants just now. This is the time of year when people get settled in the city for winter galeties, and, judging by the high rentals asked for suites of rooms in the new edifices there will be an enormous sum of money expended in this way before summer comes again. You may pay as high as $2,000 a month for apartments if you like, or you may have your expenses in this line down to about $40. The average is $100. These apartments are unfurnished, but most of them have refrigerators, elaborate mantels of hardwood and plate glass, elevator service, servants and often private telephone service, and even a valet thrown in. Your New Yorker is a luxury loving chap and when he has money does not care what he pays for it, particularly in his home. The apartments referred to here are mostly for families. When it comes to a bachelor home there actually is no limit to the extravagance possible.

Six Times an Angel.

Marie Antoinette le Castri, 13 years old, who has been an angel in the festivities in honor of St. Ciro no fewer than six times in the last two years, is likely to fill that position three times again before October. That is the opinion of her many adherents, for Marie is graceful and pretty and, in the celebration in Elizabeth street lately, lent much beauty and dignity to her difficult part. If she is chosen again, Marie will be an angel on Monday next, on September 8, and on September 24, making in all, nine appearances in the role. Marie laughingly denies that she is soon to be married to Salvatore Cassella, who was her companion angel in the recent rites. It is considered a great honor to appear as an angel, for it is one of the chief ceremonies in the worship of the old world saint. The work of an angel is to float down from a building to one of the shrines by means of skillfully concealed ropes.

Emulator of Santos-Dumont.

It was announced today that a New Yorker will ascend in Santos-Dumont's airship some time next week. He is said to be a wealthy man whose interest in aerial navigation is purely scientific. The promoters of the Aero club are displeased over the lack of sympathy and encouragement which they have received at the hands of the public, owing to the sudden and unexplained desertion of Santos-Dumont, who was booked to ascend at Brighton Beach and make a trip up New York bay and around the Statue of Liberty. So the first trip will be made without definite announcement as to time. It is to be made principally to enable the new operator, who has never made an ascension, to become familiar with the machine. The trip will only be over the water close to the Brighton shore, and will be a safeguard as far as possible to protect the amateur aeronaut.

More Thought for Children.

The children's court room in the old Charities building at Eleventh street and Third avenue will be opened for business next Tuesday. It will be unique among the courts of the city in that it is to resemble as little as possible the conventional court room. The whole idea of the children's court is to remove the children as far as possible from the contaminating influences and surroundings of the ordinary police court, with its daily panorama of the dark side of a great city's life, and to further carry out the idea, the place where they are now to be arraigned is to be marked by the absence of the usual police court ordeals.

Vino Species of Knock-Out Drops.

Another American soldier is likely to die from the effects of "vino." This liquor, as its name signifies, is the wine commonly used in Spanish possessions, and has been bequeathed to Uncle Sam with other appurtenances in the Philippines. It has the effect of destroying the intellect of white men when drunk in inordinate quantities, and is responsible for the serious illness of several American soldiers. A poor fellow in the New York marine barracks, named Kelly, whose home is in Boston, attempted suicide this morning by trying to cut his throat with a broken whisky bottle. He fell into the drinking habit while at Cavite. He is a veteran of the China war, and has also served in the Philippines.

To Burn Money for His Health.

President-Colonel L. C. Wear of the Adams Express Company was one of the passengers on the American liner Philadelphia today. Like many another hard-working wealthy man, he has gone in search of health. He said, in answer to the questions of an interviewer, that he was not going to think of business while away, but, as soon as he had managed to buy a stock of health, he would come right back. When he does return with the goods, he will find plenty of other rich men here anxious to know where he found them on sale.

Two in Bed—and a Dog.

It has been solemnly decided in court here that a married man has no right to take his spitz dog to bed with him. It is well that there should be this definition of marital privileges, because the husband in the case preferred his dog in bed to his baby. Somehow, his wife did not like it, the more so as her husband failed to support her. The non-support complaint was the main item in the case, but the listeners in the court room were more interested in the dog feature. The upshot of it was that the husband was compelled to give bonds for future good behavior, and he and his wife must settle the dog question between them, with the court backing up the wife's objection.

Have Hope, But it Won't Burn.

Ten dollars a ton is still the scheduled price of anthracite coal in New York. There was a rumor that it would be $11 a ton before the end of the week, which would make it $15 a ton by the pailful or bushel. The hope that the strike will soon be settled is bearing up the poor housekeeper, and that hope is becoming stronger every day—on what grounds the future must show. An immense amount of soft coal is burned in and around New York, and the atmosphere is as thick as ever it was in the mill district of Pittsburgh in its sootiest days.

Babel Backed Off Street.

Mrs. Knowles, president of the Professional Woman's league, reckoned literally without her host when she advertised not long ago for natives of Germany, Philippines, Africa, France, Porto Rico, Norway, Spain, Cuba, Italy, China, Austria, Turkey, Scotland, Switzerland, Sweden, Iceland, Russia, Holland and Japan, to apply immediately to her at the rooms of the league, for they at once took their cues, and the league headquarters have been like the tower of Babel ever since. The league intends to give a grand entertainment in Madison Square garden in October, and one of its features will be "the street of all nations."

Croker Makes One Winning.

Edward F. Croker is again chief of the fire department. Fire Commissioner Sturgis "relieved" him last week, and there has been a merry war on ever since. Public sympathy seems to be with Croker, mainly because he is regarded as a very good fire chief. Justice Hall of the supreme court today issued a peremptory writ of mandamus, directing that Croker should be restored to duty immediately.

Hammerstein Boss Bouncer.

Oscar Hammerstein, who enjoys nothing so much as a fight, either physically or in the courts, appeared today as complainant against a policeman named Boyle, for alleged neglect of duty. Boyle was assigned to police duty at Hammerstein's roof garden last week, and refused to eject an actor who had created a disturbance, saying to Oscar: "I'm not a bouncer. Put him out yourself." Oscar soon did the job, with neatness and dispatch, and afterward entered a complaint against Boyle at police headquarters. Decision has been reserved in the case, but Hammerstein is satisfied that justice will be done, and he was as smiling as ever this evening.

Rahway Follower of Roscoe Conkling.

Mayor Holmes of Rahway, the home of many New York "commuters," believes in poker. When some one said to him yesterday that there was much poker-playing in town, he answered, somewhat pettishly: "Well, what of it? Don't they gamble in nearly all the homes in Rahway? I have been in many homes in Rahway where the parents were playing for stakes. They play poker everywhere, and I don't know of any law to prohibit private families and organizations from participating in a game whenever the members like. If anybody loses it is his fault."

A Royal Meeting.

From Life.

The kings manifested great cordiality as they met, the kaiser kissing Mr. Morgan on both cheeks, and Mr. Morgan letting him.

Mr. Morgan wore the uniform of a German admiral, and the kaiser the seersucker suit of a captain of industry.

At parting the kaiser ordered a salute of 50 guns to be fired by the fleet, while Mr. Morgan directed that all securities on the Berlin bourse to bulled one point.

EYE-OPENERS.

Jack—Well, she must be; no matter how many men she gets engaged to, there always seems to be room for one more.—Baltimore Herald.

Tess—I saw Mr. Ruff glance at my foot yesterday, and then make some remark to you. Was it complimentary?

Jess—I don't know. I asked him if he didn't think you had a pretty foot, and he said it "was immense."—Philadelphia Press.

An Eastern Salutation—"Ah!" said Biggs, as a prosperous looking man who had cordially saluted Diggs passed on. "That's the way I like to hear a man speak. He seemed sincerely glad to find you alive and well."

"Yes," replied Diggs. "He probably was. He's the president of the company my life's insured in."—Brooklyn Life.

Richard, having done his turn as Bosworth Field, was wildly applauded.

"How nobly he carried himself!" exclaimed Norfolk.

"No wonder," replied Catesby, with a grin, "he had a horseless carriage."—New York Sun.

MARLBOROUGH IS DUKE, NOT PRINCE

Story of German-Austrian Elevation Is Wholly Absurd.

By the MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

As certain German newspapers, notably the sensational Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, have commenced to circulate anew that foolish story to the effect that the emperors of Germany or of Austria, or both, are about to restore to the duke of Marlborough the principality of Mindelheim, conferred upon the first duke, and as much publicity is being given thereto in the American press in connection with the duchess of Marlborough's visit to this country, it may be just as well to explain that there is not one word of truth in the rumor, which is only one degree less ridiculous than the accompanying assertion that it would have the effect of placing the duke and duchess of Marlborough and their children among the mediatized or formerly reigning houses of Europe, entitled to mate on a footing of equality with royalty and even to exercise sovereign sway in the principality of Mindelheim.

In the first place, the present duke of Marlborough, in spite of all that is said to the contrary in the English peerages and works of reference, is neither prince of the holy Roman empire, nor yet prince of Mindelheim. It is perfectly true these titles were conferred by Emperor Leopold upon the first duke, who seven years prior to his death surrendered to the emperor the principality of Mindelheim, receiving in its stead the principality of Nellenburg, this exchange being made in 1715.

Line of Descent Broken.

German titles of this kind descend only through the male line. The duke, it may be remembered, died without leaving male issue, his eldest son having predeceased him, succumbing to smallpox at Cambridge. It was only by virtue of a special act of parliament that his English honors and estates passed to his eldest daughter, and at her death to the son of her younger sister, Charles Spencer. But no such provision either was or could be made for the inheritance of the first duke's titles and honors in Germany, which consequently became extinct then and there.

Under no circumstances can the present duke of Marlborough lay claim to the title of prince of the holy Roman empire, or that of prince of Mindelheim, the latter having, as stated above, been given up and exchanged for the title of prince of Nellenburg before the first duke's death.

Equally unwarranted is the present duke's assumption of a German princely crown in his armorial bearings, and even still more preposterous is the adoption by Lord Churchill, acting lord chamberlain of King Edward, of the title of prince of the holy Roman empire, on the ground that he is descended from a younger son of the third duke of Marlborough, who himself was the son of the first duke of Marlborough's younger daughter. If Lord Churchill is a prince of the holy Roman empire then there is no earthly reason why young Winston Churchill, M. P., the war correspondent, should not style himself prince, or why Mrs. George Cornwallis West should not have adorned her shapely hand with a princely coronet on the ground that her first husband, the late Lord Randolph Churchill, was a prince of the holy Roman empire.

Consuelo Cannot Be Princess.

If the present duke of Marlborough, his kinsman Lord Churchill, "Burke's Peerage," and other English standard works of reference about the English nobility, are right, then the duke does not need any action on the part of either the German emperor or the Austrian ruler, being already in possession of these honors. If, on the other hand, the duke of Marlborough is about to be invested with the title of prince, it is an admission that he has borne it until now illegally and without warrant. That the latter is the case is well known to every genealogist and student of heraldry in Europe.

Admitting this it may be well to point out that neither Emperor William nor Emperor Francis Joseph can invest the present duke of Marlborough with the title of prince of the holy Roman empire. The holy Roman empire ceased to exist at the beginning of the nineteenth century, and all the titles of prince of the holy Roman empire still in existence were created prior to that date. Emperor Francis Joseph could, if he wished, create the duke of Marlborough an Austrian prince, and Emperor William might invest the duke with the dignity of a Prussian prince. But that is all; and these dignities would in each instance be that of a mere noble and inferior to that of a duke, which W. K. Vanderbilt's son-in-law already possesses.

Emperor William has no power to create the duke a prince of the German empire. For his own title of German emperor is, to a great extent, honorary, since he holds it by virtue of his presidency of the confederation of sovereign states of Germany known as the German empire. It is only with the consent of all of the sovereigns of this confederation who are his allies and not his vassals that Emperor William could confer a title of German prince, and it is extremely doubtful whether the various sovereign members of the confederation could be induced to consent to grant such an honor upon the duke of Marlborough, who has done nothing whatsoever in the way of services rendered to the German empire to deserve it.

Could Not Make Bismarck Duke.

It may be remembered that the late Emperor William whose influence with his German allies was far greater than that of the present emperor, was unable to carry through a project of this kind in the case of the late Prince Bismarck. The latter had but one ambition in the way of honors. He was anxious to be created duke of Luxemburg, but as German duke, with rights of petty sovereignty. This would have enabled his transfer from the ranks of the mere nobility, comprised in part 3 of the Almanach de Gotha, to either the sovereign houses contained in part 1, or to the Mediatized, that is, formerly reigning families comprised in part 2. But the old emperor, having sounded the other sovereigns of the German empire, found that it was quite impracticable. Some did not wish to consent, while others took the ground they had not the power to agree to anything of the kind. The consequence was the matter was dropped and when later on the present kaiser on dismissing Bismarck invested him with the mere title of duke of Lauenburg the old chancellor not only declined to accept the honor, but even denounced its grant as an insult, seeing it was a barren Prussian title, invested with none of the prerogatives which would have rendered it acceptable.

If then it was found impossible to endow old Prince Bismarck, one of the greatest figures of the nineteenth century and the creator of the German empire, with the rank of a sovereign, or a mediatized prince or duke, it would be manifestly out of the question to do anything of the kind for the young duke of Marlborough, to whom Germany owes nothing.

Indeed the statement that the Austrian and German emperors have combined to grant "mediatized" rank to the duke and duchess of Marlborough is palpably absurd. For "mediatized" means that those to whom the qualification is applied belong to families that formerly held sovereign sway, which has been surrendered.

Approved by Business Men.

From the Indianapolis Journal.

The action of Secretary Shaw in forbidding clerks in the treasury department to gamble or bet on races and in reducing the rank and pay of two, who were addicted to poker playing, will meet with general approval by business men. No bank would knowingly tolerate such practices for a moment, and the United States treasury should be conducted on equally business-like principles.

PERSONALS.

"I have never seen so hot a fight in 50 years of experience in southern campaigns as that over the coming Alabama elections," said Gen. E. W. Rucker of Birmingham, Ala., at the Lincoln last evening. Gen. Rucker was in command of Rucker's brigade in Forest's cavalry during the civil war. He lost an arm, but is still vigorous and full of interest in political matters. Mrs. Rucker accompanies him on the present trip. He said last evening that they stopped off in Pittsburgh only for the day on their way to New York. "The new constitution which eliminates the negro vote has made Alabama a doubtful state," he continued. "There is now a registered vote of only about 185,000 in the state. Of this fully 70,000 is Populist and 25,000 Republican, the rest, of course, being Democratic, and so far the ruling voice in the state. The Populists and Republicans are very close together and at any time, by a combination and with the aid of disgruntled Democrats, may carry the state. Under the new constitution dishonest voting in a primary is as dangerous as horse-stealing, and Alabama undoubtedly has had an honest primary election this time, strange to say."

"I am now en route back to my native country, Japan, to start a new bank at Tokio, to be conducted on the principles and with the methods of the English and American banking institutions," said W. Watanahe, at the Hotel Duquesne last evening. Mr. Watanahe spent yesterday in this city, visiting the Homestead steel works and the Westinghouse electric plant. He left last evening for Chicago. "I spent six months in England," he said. "Then I spent two months in New York, and I shall visit Chicago, Denver and San Francisco to study banks before I sail for home."

Charles T. Schoen, inventor of the pressed steel car and founder of the Pressed Steel Car Company, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday. He will go to Butler today to look over the works of the new Standard Steel Car Company, which are nearing completion. There he will probably meet President John M. Hansen and other officials of the Standard company. Mr. Schoen plans to erect a great works adjoining the new car works for the manufacture of steel car wheels.

Substitutes for Coal.

From the Baltimore American.

Mr. Godfrey Guggies of Paca street, writes: "I have, after long labor, succeeded in inventing a perfect substitute for coal. The basis of my substitute is snow—the common, or garden variety of snow, which may be gathered in great profusion along our country roads during the late winter months. The snow is first subjected to a high pressure, and then thoroughly dried, after which certain chemicals are added to it. I have just succeeded in inventing it, and as soon as I get some of it to burn, I will let you hear from me."

F. F. Futhle, a well-known resident of Towson, is jubilant over the success of his effort to discover a substitute for coal. Mr. Futhle conducted many experiments, and at last discovered that the ordinary dining table, if sawed and split, would burn with a hot blaze. Mr. Futhle will extend his researches to the piano, as soon as Mrs. Futhle goes on another visit. Womanlike, she complains that he musses up the house with his experiments. However, all great inventors have suffered similar handicaps.

P. Pong of North avenue states: "I find, to my delight, that I can take the money that the coal dealer asks for a ton of coal, and by properly regulating the drafts, make it burn longer than the coal would. If you choose, you may give this suggestion to the public."

Mr. F. Rozen, who lives in Roland Park, says that he believes an empty furnace is the best substitute for coal. He says that it is a demonstrable fact that, with the ordinary suburban furnace, the burning of any material in it causes drafts that drive the cold air right into the house. He bases this conclusion on the fact that one day last winter when the house was too warm he went to the cellar to shut off the furnace, and found that the fire was out, and the cold air was going up the smoke flue.

BROWN REQUESTS MORE LIGHT AND GETS IT QUICK

The Recorder Fires More Financial Questions at Controller Larkin.

SPEEDY REPLY RETURNED

Larkin Is Under Impression That Recorder Has Lost All Run of City's Financial Affairs—Recorder Says He Must Confer With Attorney.

"Recorder J. O. Brown appears to have lost the run of the financial affairs of the city and is seeking all his information from this office. I have just sent him an answer to his communication of this morning, and I hope it will enlighten him on the questions he seeks to know about," said City Controller John B. Larkin last evening, as he handed out a copy of the letter he had sent to the recorder in reply to his.

When Recorder Brown received Controller Larkin's latest communication he glanced over it hastily and then cast it aside to take up some other business before him. He will give the statement a more thorough consideration before he sent the controller have another exchange of courtesies.

"I do not care to discuss Controller Larkin's reply to my letter, for I have not yet had time to consider it," said Recorder Brown. Continuing, he said: "I asked the controller several very pointed questions, and I suppose he has answered them fully. Owing to the absence from the city of City Attorney Thomas D. Carnahan, I have been unable to confer with him.

Brown Hints at Action by Councils.

"If the city is bound to have a deficit on or before November 15, as Controller Larkin states, then we must look up the law on the matter and see if it is possible to borrow money. No city can be run without money. When City Attorney Carnahan arrives home on Saturday I expect to have a conference with him on the subject.

"Neither the views of the controller nor myself on the borrowing matter, no matter how pronounced they may be one way or the other, have anything to do with settling the question. The law alone can do that, and the city attorney is the proper person to be consulted in such cases. If it is illegal for me as recorder to borrow money, then probably councils may be able, according to law, to do so."

The recorder sent the following letter to Controller Larkin yesterday morning:

Dear Sir—I beg leave to acknowledge your communication of August 22, asking for additional financial information as to the receipts and expenditures of the city government. Your tabulated statement is a valuable addition to your first letter. As I stated in my previous communication, there was a legal question of how these apparent deficiencies could be met; whether they could be bridged over by the city controller and the city recorder as the executive officers of the city, or whether it was a legislative function of councils would depend upon the final decision of the city attorney. As Mr. Carnahan is absent from the city, I cannot get his opinion for some days yet, and, in the interim, I would like to have the following additional information, to wit:

Six More Questions Asked.

1. What amount of revenues does the city collect from the delinquent tax office in the way of per cents as returned by the collector?

2. Do you advocate an immediate advertisement of the delinquent taxes for the year 1902?

3. Will you kindly furnish me with a list of so-called deficiencies for the years 1887 to and including 1901, the amount for each year, how the same was met and what rate per cent of interest, if any, was paid; also, in the so-called deficiencies, the amount of outstanding warrants and the amount of unexpended balances due to the various contractors, if any?

4. What should be the city's position with reference to unexpended balances due the various appropriations?

5. Under the contract with banks, which receive city money on deposit, the city pays not exceeding five (5) per cent on money advanced to lift warrants in case the city is short. What rate did the banks charge for money during 1901-02?

6. The city usually invested sinking fund money in the month of November. I understand there has been purchased this year a large amount for like purpose. How much, at what prices, and how much interest does the city receive on said investments?

With this information before me, I will be in position to make a complete presentation of case to the legal department, and, if necessary, a full and complete presentation of this matter to city councils.

Thanking you for your kind co-operation and the assistance in giving me the data from time to time, I am, etc.

Larkin Makes Prompt Reply.

Controller Larkin made this prompt reply to this communication:

Dear Sir:—Replying to your communication of date, I beg to say:

1—The delinquent tax office pays to the city five-fifths of its revenue, or 2 per cent per cent charged for collection. This is the effect during 1896, yielding to the city as follows: 1896, $2,123.70; 1897, $17,-; 1898, $18,882.24; 1899, $22,000.03; 1900, $20,-; 1901, $20,054.36; or a total of $[illegible]8.92.

2—I do not advocate any action relative to the collection of delinquent taxes of 1902. That office is now a department of this city in pursuance of act of assembly, and is under your jurisdiction. In any event, I would not compel the payment of taxes of current year until people have refused or neglected the discount right given them to pay in September the first installment then due.

3 and 4—To give you the net amount of outstanding warrants each year covering your inquiry would involve labor this office could not now take up. The deficiency, as you know, consists of the difference between appropriations by councils and the revenues, the latter remaining unpaid being met out of the sinking funds of succeeding years; the law formerly permitted warrants to be drawn to the extent of appropriations regardless of whether sufficient revenue or sinking fund would or would not meet them.

What Charter Framers Aimed At.

This office has not attempted to meet them, as it has been required to, as the city treasurer has honored all warrants issued by borrowing money from the depositories at various rates of interest. Last year the rate was 4 per cent.

It is known as the deficiency is the aggregate of years and has never been met, since when the millage was 17, and that it should be met and stopped, the framers of the present charter provided that warrants should not be drawn unless the cash to pay them was actually in the treasury.

5—The amount of unexpended balances due contractors in various years from 1887 to date cannot be inquired for, cannot be given, except as already reported to you. The new act requires appropriations to be charged with warrants as certified, did not go into effect during this year.

6—The city's position with reference to unexpended balances is a legal question which I must refer you to the city attorney.

7—Money borrowed from banks during 1901-02 at 4 per cent, as already stated.

8—The inquiry relating to investment of sinking funds should be answered by the chairman of the sinking fund commission, appointed by yourself in pursuance of an act of assembly which is, therefore, no longer under my charge.

BRAND NEW TORPEDO.

Philadelphian Makes Great Claims for Harbor Protector and Experts Will Examine It.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—F. B. Schiller of Philadelphia is eager for the navy department to make a trial of a new naval torpedo he has invented. He is understood to claim that the torpedo is unerring in its operation and may be put into action without the use of torpedo gun or tube. It is said to be designed for harbor defense or for use in the open.

Mr. Schiller has been informed that the experts of the ordnance bureau will be glad to inspect drawings, plans or models of his invention.

MISS EVA TAYLOR LIKES PITTSBURGH

GRAND'S NEW LEADING WOMAN TALKS INTERESTINGLY.

She Is Pleased With the Hustle She Finds Here and With the Outlook for the Season—Discussed Some Notable Revivals of This Year.

There is some difficulty attending an interview with an actress when she is immersed in the work of rehearsal, especially if the rehearsals are for a play in which she is to appear for the first time as a leading lady in a strange city. But when once found the object of the search was graciously willing to give the interviewer a few "impressions." All this search was in the sacred precincts "behind the scenes" at the Grand opera house, and the leading lady was Miss Eva Taylor, and it was to secure her first impressions of Pittsburgh that the visit was made.

Miss Taylor has never until now visited Pittsburgh. Her features have the angular delicacy of an etching by Helleu. Her eyes are large, dark, with brilliant tones in them. She has the tall, slender form that a woman needs to wear well the costumes of graceful comedies. Her voice is a delightful recitative.

"Now, I imagine that we are playing an old French game that is named 'La Sellette,'" she said.

"You tell me things about myself, and I reply as aptly as I may. I do not know Pittsburgh at all. I arrived here only last week, and I am a little bewildered. I have no impressions of the city that I can make clear to myself.

She Likes Pittsburgh.

"I have heard much of Manager Davis' stock company and the splendid environment with which he surrounds his players, and naturally I am keen in the hope that I shall fit in the picture. Indeed, I hope Pittsburgh will like me. I like it immensely, already. The business and go are inspiring. I find myself hustling along the street at a pace I never before dreamed I was capable of.

"Yes, I like the part of Honoria in 'Her Majesty.' No, I never saw Miss Grace George in the play. I am looking forward with great pleasure to some Shakespearean productions Mr. Huffman is going to make this season. I have played Rosalind, Juliet, Ophelia, Portia, Desdemona and Viola. It is difficult for me to say which is my favorite part, but I dare say, like the rest of my professional brethren, I prefer the strictly legitimate, and, by the way, have you noticed in the list of this year's attractions the marked leaning toward the classic plays? In glancing over the lists you will find that several of our actors are booked for Shakespearean revivals, which cannot but afford a source of satisfaction to all.

"Some of these notable revivals will be looked after by deservedly popular stars. For instance, despite the triumphs of 'If I Were King,' Mr. Sothern again announces a revival of 'Hamlet.' Another Hamlet is that promised by William Gillette.

A Notable Revival.

"Another legitimate revival which ought to be notable is 'The Tempest,' which Louis James and Frederick Warde are to give playgoers this year. Mauda Adams likewise turns to the bard of Avon for a good share of her season's stage material, as she is to play Rosalind in 'As You Like It.' And last but most important of all these big Shakespearean revivals will be the production of 'Julius Caesar' that will mark the triumph of Richard Mansfield's achievements up to date.

"Hence, while pessimists may cry down the prospects for the approaching season, optimists can see a glimmer of hope on the horizon and will doubtless be content to take the stage today at its best at this time as they have in the past."

Fog on the river yesterday morning delayed the various steamboats on the Monongahela river.

The boards have been placed on dam No. 8 on the Monongahela river and navigation has been improved.

The towboat Jim Wood is at the Elizabeth marine ways receiving some repairs. The boat will also get a new set of boilers.

It will take 10 feet of water at the foot of the locks at Louisville to float the Harry Brown, which is aground at Rockport, Ind.

Lock No. 9 on the Monongahela river will be closed to navigation shortly in order to make some necessary repairs to the lock walls.

W. G. Weigle of Roscoe was in Pittsburgh yesterday and states that his boatyard has all the work that can comfortably be taken care of.

The Alvin Sand Company has closed the deal for the purchase of the towboat Eliza from the Empire Coal Company of Bellaire. The price paid was $8,500.

Work on the reconstruction of dam No. 1 on the Kentucky river will begin this week. Maj. E. H. Ruffner of the engineers' corps, Cincinnati, is in charge of the work.

Mate James Shook of the towboat Oakland, owned by C. Jutte & Co., has been offered the position of mate of the big towboat Sprague, but has declined the coal combination's offer.

A new towboat for the Cape Girardeau Transportation Company is to be built at Jeffersonville. The firm of John Barrett & Sons of Cincinnati will also build five modern barges, with a capacity of 15,000 tons each, for this company.

The towboat Ed Roberts, of which Capt. Peter Boli is the commander, is at Brown's station receiving an overhauling. The vessel is getting new boilers, and when she is ready for the fall trade, will be one of the best towboats on the river.

Capt. Walter Carroll, when he returns this week from Atlantic City, will have some thrilling tales to tell about ocean life. The well-known mariner was out sailing a few days ago with a party of friends in a small boat and the ocean waves nearly swallowed them up. The boat lost her sails and rigging during a squall.

The wharf is covered with pipe to be taken to points up the Monongahela river. The new independent Morgantown packet line is hauling it and is exceedingly busy these days. The Elizabeth will have a big trip of passengers out on Saturday. Commodore Charles F. Foster is said to be building up a good passenger trade.

THE REBEL YELL BROUGHT TEARS AT CALIFORNIA

Veterans of Confederate and Union Armies in a Reunion.

CHEERED BY THOUSANDS

By ROBERT WRAY,
Staff Correspondent.

California, Pa., Aug. 27.—The rebel yell was heard for the first time in this peaceful valley today, and the answering war cry awakened the echoes on the surrounding hills. Blue and gray mingled, and the strains of "Dixie" and "Marching Through Georgia" filled the air with melody.

Booming cannon at daybreak awoke the inhabitants, announcing the annual reunion of the famous Ringgold cavalry and the coming of the daring McNeil Rangers.

Flags and bunting were in evidence everywhere. Long before the train bearing the "Johnnies" arrived the station was a surging mass of humanity, and when the train pulled in an hour late from Uniontown, the union war cry greeted the gallant Virginians.

As the "rebs" disembarked from the train they were surrounded by the veterans of the Ringgold cavalry, who clasped their hands, and in many cases fairly hugged them.

Marched Side by Side.

The march was taken up to the headquarters in Second street, a "Johnnie" and a union veteran marching side by side. After the visitors were registered they were taken to the Normal school, where breakfast was served. The meal disposed of, the line was again formed and escorted by post 168, A. G. R., and a number of civic organizations the veterans marched through town.

At the close of the parade the reunion exercises were held in the chapel of the Normal school. The chapel has a seating capacity of about 1,200, but before the exercises opened every seat and available space of standing room had been taken. On the stage were seated the McNeil Rangers, with Capt. McNeil in the center and Capt. Hart of the Ringgold cavalry on his left. The chairs of these two officers were covered with American flags, with crossed rifle above the flags. To the right and left of both officers there was a mingling of the blue and gray.

The exercises opened with patriotic airs by the band, after which a choir composed of the choirs of the different churches in California sang, "My Country 'Tis of Thee." "Dixie" was played by the band, and as the first strains of this oldtime song broke on the afternoon air, the entire audience jumped to their feet, with cheers, and hundreds of hats and handkerchiefs were waving. To add to the enthusiasm created by the melody, the rebel yell rose above all.

Many Were Sobbing.

Almost a similar scene took place when the national anthem was played, the "rebs" standing up in their chairs, waving their hats and yelling for the only flag of their united country. When the din had subsided the band played "Marching Through Georgia," but before half a dozen strains had been played the spectators were again wild with enthusiasm and the old-fashioned rebel yell again shook the rafters of the normal school.

"Play it again!" shouted the rangers, and as the first note of the inspiring song broke on the summer air 5,000 people were on their feet singing.

As the last note of the song died away Capt. Jesse McNeil arose and, turning to his old comrades in arms, called for the rebel yell. They arose as one man and, swinging their hats above their heads, started the echoes in the valley with their wild yells. As the battle yell of the "Johnnies" rang through the building sobs were heard here and there throughout the large audience. Handkerchiefs were hiding many moist eyes before the yell had ended.

The regular program was then carried through. In the evening a camp fire was held. Before the camp fire opened the business meeting of the Ringgold association was held.

At the close of the reunion Capt. Jesse McNeil was asked what he thought of the reception given to his old comrades. He said: "Our reception has been grand. I have not words to express my gratitude to my old enemies in arms, or to the good people of California, who have done so much to make us never forget our visit to their beautiful town. When my boys pulled into the station this morning my feelings almost unmanned me. I thank God we are all friends and neighbors again."

Lieut. Cunningham expressed the same sentiments.

Among the officers of the Ringgold cavalry who attended the reunion were Lieut. Col. A. J. Greenfield, McKees Rocks; Capt. J. B. Hart, Washington, D. C.; Capt. Frank Hasson, Washington, Pa.; Capt. C. J. McNulty, Washington, Pa.; Adjt. J. J. Isenber, Indiana county, Pa.; Captains J. B. Gibson and J. Y. Chessrown and Lieut. John Holland, Monongahela, and Capt. S. G. Krepps, Brownsville, Pa.

The officers of McNeil's rangers who attended the reunion were Capt. Jesse McNeil, Seymour, Ill.; Lieut. J. S. Welton, Petersburg, W. Va., and Lieut. John H. Cunningham, Harness, Ill.

At the camp fire tonight a large streamer with the legend "Welcome to the McNeil Rangers," which was painted by the Rev. C. L. Morrison, pastor of the Christian church, was presented to Capt. McNeil. It was the first decoration seen by the visiting "rebs" when they entered the town and when they were told that it had been painted by the Rev. Mr. Morrison, Capt. McNeil requested that it be given to him.

Policeman Is Shot by Burglar Near Oil City; Parkersburg Bank Receives Forged Check

OFFICER SHOT BY A BURGLAR

Policeman Wounded While Attempting to Make an Arrest.

THE VICTIM IS UNCONSCIOUS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

OIL CITY, PA., Aug. 27.—Wounded by two pistol shots, fired by a supposed burglar, Police Officer McKibbon of Siverly, a suburb, lies at the Oil City hospital in a semi-conscious condition, while his assailant is held at police headquarters here.

Early this morning the officer's suspicions were aroused by the actions of a stranger and he decided to accost him. When McKibbon asked him his business the unknown man raised a revolver and fired at the officer. One of the bullets tore away his jaw and the other lodged in his breast. With blood streaming from his wounds the officer threw the man to the ground.

Employes of a passing street car, seeing the men struggling, went to the assistance of the officer and secured his prisoner, after which McKibbon lapsed into unconsciousness. He was hurried to the hospital and the prisoner brought to police headquarters. When searched a complete set of burglar tools and a vial of nitroglycerine were found in his pockets. Officers are scouring the country for accomplices.

MUTES LOSE A FRIEND.

The Rev. Dr. Thomas Gallaudet Dies in New York of Heart Trouble at the Age of 81.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—(Special.)—After a long illness which had gradually bereft him of his strength, the Rev. Dr. Thomas Gallaudet, foremost friend of the deaf mutes in America, died today, probably of heart disease. He was 81 years of age.

Practically all of Dr. Gallaudet's life was devoted to aiding deaf mutes. His father in 1817 founded the first school for such unfortunates. The father, Dr. Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet, married one of his pupils and so their grown son grew up in the daily use of the sign language.

The Rev. Dr. Gallaudet was born in Hartford, Conn., in 1822. He was graduated from Trinity college, Hartford, in 1842. On July 15, 1845, he was married to Elizabeth R. Budd, a mute, thus following in the footsteps of his father, who also married a mute. In 1852 he founded St. Ann's church for deaf mutes.

PREACHER'S MISSING SON.

Meadville Boy Ran Away, but Somebody Gave Him Money—Timid Companion Returns.

MEADVILLE, PA., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—Information received today indicates that Kenneth Hayes, the missing son of the Rev. K. C. Hayes, left his home last Sunday of his own accord and is in Pittsburgh or Baltimore. Calvin Koessling, who disappeared at the same time, has returned home. He says he left Hayes in Pittsburgh yesterday morning. Hayes told him he was going to Baltimore and would not come home for two years. Koessling says Hayes coaxed him to go along.

Hayes had plenty of money, but he took none from his parents. The father has no idea where the boy got the money, but suspects that it was given to him by some person who persuaded him to run away.

Hayes is 13 years old, with fair complexion and light curly hair. He is very nervous and has a habit of drawing in his under lip. He has a gold filling in the upper tooth just to the left of the center of his mouth, and the companion tooth to the right of the center has been drilled, ready to fill. He wore a dark blue suit, knee pants, blue cap, black stockings, black necktie, negligee shirt, but no vest, and low-cut shoes with very heavy soles.

FORGED CHECKS FOR BIG SUMS

Parkersburg Bank Took the Paper, but Only for Collection.

PRESENTED BY A STRANGER

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Aug. 27.—A daring check forgery, the total amount involved being $13,000, has just come to light in this city. The names forged were those of three leading business men.

Yesterday a man having the appearance of a prosperous business man appeared at the Parkersburg National bank and presented for collection three checks, one for $3,500 drawn by T. S. Scanlon on the Huntington National bank, another signed by B. W. Foster, and drawn on the First National bank of this city for $4,500, and the third for $5,000 signed by J. W. Hambrick.

The man was a stranger to the bank people, but he was identified by one of the leading business men of Parkersburg and the checks were taken by the bank for collection. The checks were made payable to H. H. Wilson, which was the name given by the forger to the bank people. No such person is known to the bank officials of this city, or to any of the parties whose names were forged.

The checks were sent to the Huntington bank, where the men whose names were signed to them were communicated with, and they pronounced the checks forgeries. The Parkersburg bank and authorities were immediately communicated with and an effort will be made to apprehend the forger.

POLICEMAN RETALIATES.

Capt. Loar Is Charged at Uniontown With Resisting an Officer.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—The action of Capt. J. A. Loar of Mt. Pleasant in petitioning the town council to investigate the riot and assault on him and other soldiers of the Tenth regiment at their reunion here July 21 has caused a policeman to retaliate.

Officer "Jack" Doran, one of those charged with drunkenness in Loar's petition, went before Justice Miller and had a warrant issued for Loar, charging him with obstructing and resisting an officer. Loar was advised of the action, came here today and gave bail for court, waiving a hearing.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE!

The great popularity of Peruna as a catarrh remedy has tempted many people to imitate Peruna. A great many so-called catarrh remedies and catarrh tonics are to be found in many drug stores. These remedies can be procured by the druggist very much cheaper than Peruna. Peruna can only be obtained at a uniform price and no druggist can get it a cent cheaper.

Thus it is that druggists are tempted to substitute the cheap imitations of Peruna for Peruna. It is done every day without a doubt.

When a patient calls at a drug store to procure some Peruna and the druggist recommends something else that will be just as good, it may be that he does not always recognize the responsibility that he is taking upon himself. Such a substitute is always sure to result in failure.

The claim of Peruna to being the standard catarrh remedy of the world is based upon the following facts:

It has the endorsement of—

League Games Today.

Chicago at Exposition Park.

It only required one inning for the champions to put the bug on Al Buckenberger's Boston team at Exposition park yesterday afternoon. The fifth inning was the one needed, and in that turn up Clarke's crew brought four runs over the plate. That was enough to win, but just to show there were no hard feelings they accumulated three more and made the count for the afternoon 7 against 2.

The next time that Buck springs Mal Eason as his twirler he would do well to give timely notice, so that the game may be started earlier in the afternoon, so the spectators may arrange for late suppers. George Cuppy, in his palmiest days, never had much the best of Eason, who is as slow as an army mule. The Brookville lad must have time to wind and unwind himself like a synchronized clock and he has as many preliminary motions as a new lawyer. There is nothing that will hurry him, and his wearying delays serve to make a game both tiresome and uninteresting.

Fifth Inning Was Fatal.

Mal pitched good ball for the first four innings of the game, but after that it was all off, and runs came as fast as votes at a Democratic primary. The champions for three innings had a merry time of it chasing each other about the bases and the visitors evened up by abusing the umpire, who was blamed for their downfall. It was a case of where they had to blame somebody, and the umpire was the most convenient excuse to be found. This was bad, because Irwin was at his best yesterday, and made but few mistakes, even though he did have a number of close plays to pass judgment on.

Sammy Leever was the Pirates' shot-putter of the afternoon, and the schoolmaster had strength enough to outrival the celebrated Flanagan. Sam had his benders working nicely, and he kept shooting them over the plate to the consternation of the visitors. Only in one inning did they get more than one hit, and that was in the eighth, when two singles and a fumble by Conroy allowed them a run. Another run was made in the second, and resulted from a base on balls, a sacrifice and a single by Lush.

Harry Smith, who has been nursing an injured leg for the best part of the week, broke back into the game and celebrated his return in the fifth inning by smashing the ball to the right field fence for three bases. Harry scored the Pirates' first run when Clarke singled to left. Manager Fred at once stole second, went to third on Beaumont's infield single and scored on Leach's single to left. Beaumont, Tommy chased themselves in on Wagner's nice double to left.

Then Came More Runs.

In the sixth, after Smith had gone out, Leever pushed a single to center, and when Clarke smashed the ball to the right field fence, Sammy got mixed and wanted to run the other way, but he finally got straightened out and reached third. Clarke going to second. The schoolmaster could easily have scored on the hit, and he heard from the manager. Sam and Fred tallied on Wagner's second two-bagger to left.

In the seventh Conroy led off with a single, which Dexter broke down and a made a good try for the runner at first, but could not make it. Conroy got to second on Crollus' out at first and scored on Leever's single to middle. It looked like more scores in the eighth, when there were two singles and a wild throw by Carney, but sharp fielding by Boston prevented runs. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Honus Wagner was in tough luck in a base running way yesterday and twice was he caught between third and home. On each occasion Honus dodged up and down the line and kept the Boston players busy until the next man on the bases moved up as far as he could go. The spectators enjoyed Wagner's antics and applauded his clever display of dodging.

Frank Selee and his aggregation of Chicago cubs will be with us today. The cubs have been playing in and out ball lately, but they can be depended on to take a brace when they strike this city. The Chicago team has been the champion's hoodoo this season, winning more games from them than any other National league club, and the coming games are likely to be warm ones.

It leaked out yesterday that Claude Ritchey, the Pirates' reliable second baseman, is soon to be married. The license was issued at Franklin, Pa., on Tuesday evening, and the name of the fair one is Sophia A. Boyer, the daughter of a well-known oil refiner of Emlenton. The baseball lovers who have watched Ritchey's clever work on the diamond will join in wishing Little All Right all kinds of happiness.

Harry Smith was back in the game with a broken big toe and he limped painfully, but in the fifth inning when he drove the ball to right he forgot all about his sore foot and took to bases on the hit by foot running and a long slide. After reaching third Harry remembered his injury and for a moment there was an expression of pain on his face which suddenly disappeared when he got the chance to score the champions' first run.

There is nothing pleases Fred Clarke better than to get Pat Moran, the Boston catcher, going. Moran has a brogue that could be cut with a knife, and he has his full share of native Irish wit. Clarke kept after him yesterday until he got him going and for the time being the Pirate manager thoroughly enjoyed himself and forgot all about the game. Moran is a clever catcher at that.

Secretary Pulliam got back from Rochester, N. Y., yesterday morning and stated that Catcher Phelps, the new man purchased from the Rochester team, will join the Pirates when they pass through Albany on Sunday night. It was also given out that Pitcher Cushman, the Millville boy, has signed a Pittsburgh contract to play with the champions next season. This shows the club officers have a good opinion of Cushman's pitching ability.

Before Mal Eason attempts to pitch a ball he stands on the rubber, swings his arms like the pendulum of a clock, then winds himself up, jabs one leg into the air and lets the ball go. He is as slow as cold molasses, and has as many preliminary motions as a ward politician at a suggestion meeting. The crowd got to giving Neal the count yesterday, but even that did not cause him to hurry. The result was a long drawn out, wearisome contest.

In the eighth inning when Umpire Irwin had decided in favor of the Pirates on a close play, First Baseman Tenney broke loose and yelled out at Catcher Moran, "What are you doing? Trying to coach him the rules? Why he used to play ball back in the cornfields and he was a good one so they tell me." The umpire stood and took this abuse without a word of complaint. Had it been Joe Cantillion Mr. Tenney would have been chased off the grounds.

Several of the Boston players deserved to be benched and fined yesterday for their tactics in abusing the umpire. The chief offender was Dexter, who had no just complaint, as he was clearly out twice on close plays. It's well enough for players to protest when they have sufficient cause, but it's not right for them to blame their own blunders on the official of the game. The trouble with Irwin is he is too easy going and allows the players entirely too much latitude.

Jimmy Leever also kicked up in the sixth inning and caused a hearty laugh among the spectators. Sam was on first by reason of a single, and when Clarke drove the ball against the right field fence Sam started for third, but wrong way. The players' yells brought Sammy to his senses and he got as far as third, but should have been home. Clarke could only get second on a sure three-bagger, and when he was safely planted on the base he yelled, "What's the trouble Sam, you run like an old woman."

Umpire Joe Cantillion, who will pilot two all-star ball teams through California and to Hawaii this winter, was in the city last day and spent an hour in the Pirates' club house. Several of the champions, including Clarke and Wagner, had promised to accompany the tourists, but backed out at the last minute and Cantillion's mission was to talk them back into the trip, but he failed. Tenney will probably accept and go right for the tourists, although Chesbro may yet make up his mind to make the trip.

Deacon Jim McGuire, the ex-Brooklyn catcher, now with Detroit, who is alleged to be an American league scout, was a grandstand spectator at yesterday's game. The deacon was greeted by several of the players, but not by the club officials, who were aware of his presence. President Dreyfuse said he had no fear so far as his players were concerned, but Al Buckenberger kept a close watch on his men, whom the deacon has been persistently chasing for several days. McGuire denied being here on a player hunt, and said he just stopped off en route from Washington to Detroit.

AMERICAN IS STILL AFTER THE PIRATES

Clarke Griffith Was Here and Held a Conference With Some of Pittsburgh's Hold-Out Players.

The American league is becoming desperate in its efforts to secure players from the champion team. Ban Johnson and Charley Somers having been thwarted last week in their gum shoe efforts have adopted a different tact, and new agents are being sent here almost every day.

It leaked out last night that Clarke Griffith, manager of the Chicago team and boss player stealer for Ban Johnson, had quietly sneaked into this city on Tuesday night and spent the evening in the room of one of the hold-out players, and that during the evening he was visited by two or three of the Pittsburgh players, who have not yet signed contracts for next season. Griffith is said to have told these players that he wanted them for the new team which the American proposes to place in New York, and there was no limit to the salary to be paid them, which would be secured by placing the money in bank.

The Pirates who are known to have conferred with Griffith did not do any contract signing, but listened to the American agent's story and then told him they would let him know in a day or two. It is very significant that Griffith's visit was followed so closely by one from Deacon Jim McGuire, the old Brooklyn catcher, who is now with Detroit, and has been doing duty throughout the country as one of Ban Johnson's agents. McGuire arrived here yesterday and was a spectator at the ball game, and did not seek free admission, as ball players do, but paid for his ticket. The Pittsburgh officials know of the visits of Griffith and McGuire, but say they have nothing to fear.

Another baseball visitor yesterday was Manager Joe Kelley of the Cincinnati team, who stopped off here to consult with Jesse Tannehill about the services of his brother Lee for next season. Kelley, who has started out on a hunt after American league talent, left last night, but kept his destination a secret.

PHILLIES HAD LUCK.

SOMBRERO BREAKS A TRACK RECORD

GREEN B. MORRIS HORSE GOES FAST MILE AND A HALF.

Canadians Make a Great Killing in the Steeplechase With Sallust—Virgin Soil and Bright Girl Run a Dead Heat. Hans Wagner Wins.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Green B. Morris' 5-year-old Sombrero broke the mile and a half track record here this afternoon, going the distance in 2:31 4-5. The previous record was 2:35½. The son of Star Ruby and La Toquera was conceding from 6 to 36 pounds weight to his opponents. Despite this disadvantage, he won easily by a length from Baron Pepper, who came with a strong rush from the rear. Rice failed to make his run soon enough. Douro ran well for a mile and a quarter and then dropped out of it. Grey Friar scored a clever victory in the Albany handicap. He was favorite at 2 to 1 and after racing in front almost the whole journey, drew away in the last furlong, winning by a length and a half from Eugenia Burch, with Merry Acrobat close up.

Canadians Made a Keeling.

The Canadians made a killing in the steeplechase with Sallust, who was backed from 4 to 1 down to 8 to 5. He won as he pleased by eight lengths from Inkerman, Headland being a bad third. The two other starters, Galahad and Victor Fell and did not finish.

Virgin Soil and Bright Girl ran a dead heat in the maiden 2-year-old race, the purse being divided. Hans Wagner, quoted at 20 to 1, captured the closing event. He acted so badly on his way to the post that Wonderly asked to be relieved from riding him, but this was not allowed. He got off well, however, and was never headed. The track was fast, the weather warm and the attendance light. The summary:

First race, selling, 3-year-olds, 6 furlongs—Stevedore, 110, L. Smith, 5 to 1 and 8 to 5, won; Van Ness, 108, Redfern, 7 to 5 and 7 to 10, second; The Pride of Surrey, 105, O'Connor, 15 to 1 and 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:12. Parisina, Femesole, Drummond, Tribes Hill, Filfaform, The Talisman and Honolulu also ran.

Second race, handicap steeplechase, full course—Sallust, 166, Gallagher, 8 to 5 and 3 to 5, won; Inkerman, 132, Heider, 7 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; Headland, 141, Ray, 5 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 5:24. Galahad and Victor fell and did not finish.

Burns, 2 to 1 and even, won; Eugenia Burch, 118, Odom, 5 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; Merry Acrobat, 100, Wonderly, 5 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:12 3-5. Fourth race, handicap, for 3-year-olds and up, 1¼ miles—Sombrero, 122, T. Burns, 7 to 5 and 1 to 2, won; Baron Pepper, 107, Rice, 8 to 5 and 1 to 2, second; Cogswell, 98, Redfern, 12 to 1 and 3 to 1, third. Time, 2:31 4-5. Douro and Latson also ran.

MANY RECORDS BEING SMASHED AT PROVIDENCE

The Roger Williams $10,000 Stake Produces Greatest Race in Years.

FIVE HORSES HAVE A HEAT

The Stake Record Has Been Broken Four Times, Each Heat Winner Has Lowered His Mark and the Race Is Still Unfinished.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Providence, R. I., Aug. 27.—Sensations continue to develop at the grand circuit meeting at Narragansett park, and if the present record lasts Dan Patch will probably break the world's record next Friday. It was the Roger Williams $10,000 trotting stake today that smashed all precedent. It is still unfinished with five heat winners, and all have broken their records. Old-time horsemen say it is the grandest race they ever saw.

The first four heats all broke the stake record of 2:09½, and the slowest tied the record of the fastest horse in the race. About 10,000 people started to leave when darkness necessitated postponement until tomorrow. It was governor's day, and Gov. Kimball saw the races from a box in the grandstand. He was attended by his staff in uniform.

Blind Horse Has One Heat.

Scott Hudson's blind horse Rhythmic, 2:09¼, was picked to win the rich purse, but after reducing his record to 2:08¾, the brown stallion has only one heat in six. Dulce Cor, Roy Miller's brown mare, had won two heats and got a mark of 2:08½, the new stake record. Alice Carr won the first heat in 2:09¾, a new record for the mare. Rhythmic came third and then won the second heat in 2:08¾, his present record. The third heat went to Wentworth, who tied his mark of 2:09¼. Dulce Cor won the fourth heat in the best time, 2:08½. Then Nutbearer, the Hubinger gelding, took the fifth heat, reducing his record from 2:13½ to 2:10¾.

It was a killing race. Five heat winners started in the sixth heat, and the race was between Wentworth and Nutbearer, but both horses broke in the stretch and Dulce Cor won from third position. The race will be called at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The unfinished race from yesterday was decided when The King got the old heat and won first money. The 2:05 pace was fast, but Audobon Boy, 2:03¾, outclassed the field. He won in 2:04¼ and 2:04½, faster than the records of any of his competitors.

The Roman won the 2:18 trotting stake, reducing his record to 2:09½. Driver Benson was fined $100 for laying up the first heat. Sensational time was made in the 2:14 pacing class, when Bedworth, Jr., hitherto unknown, won two straight heats easily, both in 2:06½.

TENNIS HONORS STAY RIGHT HERE

LARNED DEFEATED DOHERTY, THE ENGLISH EXPERT.

The Match Was a Great One and the American Champion Well Defended His Title—Big Crowd Almost Went Wild Over the Result.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 27.—For the third time in eight years English aspirations for the highest American tennis honors in singles have been dashed when they seemed almost within reach of the persistent foreigners, for today William A. Larned of Summit, N. J., successfully defended his title as champion by defeating Reginald F. Doherty of England three sets to one. The scores were 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, 8-6.

A scorching sun was no insignificant factor in the result and at the end, Doherty, unused to such hot rays, almost collapsed. It was generally acknowledged that had the day been cool like those of last week, the battle would have been fought longer, harder, and perhaps with a different result. Larned, however, played the game of his life, for Doherty undoubtedly is the strongest player who ever came to America.

The defeat of the Englishman was not only a surprise, but a bitter disappointment to the Doherty brothers. They will not go home empty handed, however, for the pair are the American champions in doubles and next year they will return not only to defend this title, but for another chance at the more important single championship.

The result set nearly 4,000 loyal Americans almost frantic with joy, and the demonstration which followed the last play, when Doherty sent the ball into the net, will live for many years in the annals of the sport.

The Englishman was outplayed, probably for the first time in his life, at every point. Larned was stronger at the net, covered court far better, proved a sterling base line player and, when the strain came in the third and fourth sets, showed himself to be in fine condition.

THAT WADDELL STORY.

President Ebbetts Says He Did Not Offer Great Inducements.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—The stories in today's papers to the effect that President Charles Ebbetts of the Brooklyn baseball club made a handsome offer to "Rube" Waddell, the star pitcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, to jump that team and sign with the Brooklyn National league team, are emphatically denied by Mr. Ebbetts, who is stopping at a hotel here. President Ebbetts said that there was no truth whatever in the statement that he had made a proposition to Waddell, holding out as an inducement for the latter to jump the Athletics a cash offer of $1,000 and a salary of $500 a month for the balance of this season, with an additional $1,000 bonus for Waddell to sign a contract with Brooklyn next year at the same monthly salary.

President Ebbetts says that, like all baseball magnates, he is on the lookout for good players and will add them to his team whenever possible, in a legitimate way. He had made an offer to Waddell to sign with Brooklyn next season, but the offer was open and above board and did not involve the payment of any bonuses whatever.

"The Brooklyn team," said President Ebbetts, "is in need of pitchers at present, and, while I have made Waddell an offer to sign with Brooklyn next season, I held out no such inducements as the papers say I did. Waddell can accept my offer or not, as he chooses."

SMALL RACE WAR.

Warrants Issued for 27 Italians Who Refused to Work With Negroes and Assaulted Them.

Warrants were sworn out yesterday before Justice Walker of Wilkinsburg for the arrest of 27 Italians, the charge being rioting. The men are employed by Max Fadden, a contractor, who has charge of the construction of the pike between Wilkinsburg and Turtle Creek.

Previous to yesterday Italians exclusively were employed. Yesterday morning a number of negroes reported for duty. The Italians began to chatter ominously, and suddenly dropped their picks and shovels and made a rush for the negroes.

The negroes stood their ground for some time, but finally were driven from the field. Considerable blood was spilled. A number of lunch kettles were thrown during the fight and the ground was littered with macaroni, onions and garlic.

None on either side were dangerously injured, but the men will be arrested on the charge of rioting.

SAWYER BLOCK IN WOOD STREET HAS BEEN SOLD

HOUSES FOR KNOXVILLE

The Sawyer property at No. 441 Wood street, concerning which there have been several rumors of sales, has at last been sold, the price paid for it being close to $115,000. The Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company is understood to have made the deal, and does not deny it, but refuses to make public the buyer's name or any other particulars concerning the transaction. The property consists of a three-story brick business building, standing on a lot measuring 17½x80 feet, the premises being occupied at present by Paulson Brothers. The sale was consummated since the rumor of the transfer which was set on foot last week. At the same time it was reported that the lot next door, No. 439 Wood street, occupied by J. B. Kearcher, was also sold, but this seems to have been without foundation, although there is said to be a good prospect of its changing hands in the near future.

New Site for Dwellings.

It has just been learned that the Robinson property, below Fleming park, on the line of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, has been sold to the Pressed Steel Car Company for a price understood to be close to $1,000 an acre. The tract contains upward of 200 acres, so the sale amounts to over $200,000. The land was held in the names of Samuel and Charles Robinson and extends a distance of half a mile from the other side of Fleming park down to low water, averaging about 700 feet in width. It is rolling land, part of it being level and the remainder extending up the slope of the hills back from the river. It is said the object of the company in making the purchase was to obtain a location to which the houses occupied by employes now standing close to the mills could be removed, as the site upon which the houses now are is wanted for mill purposes, as the capacity of the plant is to be doubled, requiring the erection of new manufacturing buildings.

Will Build Fifty Houses.

The Knoxville Land and Improvement Company will erect 50 new houses in Knoxville, work to be put under way at once. They will be brick, with all modern improvements, contain 8 to 10 rooms each, and will stand on lots measuring 25x100 and 35x100 feet. The houses will front on Miller, Morris and Rochelle streets. They will be built to sell or rent, and will range in price from $4,000 to $6,000 each, representing a total investment of about $250,000. The same company has already 500 houses in the borough, all of which are occupied. It is the intention to start the erection of a number of smaller houses in the near future. All the dwellings stand on separate lots.

Five brick houses are to be erected in the Sewickley valley by the estate of John Way, Jr. The property on which they will stand lies between Sewickley and Edgeworth, and these houses will practically form a connecting link between the two places. The buildings will be thoroughly modern and will contain 10 rooms each and front on Quaker avenue and a new street to be opened through the property from Quaker avenue to the railroad.

John K. Skelley, a McKeesport merchant, has purchased through W. J. German the old Shaw homestead, known as "The Pines," in Versailles township, for $10,000. The tract comprises 42 lots. Mr. Skelley will reserve two acres for a summer home and put the rest on the market later.

HEIRS OF IRON MANUFACTURERS WANT WILL FOUND

Register Edwards Asked to Look Up Bequests Made Sixty Years Ago.

A LETTER FROM INDIANA

Clerks in the county register's office will go over the records of death and try to find, if possible, the wills of Victor and Boniferd Eckhart, said to have been pioneer iron and glass manufacturers of this city, in an attempt to discover whether or not any portions of their estates were left to relatives in Indiana.

On two different occasions Register Fred W. Edwards has received letters from points in the west asking that copies of these wills be mailed to the writers, who believe that a fortune was left to them and that the funds are accumulating in some institution or bank in this city. To settle this point to the satisfaction of these relatives the wills will be looked up and copies mailed.

Register Edwards says many letters of this kind are received at his office and on different occasions heirs who were remembered years ago have been found, although at the time efforts were made by the executors to discover them without success.

The letter received yesterday is penned in broken English and discloses that grandnephews were told by their grandmother that their granduncles, who were engaged in the rolling mill business and manufacture of glass in Pittsburgh, had promised to leave them some money in their wills. The letter, as written, reads:

Mariah Hill, S. 23, '02.

County Clerk:

Dear Sir—I wood like to find out about my Grandmother Brothers they lift in Pittsburg, Pa. We diden hert from them for good many years. If you Please will you help me to find out hows they made there will—

My Grandmother Justina Eckhart She allvays told to my Mother when her Brother is going to die then we have some money to commen to us they leat tim we herd from him is about 60 years ago.

If you Please lookst up his will and let us know if we have eny thing comen or not

Yours Truly

JOHN MAFFENBEIER

Mariah Hill Spencer Co Ind

As a good many Eckharts have died in the past 60 years the task laid out for Register Edwards and his office force is a considerable one, but will be accomplished in a few days and a reply sent to Maffenbeier. Chief Clerk McCullough said yesterday that if there was any money left to Indiana relatives by the will of the Eckharts it has probably been divided among other heirs or has gone to the residue of the estates many years ago.

If the executors did not take the proper legal course in declaring them dead upon advertisement and failure to locate them, bondsmen may be called upon to make good the bequests and interest, or suits may follow against the estates, possibly resulting in endless litigation, owing to the number of years that have elapsed.

TOOK OUT DEATH RECORD.

Copy of H. M. Bennett's Will to Be Filed in New York by Peter McNulty.

Peter McNulty, one of the executors of the estate of the late H. M. Bennett, the well-known theatrical man who left the bulk of his estate to Laura Biggar, yesterday in the register's office took out a record of the death of Bennett. For some time an exemplification of the will of Bennett has been in the hands of Register F. W. Edwards, but has never been filed.

Attorney A. V. D. Watterson was loaned this copy of the will yesterday and will take it to New York, where it will be filed in the matter of litigation over the estate. Mr. McNulty's action in taking out a record of death is simply a preliminary measure. A copy of the will will be filed here later.

GAVE WORTHLESS CHECKS

The marital history of the Rev. Matthew Smalley, once pastor of the Mt. Washington Presbyterian church, is shown in the report of the master, which was filed yesterday in the divorce proceedings brought by his wife, Ellen Smalley, now a teacher in the Moorehead subdistrict school. None of the witnesses seem to know Smalley's present whereabouts.

The respondent married Ellen McEwen at Oakdale, May 15, 1884. They went to Knoxville, Tenn., where they both taught in a Freedmen's mission school for two years. Later Smalley attended the theological seminary in Allegheny. Then he became pastor of the Mt. Washington Presbyterian church, returning to Oakdale in 1889. He had charge of a church there and was later pastor of the Knox Presbyterian church in New York city. The couple returned to Oakdale again and it is charged that on November 7, 1894, the respondent packed up his things and deserted his wife and children.

John R. McEwen, a brother of the libelant, swore that the only reason he knew why Smalley should leave Oakdale was that he was always short of money and had made out two worthless checks.

DENIES WIFE'S STORY.

L. E. Shoup Says He Did Not Promise Mrs. Shoup $9,000 to Marry Him.

Attorney J. D. Hern for L. E. Shoup yesterday filed an answer to the petition of his wife, Mrs. L. E. Shoup, for a rule upon her husband, requiring him to show cause why the satisfaction of a judgment should not be set aside. Mrs. Shoup alleged that upon her promise to marry Shoup agreed to give her $9,000; that he later gave her a judgment note for $18,000, which he, through fraud, later had satisfied on the record.

Shoup denies he agreed to pay his wife $9,000 in consideration of her marriage, or that he ill-treated her or coerced her into satisfying the judgment. He says that prior to their marriage his wife threatened to enter suit against him, and in order to save himself from such a suit he married her.

Shoup further says that previous to his marriage with his present wife he had been married to Mary C. Kern, a boy, now 12 years old, being the result of the union. He says that by an agreement between himself and his father-in-law, Dr. William Kern, the latter maintained the little child, and that he (Shoup) paid for such maintenance, but did not take any receipts. It is stated that after Dr. Kern died an effort was made to compel Shoup to repay the money. He declares that fearing suit would be entered against him he and his present wife agreed that he should give her a judgment note for $18,000, dated back, so as to make it appear that it was not given at the time it was made.

Shoup says that when his wife left him she took all of the furniture, some jewelry and a $1,000 piano.

Allege Violation of Agreement.

A bill in equity was filed in common pleas court No. 1 by the Pittsburgh Stove & Range Company against the Pennsylvania Stove Company, Lyman DeHaven, Addison C. DeHaven and John A. Roe. The bill states that the individual defendants were formerly in the stove business as DeHaven & Co., and that on September 8, 1899, they entered into a contract with plaintiff to transfer their business and not engage in it for a period of five years. The bill alleges that the defendants notwithstanding their agreement have established a plant at Ellwood City in violation of plaintiff's rights. The bill states that the Pennsylvania Stove Company was fraudulently organized by the individual defendants and asks the court to compel them to carry out their agreement.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Raffale Magorano, who is accused of killing William Mosby, colored, said to have been a burglar, was admitted to $2,500 bail.

In the United States district court the creditors of Charles W. Beese of Meadville asked that the petition in bankruptcy be withdrawn and the case dismissed. No reasons are given.

Thomas Ballantine, Sr., tax collector of Millvale borough, took an appeal from the audit of his account made May 28 last. He claims the auditors erred in finding against him in the sum of $287.

Mrs. Jennie Mazette and Joseph Mazette sued Sigmund Leuchner for $6,000 for alleged slander. Mrs. Mazette also sued the same defendant for $5,000 for alleged false arrest upon a charge of larceny.

The following executions were issued yesterday: Samuel P. Haller vs. L. E. Shoup, $93 25; the Homestead Extension Company vs. Michael H. Haley, administrator, and Fidelity Title and Trust Company, guardian, $336 44; A. H. Beatty vs. Louis Shaffer, $86 24.

The will of William Lynch of Creighton reads in part: "As I spent a considerable sum of money in the Scotch and otherwise of my sons, Leigh S. and Frank B., and as they are both much better able to make a living than my daughters, I give them nothing by this will. His wife is to have a one-third interest. The residue of the $6,200 estate goes to the daughters.

The will of James Bamford of Pittsburgh was filed and disposes of property valued at $11,000, of which $6,000 is in real estate. His daughters, Mary, Elizabeth and Ann Bamford, are appointed executors and are directed to sell the real estate or make other division with themselves and two other sisters, Jane and Magdalene. Mary is left the personal property after payment of the decedent's debts. Bamford directs the children to make any objections they have at once, and if they have none, each one is to enter the will under his

CARSPECKEN TO STUDY ABROAD FOR TWO YEARS

Young Allegheny Artist Will Leave for Europe Within a Month.

IN PARIS FOR SIX MONTHS

The Remainder of the Two Years Will Be Spent in Rome, Florence, Milan, Venice, Berlin, London, Madrid and Lisbon.

George Louis Carspecken, the young Allegheny artist, whose "Portrait of a Young Man" so strongly captivated the fancy and pocketbook of Andrew Carnegie, will leave in about a month for a two years' stay in Europe to engage in art studies. Mr. Carspecken has been hard at work all this summer at his home, No. 49 Superior avenue, Allegheny, and has completed several portraits, while others are nearing completion.

Those most competent to judge of the work of Mr. Carspecken say it shows a promise seen in the work of few other American artists of his age. The trip he is about to make to Europe is upon the advice of friends.

Mr. Carspecken will spend about six months in Paris. He may join some of the schools in that greatest of all art centers, but he thinks it more likely that his principal attention will be given to the various galleries and collections in that city. The rest of the two years of the stay will be spent in Rome, Florence, Milan, Venice, Berlin, Vienna, London, Madrid and Lisbon.

Mr. Carspecken lives with his father and mother in Superior avenue, Allegheny, and the drawing-room of the house has been turned into his studio during the time that he is at home. The greater part of the past two or three years has been spent in New York. He came back to Allegheny three months ago and has been here since. In addition to his portraits painted this summer he has found time for a little outdoor sketching, and a number of landscapes in the Chartiers valley have been reproduced.

Among the portraits this summer has seen developed beneath his brush are those of Mrs. George B. Hill and a little granddaughter on the same canvas. The canvas is now almost finished. Other portraits are those of Miss Isabella Rodgers of Pittsburgh, Prof. Raymond Gros of the East End and Giola Minetti, daughter of the well-known musician of this city, Carl Minetti. The portrait was started yesterday. The little girl died recently, and the painting is being made from photographs.

George Louis Carspecken is now about 21 years of age. He does not know his age surely within a year, for there is a family dispute as to whether July 27, 1883, or July 27, 1882, is his natal day. The "Portrait of a Young Man" is only in a general way of himself. It shows a far older person.

In addition to his painting he finds much pleasure in the violin and possesses a fine instrument, which is said to be fully 200 years old. It is supposed to be a Magiani.

His training in art was gained in this city and in New York. He first studied for a short while under H. S. Stevenson of Pittsburgh. Later he entered the Allegheny School of Art under the instruction of Prof. Martin Borgood. There he stayed until he was 18, when he joined the Art Students' league in New York and has been engaged in his studies there at various times since.

NEXT WEEK'S PLAYS.

All the Theaters Will Fall Into Line Next Week—Openings at Alvin and Grand Opera House.

Magician Kellar will open the season at the Alvin on Saturday evening of this week and will remain at that house all next week. The popular wonder worker has a number of new tricks and illusions this season and his always marvelous mystery entertainment was never better. The box office of the Alvin will be open today.

The single sale of seats for the opening week of the season at the Grand will begin tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at the box office of the theater in the new entrance formerly Dentlinger's confectionery was formerly. Great preparations are being made for the opening play, "Her Majesty," which will serve to introduce Miss Eva Taylor and the other new members, together with the favorites retained from last year's company. The action of "Her Majesty" passes in Nordenmark, an imaginary kingdom, hemmed in between two great powers. The scenes represent the throne room of the royal palace, the public square in the capital and the guard room at the citadel.

"The Road to Ruin," a new and sensationally fine melodrama, will be the offering at the Bijou theater next week beginning with matinee on Monday. The piece requires a whole carload of scenery and electrical effects. The production is well staged and well acted, and a good performance can be expected by the patrons of the popular Bijou. The new box office at the Penn avenue entrance to the theater has proven a boon.

Miss St. George Hussey, who created the Irish comedy role in the famous Swedish comedy "Ole Olsson," has been engaged to appear as the Widow Casey in Lincoln J. Carter's scenic surprise, "Alaska," which comes to the Empire theater next week. Mr. Carter has equipped the play with a thorough scenic accompaniment which promises to be the largest and best from the home of this noted amusement caterer.

The Topsey Turvy Burlesquers, which open at the Academy with a Labor Day matinee next week, are owned and managed by Jimmy Lowry of Allegheny. The show is entirely new this year and from what the eastern critics say of the show it is above the average. The company is headed by the three Pittsburgh boys, Keno, Welch and Melrose. Other funmakers are Sam Rice, Burt Furler and Fannie Lewis.

WOULD MURDER OFFICER.

Escaped Convict Writes That He Broke Prison to Kill a Deputy Sheriff.

BUTTE, MONT., Aug. 27.—With officers of the state penitentiary upon his trail, assisted by bloodhounds, convict Thomas O'Brien, who last Friday made a daring escape from the state prison, has sent a communication to the Miner, vowing the death of Deputy Sheriff Dave Morgan, whose alleged perjured testimony, the convict declares, sent him to prison and wrecked his home.

The writer dates his communication from a mountain in the surrounding hills. The communication is a literary freak and no question as to its authenticity, as the handwriting has been fully identified.

O'Brien declares his sole object in escaping from the prison is to kill Deputy Sheriff Morgan. O'Brien was sent up for robbery in 1901.

Society.

THE wedding of Miss Alice Duff Kitzmiller and John B. Reynolds will take place this afternoon at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Kitzmiller, in Woodstock and Braddock avenues, Hawkins station. The marriage will be quietly solemnized, the Rev. William J. Reid, D. D., of the First United Presbyterian church performing the ceremony. Only the relatives and a very few intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom will attend. There will be no attendants. Miss Kitzmiller, who is very popular socially among the young people of the East End, with whom she is associated, spends the greater part of every winter with her aunt, Mrs. John Daizell, in Washington, D. C. Mr. Reynolds, who at one time was identified with newspaper work in Pittsburgh, is now a member of a theatrical firm and the first three weeks of their married life Mr. Reynolds and his bride will spend in New York, where business incident to the opening of the theatrical season calls Mr. Reynolds. They will leave on the limited tonight.

Dickson-McKee.

Quietly and with no previous announcement of their wedding day, the marriage of Miss Lila J. Dickson and Edward H. W. McKee was solemnized yesterday afternoon. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dickson, in Murtland avenue, Homewood, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. William J. Reid, D. D., pastor of the First United Presbyterian church. None but the members of the two immediate families were present. Mr. and Mrs. McKee are now enjoying their wedding trip and will make a tour of the lake region before returning to Pittsburgh. They will live at No. 7021 Susquehanna street, where they will be at-home after September 18. The bride has been a teacher in the Colfax school, Twenty-second ward, for several years. Mr. McKee is connected with the Homestead steel works.

Gallagher-Brown.

At 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon Austin H. Brown and Miss Eleanor Campbell Gallagher were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gallagher, West Newton, Pa. The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, the Rev. George D. Crissman, Ph. D., in the presence of near relatives and friends of the bride and groom. Miss Blanche St. Clair of Indiana, Pa., played the wedding march. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ida J. Gallagher, while the best man was Charles Stewart of Arroyo, W. Va. The bride was gowned handsomely in white satin with duchess lace and the bridesmaid wore organdie and lace. The colors were pink and white. Guests were present from Scottdale, Greensburg, Pittsburgh, Indiana, Herminie and Arroyo, W. Va. After the wedding dinner the couple left on a tour through West Virginia. They will be at home after October 15 in Greensburg.

For Two Prospective Brides.

Mrs. Robert Hill of Sewickley entertained with a pretty little luncheon yesterday afternoon in honor of two prospective brides, Miss Helen Campney, whose wedding is to take place on Wednesday night next week, and Miss Laura Galley, who is to be married in the near future. Covers were laid for about fifteen. Mrs. Frank Patton will give a luncheon this afternoon in honor of Miss Campney.

Entertained Good Grub Club.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Blackley of Eleventh avenue, Homestead, last evening entertained the "Good Grub" club at their farm in Mifflin township with a corn roast, it being the sixth annual affair of the kind at which they have been hosts. The affair was on the lines of a southern festival.

Hazen-Pollock.

One of the leading society events of the season was the wedding of Edward Pollock, a prominent young business man of New Brighton, and Miss Clara Hazen, a daughter of ex-County Treasurer R. C. Hazen, which took place last evening at the Baptist church of New Brighton. After the wedding the young couple left on an extended eastern wedding trip.

Notes on Society.

Miss May McElroy and her brother, James McElroy of Bouquet street, Oakland, are in Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Reilley, the Misses Reilley and Master Gilbert Reilly, who went abroad early in June, have returned from an extended European trip.

Mrs. Elizabeth J. Foster gave a dinner last evening at her home in Simon boulevard, Point Breeze, in honor of her son, Harold Foster, who has reached his majority.

Mrs. Katherine Frauenheim with her daughters and sons, has returned to her home in Stanton avenue, East End, after spending the summer at Lake Placid, N. Y.

THE IMPERIAL MARCH.

Sousa's Tribute to King Edward Will Be Played at the Exposition.

Col. George Frederick Hinton, who was John Philip Sousa's envoy extraordinary to London and carried the illuminated copy of the "Imperial Edward" march as a special gift to King Edward, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday on his way to the Pacific coast, where the Sousa band is to play after the close of its engagement at the Pittsburgh exposition. Mr. Hinton said:

"When Mr. Sousa was presented to the king and queen last year he intimated it would give him extreme pleasure to write a composition in honor of his majesty. The king gave ready consent and the 'Imperial Edward' march is the outcome.

"The illuminated copy sent to the king was without doubt the most beautiful example of illustrated music ever produced in this country. The march was engrossed by hand on leaves of vellum which were fastened with royal purple ribbons. The title page and the dedication page were beautifully decorated in gold and colors and the notes of the composition were engrossed with exceeding care. The whole was inclosed in a gold-mounted morocco case bearing the title of the march in letters of gold an inch long.

"Owing to the illness of the king I was prevented from receiving a personal audience, so the march was finally presented to his majesty through Sir Dighton Probyn. The king, however, acknowledged receipt of the march, with personal thanks to the composer, and ordered that it be played by the principal bands in England. At the coronation of King Edward on August 9 the 'Imperial Edward' march was played by every band taking part."

This famous march is to be one of the features of the Sousa program at the opening of the exposition September 3.

Western Product of Good Quality, but Freight Rates Are Prohibitive. Rumor of Settlement Causes Rise in Colorado Fuel Stocks.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 27.—The interesting statement was made today by a manufacturer who has kept in close touch with the iron ore situation that four companies, namely, the United States Steel Corporation, Republic Iron and Steel Company, Jones & Laughlins, Ltd., and the Cambria Steel Company, control 92 per cent of the ore deposits of the Lake Superior region. The steel combine controls 80 per cent and the other three companies 12 per cent, leaving 8 per cent in the hands of other interests. The United States Steel Corporation has invested a considerable sum of money in hematite ore properties, and it now practically controls that class of ore, as well as the Mesaba deposits.

"The reason that the prospecting in the regions has been accompanied by such little success is because the ore is not there. It does not exist, and independent steel companies might as well admit that such is the case," said the steel manufacturer.

Iron and steel men are interested in the attempt to develop the ore deposits of the west, particularly in the state of Utah. Manufacturers believe that the ore in that section of country is of a good quality, but they say that it would be impossible to ship the ore to the iron districts of the east in competition with the Lake Superior ore, on account of the high cost of transportation. A steel official said that in order to make use of the ore in the west steel works would have to be erected in the vicinity of the mines.

Down to Waiting Game.

As a result of the developments of yesterday on the operators' side of the anthracite coal strike, Wall street realized for the first time today that the operators meant what they said about the impossibility of arbitrating, and that the intervention by either politicians or financiers was absolutely out of the question. It was noticeable also that the analysis of the situation by Abram S. Hewitt had been carefully and widely read, and that it had had the effect of justifying in many minds the position taken by the operators and that of Mr. Morgan.

There were indications that no immediate developments were expected and that the waiting game would have to be played for a considerably longer time. As President Bear of the Reading returned to his headquarters in Philadelphia, President Truesdale of the Lackawanna left on a tour of the road and President Olyphant remained out of the city. President Fowler of the Ontario & Western authorized the statement that there was nothing new in the situation.

Officials of the railroads concerned were still of the opinion that a very large number of miners were willing to go to work, but admitted that there were no positive evidences of a break in the ranks of the strikers and that until something of the kind appeared the operators would probably not resume operations on account of their desire to avoid bloodshed. It was said by a well-informed railroad official that the operators were justified in not forcing the issue, despite the public clamor against high prices, for there was still time enough to relieve the market very materially before winter consumption began.

Rumor That Gates Wins.

The comparative strength of Colorado Fuel & Iron stock was accompanied by a rumor that a settlement of the fight was a question of the immediate future, and that the president of the company would be a selection of J. W. Gates and his followers. The Gates as well as the Osgood faction reiterated their denial of yesterday, which in substance was that a settlement was as far off as ever. Chairman Osgood seems determined to hold control of the Colorado company as long as the laws of Colorado allow him to do so. When Mr. Osgood was asked whether he had sold any of his Colorado Fuel & Iron stock during the recent slump he said:

"That is rather a pointed question. The number of shares dealt in during the past week or so equals the entire capital stock of the company. These heavy transactions make it impossible to ascertain which party has control of the stock."

Schwab in Another Deal.

It is now a foregone conclusion that the malleable foundry combination, now forming, will be in the same hands that control the International Nickel Company, Allis-Chalmers Company, American Steel Foundries Company, Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company and one or two other concerns. Interests identified with the United States Steel Corporation are the dominating influence in the forementioned organizations, but the combine as a corporation is in no way interested in it. It has been the policy of the United States Steel Corporation since it began business to closely associate itself with its largest patrons. This has been accomplished through its officers and directors, many of whom are on the directorates of practically all the prominent iron and steel companies that have been organized within the last 18 months. Besides the companies mentioned, the steel corporation will secure representation on the boards of the United States Shipbuilding Company and the United States Realty & Construction Company, which are among the largest consumers of steel plate and structural steel.

More Contraction in Cash.

Indications are that the coming statement of the Associated Banks will show a contraction in cash, in their operations with the sub-treasury since Friday they show a loss of nearly $3,700,000, not taking into consideration the $200,000 that was deposited in the sub-treasury today for telegraphic transfer to Chicago. It is due to these transfers that the banks have shown such a heavy cash loss.

Notwithstanding the prospects of a poor bank statement money rates continue comparatively easy. The Bank of British North America is notified of the arrival on the Pacific Coast of domestic gold valued at $190,000 consigned to the bank.

Nixon in New Company.

The Marsden Fireproofing and Construction Company was incorporated in the state of New Jersey today, with a capital stock of $2,500,000, divided into $750,000 preferred and $1,750,000 common. Lewis Nixon, one of the organizers and a large stockholder of the United States Shipbuilding Company, is interested in the enterprise, and it is said that the shipping combine will be the largest patron of the new enterprise. A number of Pennsylvania capitalists are also large holders of the stock of the fireproofing company.

From what could be learned today the concern is already operating a plant in Philadelphia, the capacity of which will be largely increased. The statement is made that the United States Realty and Construction Company will use a large percentage of the products of the new fireproofing company.

Buying Foreign Pig.

It was reported today that the United States Steel Corporation was negotiating for a large amount of foreign pig iron, and that the prospects were that the deal would go through. No confirmation of this report could be obtained at the offices of the corporation, although manufacturers, recalling the difficulty experienced by the corporation in securing iron from outside sources at a reasonable price, were inclined to believe that the story had some foundation.

The Reading Stocks Influenced the Wall Street Market Yesterday

READING STOCK ROSE AND FELL IN WALL STREET

CHILL FOR SPECULATORS

Sudden Tumble in Prices After a Sharp Rise Caused Apprehension That the Leading Operations Were Not Based on the Best Information

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 27.—Today's early strong market was a repetition of yesterday's ,but on a smaller scale. The resemblance extended to the reactionary tendency caused by the heavy realizing in progress under cover of the sustaining strength of a few stocks, but it was not until the announcement of the reduction of the dividend on Reading first preferred that the weakness of the whole market became acute, and prices broke all around to well below last night.

There has been an impression for many weeks that the Reading dividend would be reduced in order to extend the voting trust, which under the terms of the trust would be dissolved by the payment of one year's full dividend on the first preferred stock. The announcement last week that the Southern railway voting trust had been requested by stockholders to defer the dissolution of the trust by the postponement of the dividend on the preferred stock was a strong corroboration of the expectation of similar action in the case of Reading.

It is improbable, therefore, that the mere fact of the reduction of the dividend would have shocked the stock market, had it not been for the determined way in which the Reading stocks were advanced this morning on the purchase of enormous blocks of stock.

Acting Without Information.

The sudden tumble in those stocks caused by the announcement of the dividend reduction gave rise to a chilling apprehension that the bold speculators who are leading the operations for advancing prices are acting without the best information in all cases and may be putting up prices simply by force of abundant funds and without substantial grounds for the higher range of values.

The dimensions of the selling to take profits which was going on yesterday and today was an additional factor in arousing uneasiness as to the solidity of the demand which has made the higher range for prices.

The favorites of yesterday and day before pretty generally suffered from realizing even while the Readings, Illinois Central and Colorado Fuel were advancing most buoyantly.

Additional heavy transfers of currency to the west was a contributing factor to unsettling confidence. The deposits of currency at the sub-treasury today for transfer amounted to $640,000, or which $500,000 was for Chicago, $100,000 for Cincinnati and $40,000 for New Orleans.

Without counting this movement the sub-treasury has taken from the banks up to yesterday $3,652,000, which must figure in Saturday's bank statement, and the sub-treasury today had a small credit balance at the clearing house. The treasury statement from Washington today showed a surplus in the revenue for the day of $1,239,427, thus bringing the deficit since the beginning of the fiscal year to below $5,000,000.

Doubts About Money Market.

Doubts are felt in Wall street as to the extent of the measures for relief of the money market which the secretary of the treasury will be willing to take.

Another disturbing influence was the report of a decrease in net income of the Atchison for July of $345,511, which was the more effective on account of yesterday's heavy speculation in that stock. The unfavorable character of the weather bureau's weekly crop bulletin, especially in regard to cotton, was a disturbing influence.

All unfavorable influences were disregarded in the early attempts to put up Reading stocks on the ground that the end of the coal strike was near. The movement in Illinois Central was unexplained; that in Colorado Fuel seemed to be due to intimations that the parties to the dispute for control were in a conciliatory attitude, which was followed by the giving out of a statement showing a renewed phase of the contest.

United States Express, General Electric, and Sloss Sheffield Steel made conspicuous advances. The market closed irregular and slightly above the lowest.

Speculative bond issues yielded in sympathy with stocks. Total sales, par value, $2,545,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales for the day were 994,300 shares.

Reduction in dividends in Reading first preferred caused the market to break after some sharp advances in the opening sales.

There was chilling apprehension that bold speculators were acting without the best information.

Heavy transfers of currency to the west unsettled confidence.

General Electric made advances.

Talked About in Wall Street

(By Leased Wire to The Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The Herald this (Thursday) morning says:

There was but little change in the course of events in the stock market yesterday. The course of speculative sentiment ran very much as it did on Tuesday. There was a strong outburst of trading at the opening, very similar to that which occurred in Tuesday's market, with Atchison as the leader, only the Reading shares were selected as the favorites yesterday. After the first two hours the market contracted and trading lagged. In the afternoon a reaction set in, caused by the news that a dividend on the Reading first preferred stock of 1 per cent had been declared, thus continuing the voting trust, which would have expired had the payment of a full dividend of 2 per cent been ordered.

Despite the continued realizations made under cover of the heavy transactions and sustained strength of leading favorites the market held fairly well until the announcement was made of the decision of the Reading directors. That it was a disappointment to the speculative element was easily seen in the selling movement which set in as soon as the news was generally known.

Money began to play an important part in the calculations of the shrewder ones yesterday. There was a perceptible strengthening in call funds, although exchange did not change either way. The constant absorption of funds by the subtreasury, which amounted to $3,652,000 for the week, attracted no little attention, and its influence on the bank statement was widely discussed.

WABASH IN GREENE.

What the Proposals to the People of That County Are Said to Be

The proposition the Wabash interests are to make to the people of Waynesburg and Greene county for the construction of the new line into that coal and coke region is said to consist of the purchase of $400,000 of the stock of the new company by the county, the granting of rights of way by the farmers and franchises in the town of Waynesburg and the assurance that the merchants of Waynesburg will use the Wabash line for their freight business.

This is the proposition as known to Attorney Frank J. Fonner of Waynesburg, who spent last night at the Seventh Avenue hotel. He says there is a general disposition in Greene county to meet the Wabash half way in its plan for entering the county, for the lack of railroad facilities has been the main drawback to the development of valuable mining properties.

Premiums Are Being Paid for Imported Iron

FOREIGN IRON AND STEEL FOR THE IRON CITY

Low Phosphorus and Bessemer Iron and Steel Billets from Germany.

PUT DOWN AT PREMIUMS

Shortage of Coke Continues to Harass Furnace Operations—Easier Prices on Several Heavier Lines of Production.

Pittsburgh consumers of iron and steel are receiving large quantities from abroad. Most of this importation is from Germany. The materials, either a low phosphorus iron or Bessemer and German steel, are being sold here at prices well above the domestic figures. It is because the foreign material can be put down here by the importers in a fortnight or a month at the farthest that the higher prices obtain.

A month ago foreign iron and steel were offered here at prices under those on the domestic product. At that time domestic billets were hard to get at $35 a ton. Now, while transactions are few, the price on forward delivery for Bessemer billets has been lowered to $31 a ton at the mills. For large contract business, with delivery in the last half of this year and running through a period of next year, the price is $21 50 a ton at the Valley furnaces.

Foreign Iron Brings Premium.

The foreign iron is now being sold here at from $23 to $24 a ton. The foreign steel is put down at Baltimore at $31 75, and with the freight added, $2 40, the price here is thus sprung to $34 15. This imported iron and steel being available as soon as the distance from seaboard is covered, it draws the premium over the domestic product for forward delivery. Domestic consumers are overcoming difficulty in working the materials from abroad.

The domestic producers are aiming to keep prices of raw materials within bounds, so as to prevent a condition which might force independent finishing mills out of business. If such a condition were to be invited and should come it would result in a slump which would again upset the entire iron and steel market.

While with all furnaces and mills supplied with their necessary deliveries of raw materials, unnatural price conditions which might upset the entire market could be held in check, the Valley furnace interests are still suffering from the failure of the railroads to get to them their necessary supply of coke. Continuance of this condition threatens the equilibrium of the entire situation.

No Cars for Coke.

Furnacemen are clamoring for their coke supply and the coke producers put them off with the declaration that they cannot get the necessary cars. They say they have stocks of coke but no cars in which to ship it. The furnacemen know that their supplies of cars coming through the congested yards of the Pittsburgh district are an important element, but they assert that a heavy shipment of coke east to supply the abandoned markets of the anthracite coal producers is a more favorable factor. With the coke and the bituminous coal that is going east the supply of gondolas for the delivery of coke to the central west furnaces is curtailed.

In the aggregate the merchant furnaces of the Valleys are short over one-third of their supply of coke. A representative of one of the leading corporations who has made a careful investigation of the matter says the supply of cars at the Connellsville and near ovens is only short about 20 per cent, and that the rest of the coke shortage at the furnaces of the valleys contiguous to Pittsburgh can only be attributed to an increasing movement of coke east.

Much Coke in the East.

There is an unusual amount of coke laying on the sidings of the eastern railroads. There is no anthracite coal there.

The merchant furnacemen of the valleys have contracts whereby their coke should come to them at a price of $2 25 at the Valley ovens, while in some cases the price is a little less and in some a little more. Specifications on these contracts not being met, partly through the fault of the railroads and partly because of the demand for coke east by reason of the anthracite strike and the West Virginia suspension of mining operations.

Brokers are figuring on clearing a tidy penny from this condition. Within the past few days a large Pittsburgh consumer of coke was asked if he could use from 1,000 to 6,000 tons at $5 a ton at the ovens. The prospective buyer had coke contracted for at less than half this price, but he never knew how much an immediate shipment was needed and figured that he could secure it at the fancy price. Little of the coke that is going east sells at less than $4 a ton.

All Stacks Running Short.

The furnaces of the Shenango and Mahoning valleys are all running short. In the week past practically every one of the Valley furnaces have been off from 3 to 36 hours, and nearly as many stand suspended now as a week ago. Others are "jogging along," and may have to be banked at any time. Of these there are four of the National Steel Company in the Youngstown district. There are

Local Stock Market Was Fairly Active, but Prices Were Irregular

FOUR BANKS SCORED NEW HIGH MARKS

The Net Gains for the Day Ranged from $1 to $12 a Share.

WINDOW GLASS FIRMER

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was again fairly active, but prices were somewhat irregular, being decidedly strong in some issues and quite weak in others. The feature of the day was pre-eminently in the banking group, four members of which made new high price records ranging from $1 to $12 per share. Of these the most sensational was in Colonial Trust, which opened at $410, and, after selling two shares at $400, jumped to $412, a gain of $12 for the day, closing finally very strong and in excellent demand at $412 50 per share bid. By some the advance on this stock is attributed to reports of enormous deposits and early prospects of still greater ones. There are quiet rumors that the company is in some deal looking toward the absorption of one or more institutions. These rumors, however, were given no confirmation of an official nature. The Second National bank of Pittsburgh scored the next biggest advance by jumping $9 to $875, that price being paid for five shares, and bid regular afterwards. Diamond National bank sold at $426 50, which was a gain of $1 50 and State bank was up $1 to $66, all closing firm and in moderate demand. Federal National bank was quite active, but steady and unchanged at $129. In the miscellaneous group the greatest activity was in American Window Glass common, which sold 1,245 shares and closed strong and ¾ higher at 63½. The preferred did not sell. Westinghouse Electric seconds were also quite active and decidedly firm until the close, when the offering price dropped ½ to 112½. The stock sold up during the day to 113 and closed at that price, which was 1¼ higher for the day. The sales were a little over 600 shares. The firsts did not sell but were firmer and higher at 113½ bid, with no offers under 114½. Westinghouse Airbrake was dull, but ¾ higher at 185¼ for 30 shares. There was no trading in Switch and Signal common, which closed steady to firm at 94 bid and 94¾ asked. The steel shares were somewhat easier. Crucible common closing ¼ lower at 22½ though the preferred gained that much at 87. Both were quite dull. United States Steel which was fairly active was easy and ⅝ lower at 41⅛, while the preferred declined ⅝ to 90¼. Fire Proofing common reacted and closed ⅜ lower at 30, the sales for the day having been over 400 shares. The preferred dropped ¼ to 39¼ on light trading. River Coal preferred was a shade firmer and ⅛ higher at 41¼. Pittsburgh Coal common was not quite so active as it has been and closed with a loss of ⅛ at 29½. The preferred gained that much at 90¾. Pittsburgh Brewing common also reacted, losing ¼ at 30, the sales being over 550 shares. The preferred dropped ½ to 48¾ for 50 shares. There was fairly good demand for Philadelphia Company common, which was quoted at 49¾@49¾. Luster Mining was dull and unchanged at 14¾, though one broker bid that price for 1,000 shares, buyers' option, this year. Bonds were dull but firm, the only change being a decline of ½ to 99½ for Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville Street Railway 5s.

The stockholders of the Peoples bank, McKeesport, elected Orlando M. Hunter and Robert E. Stoops as members of the board of directors to fill the vacancies created by the resignation of W. W. Hunter and Edward Seifert.

Officials of the American Can Company say the July business was the largest in the company's history, and that the prospect of dividends in the fall is good. This may prove of some comfort to many Pittsburgh holders of the stock.

The committee on securities of the New York stock exchange has issued notice that all contracts which fall due Saturday, August 30, must be settled Friday, August 29, and those which fall due Sunday, August 31, or Monday, September 1, must be settled Tuesday, September 2.

The governing committee of the Chicago exchange voted the following amendment to article 18 of the rules: "Members advertising bonds or stocks, either the listed or the unlisted on the list of the exchange, must call attention by asterisk and foot-note to the fact that such stocks and bonds are dealt on the Chicago stock exchange under penalty of a fine of $50 for the first offense and suspension, at the pleasure of the directors, for the second offense."

The New York Commercial quotes a New York broker with a lot of western customers as saying: "It is an interesting fact that the traders in the iron and steel districts are thoroughly thin of United States Steel Corporation holdings. Orders for steel shares from Pittsburgh and vicinity during the past month have been more frequent than at any time this year. Most of the iron and steel dealers are more familiar with the affairs of the United States Steel Corporation than Wall street, and it is because of the extraordinary amount of business on the books that this western buying is so much in evidence at the present time. As compared with the earnings of many of the trunk lines, the common stock of the Steel Corporation ought to be regarded as a bargain."

A broker writes as follows concerning Crucible Steel common: "The Crucible Steel Company will no doubt pay a dividend upon the common stock in the near future and the stock will look cheap at $30 before long. The new plants are about ready for operation, and the estimated earnings justify a 5 per cent. out of which sinking funds receive $500,000 and interest $550,000 on account of bond issue, leaving a net profit of $2,500,000 applicable to dividends on the common. They have doubled their earning capacity without increasing the capital. The old plants are earning at the rate of 10 per cent on the common and the new plants being estimated at 15 per cent on the common makes the prospects 20 per cent on the common, commencing next month. Why should such a stock be selling at 22 cents on the dollar?" Better wait until the dividend is declared and see. "There's many a slip," etc.

Wall Street Brokers' "Tips."

I look for a move in Erie.

From what we see we think that Union Pacific will be put higher.

The pool is working aggressively in Missouri, Kansas & Texas stocks.

Illinois Central is being well bought, and I think there is big money in it.

We believe there will be a higher reaction before the close yesterday, and when the reaction comes, stocks should be purchased.—Lounsbery.

Higher prices will be recorded for Pacifics, Coalers, Steel issues and Colorado Fuel and Iron. Gates Jacobs are very bullish on Atchison common, Baltimore & Ohio and on Norfolk & Western. These promise to be active market leaders. Buy Peoples Gas. Sugar and Tennessee Coal and Iron on any slight dip.—Josephs.

Wheat, Corn and Oats Closed Lower

FAIR WEATHER CAUSED A WEAK GRAIN MARKET

Prices Fell Off on Reports from the Harvest Fields.

H BUSINESS SMALL

SSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ago, Aug. 27.—All grain marlled weak today. Improvement weather was the most potent . Support was poor and stop rders were felt, particularly in near deliveries of wheat and corn. e close September wheat was ¾c r, September corn ¾c off and Sepber oats ¼c lower. September isions closed 12½c lower to 22½c r.

eat opened weak under the influof lower cables and favorable r for cutting and threshing the wheat. Early trade was dull and aiting nature, with prices slowly off. Corn turned weak and, afwheat, brought out stop loss ord September broke sharply. The of business was not great, and y there was a heavy tone to the .

e were conditions, however, that s made an impression on the crowd revented a possibly heavy pressure sellers. Receipts were falling off rading was still very poor. Exclearances were fair, wheat and qualing 393,000 bushels. More imt as a sale retarding influence was t that Duluth did not receive a car of wheat, whereas last year were 136 cars.

Cash Business Small.

ide markets were weak and exan influence. Cash business was September started ⅝c to ¾c lower ¼c to 71c, slumped to 70¼c, rallied c and closed weak, ¾c off at 70¾c. l receipts were 184 cars, none of con- grade; Minneapolis received 231 , making a total for the northwestern its of 415 cars, against 495 last week, 775 a year ago. Primary receipts e 1,051,000 bushels compared to 1,254,- bushels a year ago.

Corn started weak on the influence of er weather and more liberal acceptes of Chicago bids in the country. All September was offered freely and akness prevailed. In other months e was better buying, particularly in , in which there is said to be a fair t interest. Extremely small local reits, 17 cars, and only 3 of contract grade, had little effect against the wheat and weather influences and prices fell.

There was still nervousness in the pit, however, over the fears of the congestion in the near future. Cables were lower. September started ⅛ to ¾c lower at 58c to 57½c and fluctuated erratically, breaking to 56⅝c and rallying to 58¼c. Late in the day the better demand that had developed fell off again and September closed ⅜c off and weak at 57½c. Reports from the country were flattering.

Oats Not So Weak.

Fair weather broke oats, but all the loss did not hold. This pit held somewhat better in tone than the others, although the breaks in wheat and corn were an influence. There was some good buying by provision houses and this helped in a late rally. The movement of oats continues liberal, and there was talk of a marked improvement in the next fortnight. September started at 33c, fell off to 32½c and closed easy, ⅛c lower at 32¾c.

Provisions had spots of activity and ruled somewhat irregular. The grain weakness had an effect, but the slump in the market did much more toward breaking prices. Liquidation from the outside was free early, but good support developed and on manipulation of pork and ribs sharp advances followed. Lard was offered freely and held weak. September pork closed 22½c up at $17 10; September lard 12½c lower at $10 82½ and September ribs 5c higher at $10 20.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow—Wheat, 200 cars; corn, 20 cars; oats, 270 cars; hogs, 29,000 head.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

Discoveries in the lower southwest oil fields are not such as furnish new topics for the operator. The new Big Injun sand development, north of Center Point, Doddridge county, W. Va., is proving something of a disappointment. The Carter Oil Company's second test on the David Harris farm came in a duster, and No. 3 on the same farm is so light as to barely make the same list. No. 1 on the B. C. Powell farm is good for 15 barrels a day from the Big Injun. The same company has started to drill a test on the the Williamson farm and the Blandville Oil Company is due in the sand at a test on the Oliver Knight farm.

In the same district, Yake & Co. are fishing at 1,000 feet at a test on the School lot.

In the Beallis Mills district, Lewis county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 3 on the William Griggs farm through the strav and has developed a little oil. It is now drilling in the top of the Gordon.

In the Folsom district the same company has drilled its test on the Armenia Talkington farm through the Gordon and the well is good for 40 barrels a day.

Southwest of the Old Elk Fork pool, in Tyler county, Barnsdall, Mitchell & Nolan have drilled their test on the Fanny Slider farm into the Big Injun and have developed a very strong gas pressure.

In the Folsom district, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company has shot its No. 4 on the Rachel Talkington farm and increased its production from 125 to the same as a day. Miller Bros. No. 1, on the E. A. Talkington farm, is holding up at 370 barrels a day.

In the old Fairview district, Marion county, the South Penn Oil Company has tubed and pumping from the fourth sand, and it is producing 15 barrels a day. This is an old well drilled down from the Gordon with a view to getting a producer in the fifth sand.

The following were the gushers of the Keener sand wells on Big Knot Run, Ritchie county: Morgan-Hemsworth No. 1, South Penn Oil Company, 400 barrels; Mallory Bros. & Co. No. 1, Ireland, 200 barrels; Drillers Oil Company No. 1, George Ryan, 200 barrels, and Three Joes Oil Company's Nos. 1 and 3, Elroy Wagner, 200 and 300 barrels a day, respectively.

On Wolf Pen Run all but two wells have dropped below 100 barrels a day. The Henshaw Oil Company's No. 1, on the Henshaw farm, is holding up at 400 barrels, and the Cleveland and Fairesburg Oil Company's No. 2, Thomas E. Dye, is doing 140 barrels a day.

In the shallow sand territory, in Wood county, the Ohio and California Refining Company has completed No. 6 on the J. B. Reynolds farm and has a small pumper in the Cow Run sand.

On the Ohio side, in the Keener sand district, northwest of Rinards Mills, Monroe county, the Southern Oil Company has drilled in its second test on the Tracy Hersher farm and has a 10-barrel pumper.

The Summerville Oil Company has drilled its No. 1 on the Joseph Zwick farm through the Squaw sand and has a duster in that formation.

Southeast of Rinards Mills, in Washington county, the Carter Oil Company's Big Injun sand producers show the following gauges: No. 2, Esau McVay, 175 barrels; No. 1 Hannah Sparks, 100 barrels; No. 3, Calhoun Messner, 85 barrels and No. 3 John Cline, 50 barrels a day.

In the Marietta district Henry C. Lord & Co. have completed their test on the T. J. Foster farm, and after shooting will have a 10-barrel pumper. In the same district the Benedict Farm Oil Company's No. 7 on the F. W. Benedict farm has been drilled through the sand and when shot will make a 20-barrel producer.

In the Macksburg field, Lidden & Zwick have drilled a test on the Buttinghouse farm through the sand and have a duster.

The Consolidated Oil and Mining Company has drilled its test on the Hammond Miller farm through the second Cow Run sand and has a duster.

In the Corning district, Perry county, Frank Haskell & Co. have drilled their No. 1 on the Sprague farm through the sand and have a 5-barrel pumper.

In the Chester Hill district, Morgan county, Whedon & Co. have completed No. 11 on the Joseph Varnell farm and have a small pumper.

Dunnington & Selby have completed No. 9 S. N. Smith and have a 5-barrel pumper.

In the Smiths Ferry district, Beaver county, Pa., Stewart & Critchlow have completed a test on the Spence heirs' farm and have a duster. The Red Bird Oil Company has completed No. 6 on the J. H. Popp farm and has a 10-barrel pumper.

THIS ANNUAL SALE was inaugurated by us some years ago for a two-fold purpose. Firstly, to relieve the October rush and, secondly, to take advantage of the manufacturers' early season offers and special August concessions. Since then, the idea has revolutionized the September furniture business. From the dullest, we have transformed September into the busiest furniture month of the year. Manufacturers, recognizing the value of this change, come to us from Michigan, Illinois, Ohio and other furniture producing states with offers of their surplus stocks and sample pieces at from 25 to 50 per cent. less than the regular retailers' prices. As this saving goes to our September customers, they are quite willing to do their furniture buying a few weeks earlier than the goods might be needed, especially since we hold and store any purchase until wanted, whenever desired. Owing to the immensity of the present sale, and the fact that we will be closed September 1st (Labor Day), WE WILL START THIS YEAR'S SALE TODAY—AUGUST 28th.
